(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

A man writes in his last hour, "burn me up, scatter my ashes around the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor. Death has set me free."

How does he know that death has set him free? Nature, of which death is a part, has a habit of using the same material over and over again. The tree of this generation supplies mould to the tree that takes its place.

A man burned up today may go traveling, his spirit to continue his work and struggling in some other far-off sphere.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis is making a hard fight for the distressed stockholders of the St. Paul road. It wont' do any good.

When the time comes for a road to be reorganized and again yield a few millions to high finance, reorganized it is, and that is all there is about that.

Rioting in Shanghai, with machine guns used by foreign soldiers, is now blamed on the Russian government. Moscow sent money, you are told, to stir up the Chineese coolies. Moscow in these days covers a multitude of sins, but it doesn't explain all the violence and unrest, from Sofia to Pekin and from Pekin back to Moscow.

The war made men think. When they think they're dissatisfied and dangerous.

Seventy-five years ago, in New York, 18 merchants contributed $200 each to start the Emigrant Industrial Savings bank.

Last week the bank celebated its birthday by opening a mid-town branch, and in one working day, 9:30 a. m. to 7 p. m., 3,000 new depositors were added to the bank's list of 194,000.

That bank started with $3,000, now has deposits of $250,000,000, and holds gilt-edged securities, government bonds, etc., worth $287,000,000.

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings."

Flammarion is dead. He was an able astronomer, a useful man. He stirred up men's imaginations.

He had intellectual vision enabling him at least faintly to see the greatness of the universe.

When he was already an old man, in his flat, six flights (no elevator) on the other side of the Seine, he said to this writer:

"Man is barely at the threshold of knowledge. True, a shepherd of old, with his naked eye, could count only eight or 10 stars in the Pleiades, and we count 45,000 great suns. But we know nothing."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, head of Columbia university, says laws forbidding teaching evolution, and similar laws that would put an iron band around young men's minds, are "cowardice." And that is what a Frenchman would call "LE MOT JUSTE."

For legislators to say "you musn't examine that," is like a timid person running away from something that looks like a ghost, for fear of going near it.

In addition to being cowardly, it is irreligious, unChristian, and a defi-

HIGH COURT DECISION ON RELIGIOUS SCHOOL IS SOUGHT BY CRABBE

Attorney General, Acting Upon Request of J. H. Brookes, President of Board of Education, Promises Ruling on Ministerial Association's Proposal to Use School Buildings.

OHIO LEGAL ADVISER WILL EXAMINE OPINION OF U. S. SUPREME TRIBUNAL

Trades and Labor Council Fails to Act Upon Motion to Protest Against Pastors' Request Because of Constitutional Inhibition of Injection of Religious Issues.

Legality of the proposal of the Ministerial association to use public schools of the city for classes in religious education probably hinges upon a recent ruling by the United States supreme court, judging from advices from Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, of Columbus, received today by Attorney J. H. Brookes, president of the board of education.

Ohio's legal adviser, replying to Mr. Brookes' telegram in which the board chieftain requested a ruling, said there would be delay pending receipt of a copy of the supreme court's opinion.

The attorney general's letter follows:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your telegram. In reply beg to advise you that the matter to which you refer is being given consideration, but will be delayed until this department is able to procure and examine a copy of an opinion recently rendered by the supreme court of the United States, which has some bearing upon your question."

Trades and Labor Action.

The school board president called upon the attorney general for a ruling after Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent of public instructions, declined to express an opinion.

Because the constitution of the organization precludes the injection of religious issues into discussion, Trades and Labor council has decided to withhold action on a proposal to protest against the use of public school buildings for Bible classes, it was announced today by its leaders.

For this reason, no action was taken at a recent meeting on the request of the Ministerial association which is expected to be acted upon by the board of education at the session on Thursday, June 18.

A motion urging that the central labor body disprove the plan was made, but when the constitutional inhibition was cited the trades assembly

D. F. White Sues For Commission in Real Estate Sale

D. F. White, East End real estate dealer, has filed a petition in common pleas court at Lisbon, seeking $2,525 commission from William Reed in the recent sale of a four-story Diamond business block to Altman Brothers.

The petition declares that on March 25, 1925 the plaintiff found a buyer for the property owned by Mr. Reed. His commission on the sale of the property was to have been five percent on the first $1,000 and two and one-half percent on the balance, White says. The commission was never paid and Mr. White, through his counsel, Lones, Hill & Davidson, is asking that the court order a settlement.

SITUATION IN SHANGHAI REMAINS SERIOUS; RIOTING REPORTED GENERAL

Despite Appeals, United States Intends to Take no Precipitate Action in China.

LONDON, June 6.—The situation in Shanghai remains serious and rioting is general, according to information which reached London today from Shanghai.

Great Britain favors enlarging the scope of the forthcoming conference in regard to Chinese tariffs so that it would include a general consideration of China's welfare.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Despite widespread disorders and fighting in China—described in reports to the state department as of Russian Soviet origin—and appeals to the United States to lend its good offices to effect a settlement, this government intends to take no precipitate action in the Chinese situation, it was declared officially here today.

Through its diplomatic and consular representatives in China, the United States has united with other powers in conference with Chinese officials, and American marines have been landed at Shanghai for the protection of American lives and interests when they were placed in jeopardy by Chinese disturbances. These steps, officials said today, are the only ones now contemplated by the government.

Expect Further Disturbances.

235 ARE DEAD AS HEAT WAVE SHOWS SIGNS OF SUBSIDING

Today's Deaths Expected to Send Total Far Higher.

Showers Promised Today and Monday in Ohio Valley.

Overcast skies at noon today, promising rain, brought the first relief from the heat wave in East Liverpool, while death and the relentless torridity stalked hand in hand in other sections of Ohio and the remaining scorched states from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard as the unbroken week of sizzling temperatures drew to a close.

The weather bureau at Washington at noon today, in the forecast for next week, predicted a break in the heat wave Monday or Tuesday north of the Ohio river. Indications are for thunder showers, the forecast said.

Hope of relief from record temperatures in other districts was still remote as the thermometer mounted to new heights. New victims were added hourly to the death-list, already past the 200 mark. Hospitals were crowded with the stricken, while overworked physicians and nurses struggled to give aid to the prostrated. With 235 dead at dawn, today's deaths were expected to send the total far higher before sunset.

106 Degrees at Springfield.

Twenty-three new deaths were added yesterday and last night to New York's list. Four were dead in Chicago with records for June temperatures broken and still higher marks expected this afternoon.

Eleven died in Ohio, bringing that state total to 34. Springfield recorded a temperature of 106.

Five deaths brought Detroit's total to eleven in the hottest weather in a half century, with 96 degrees. Flint and Saginaw had temperatures of 105.

Another death at dawn added to yesterday's twelve brought the hot wave fatalities to 23 in Philadelphia, where the thermometer stood at 100 yesterday.

County Roads Damaged.

The heat wave has damaged practically all macadam roads and at least one paved highway in Columbiana county.

PICKPOCKETS' JOBS NET $115

"Dips" Following Circus Find Three Victims Here

Pickpockets robbed three circus fans at Columbian park yesterday, two of them losing $40 each and the third $35. Police are holding three suspects, all Negroes.

While Stanley Baker of Newell and Elias Wright, 1200 St. George street, were in the side show last evening, they lost their pocketbooks containing $40 each. Neither of the two men wore coats and carried their purses in their hip pockets. The theft was reported to Chief of Police McDermott a few minutes afterwards.

Later in the evening, Chief McDermott and Patrolman Roth arrested "Sonny" Craig and Homer Smith, both colored, and claiming to be residents of Midland. They denied the charge but were lodged in jail pending an investigation.

Benton Kirk, Civil war veteran and senior commander of General Lyon post No. 44, G. A. R., lost $35 in the jam around the ticket wagon. He failed to report his loss to the police, however.

Craig and Smith, with Ray Jones, also colored, who was arrested by Patrolman Lister, Friday morning, are being held in jail for a few days. Circus detectives told Chief McDermott yesterday that they were making every effort to weed out suspicious looking characters who follow the show from town to town.

TWO MOTORISTS TO FACE MAYOR

Charges of violating the traffic ordinance by driving with four persons in one seat have been filed against Alfred McCormick, 1056 High stret, and J. S. Cooke, R. D. No. 1.

They were arrested in East End by Special Officer Walter Torrence last night. They will appear before Mayor Brown for a hearing tonight.

Loeb, Bobby Franks' Slayer, Insane, Says Warden at Joliet

JOLIET ILL., June 6.—"Loeb is a typical insane case."

This was the opinion of Warden John Whitman following a conference today with Dr. Walter B. Martin, state psychiatrist, who had the slayer of Bobby Franks under observation since Monday.

"Just how long this condition will exist is impossible to say," Warden Whitman said. "It may be corrected within a few days and it may run along for an indefinite period.

"However, there is no thought of trnasferring Loeb from the hospital here either to the new prison or to any other institution.

"At present there are nine other cases of prisoners who are suffering from mental disorders similar to Loeb's. All of these men are being treated here.

"We are fully equipped to handle Loeb's case. He could not receive better or more effective care at the state hospital for criminal insane at Chester."

Myers Lake park at Canton, is the mecca today for potters and members of their families from various sections of eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia at the first annual reunion and outing under the auspices of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

A special train of 14 coaches, carrying 1,000 persons, left East Liverpool at 7:45 o'clock this morning. Stops were made at Wellsville and Salineville where additional passengers were taken aboard. Fully 2,000 others, it has been estimated left East Liverpool by automobiles. All plants were idle for the day.

WAGE PROBLEM BLOCKS PEACE IN STRIKE OF CARPENTERS

Contractors and Employes Agree on Working Conditions.

PARLEY IS HELD

Strikers Reject Employers' Proposal to Arbitrate Differences.

Wage differences alone prevent settlement of the strike of 125 carpenters, in effect in the East Liverpool district since May 1, it was announced today following a conference yesterday afternoon between representatives of the workers and the contractors.

With Arnold Bill, of Cleveland, national representative of the carpenters' union, present, the conferees agreed upon all working conditions, but a stalemate resulted when the wage question was discussed.

Strikers Stand Pat.

The strikers stood pat on their demands for a wage increase from $10 to $11 per day, while the contractors, who have refused to concede this pay boost, expressed a willingness to submit the differences to arbitration. The men, however, declined to arbitrate, it was said.

"We are willing to accept any reasonable suggestion looking toward a settlement of the wage question,' said a spokesman for the contractors today. "We have offered to arbitrate, but the carpenters have declined the proposal."

It was announced that another conference may be held next week, following receipt of advices from the national chieftain of the carpenters. Representative Bill, who has returned to Cleveland, will advise the executive president of the result of Friday's parley and await his instructions, it was declared.

BURGESS TAKES POTTER OFFICE

Ex-Tariff Commissioner Vice-president of U. S Association

William Burgess, Morrisville, Pa., member of the United States tariff commission for more than four years, who recently resigned, has been named first vice-president of the United States Potters' association, it was announced today.

Burgess, regarded as a tariff expert in view of his experience on the tariff board, will represent the general ware manufacturers on matters pertaining particularly to tariffs on foreign-made products.

For several years prior to the outbreak of the war, Burgess was connected with the United States Potters association, holding the place of first vice-president. When the war was declared officials at Washington sought his services and he became one of the $1 per year men in governmental work, but at the same time retained his position with the potters' association.

With the election of President Harding and the return of the Republican party to power in 1920, Burgess, in view of his efficient services during the war, was appointed a member of the tariff commission. He held this place until a few weeks ago when he resigned after being induced to return to the United States Potters' association.

Burgess succeeds E. E. Salisbury, president of the Onandago Pottery company, Syracuse N. Y., as vice-president of the United States Potters' association. Salisbury recently resigned.

Burgess will probably establish his office in Trenton, N. J., but will work in Washington, East Liverpool, Trenton and other pottery centers.

50 LADS LEARN TO SWIM HERE

Two Hundred and Thirty Six Enroll in Y. M. Campaign

The "learn to swim" campaign for boys, conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., this week, was the most successful affair of its kind in the history of the organization.

A total of 236 youths, 10 years of age and over, were enrolled for the week of instruction which began last Monday and ended yesterday. In all 711 lessons were given, 50 lads learning the art of swimming at least 50 feet in the examinations conducted Friday. Each lad swimming 50 feet or more will receive a Y. M. C. A. button. Practically every lad enrolled in the class learned to swim at least 10 feet.

The classes were in charge of T. F. Scheffer, physical director, and Harvey J. Price, boys' work secretary, assisted by Alfred Earl, William Swaney, Richard Larkins and Elmer English.

The summer schedule for swimming classes at the "Y" becomes effective next Monday. Boys unable to swim will be given special instruction at 9:30 o'clock each Wednesday morning. Here is the schedule for the boys' classes:

Elementary class (boys 10 to 12)—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 9:30 a. m.

In Hanover township, the Lincoln highway is reported to be in a deplorable condition on account of the road in Hanover and West township "bleeding," while the Leetonia-Columbiana road and the macadam section of the Lisbon-Leetonia highway are in like shape.

A part of the California hollow brick road in Liverpool township has "blown up" at a point about two miles north of East Liverpool. The brick were thrown about 30 feet.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Three more deaths this morning brought the toll of the heat wave to 31 deaths, in and about New York City, for the past six days during which torrid temperatures have prevailed.

Washington Swelters.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Heat records continued to be smashed here today as the thermomter began another climb to the temperature of 107 degrees registered on Pennsylvania avenue Friday afternoon.

The only hope for relief held out by the United States weather bureaus was probable frosts in the northwestern states, with resulting cooler weather in the eastern states.

Two deaths due to the heat occurred during the past 24 hours and there were scores of prostrations. Government workers working in temporary wooden buildings are working only part time and schedules in other departments have been reduced to prevent suffering among the thousands of federal employes.

Ohio Fears Water Famine.

CLEVELAND, June 6.—With record high temperatures recorded in Cleveland and many other Ohio cities yesterday, the people of the state today faced a continuance of the hot wave that has lasted seven days and claimed 34 persons as victims. A water famine was adding to the discomfort of many, and unless rains come soon, will prove a real menace, as well as inflict a loss running high into the millions on Ohio farmers.

Eleven deaths yesterday throughout the state were attributed to the heat. Of these two were in Cleveland, three in Steubenville and one each in Youngstown, Warren, Marietta, Akron, Toledo and Conneaut.

More than a dozen cases of heat prostration were reported.

Springfield, according to official reports, was the hottest point in the state. Government thermometers there registered 106. Fremont and Lancaster sweltered under a high of 101, and Marietta and St. Marys 100.

Relief is Promised.

BOSTON, June 6.—Relief from the devastating heat wave that had taken a toll of 22 lives in New England was promised by the weather bureau today.

Cloudy with thunder showers, was the prediction for tonight and Sunday with a welcome "somewhat cooler Sunday afternoon."

Boston was the hottest spot in New England today with the mercury climbing about the 86 degree mark and Eastport, Me., the coolest with a 48.

Both Sides Rest In Hayner Liquor Conspiracy Case

CLEVELAND, June 6.—The government and defense have rested and after arguments by attorneys on both sides Monday the sensational Hayner conspiracy case will go to the jury.

Warren E. Barnett, prominent Columbus attorney and politician, was the last of the three defendants to take the witness stand yesterday and deny that he had any part in securing the release of 22,000 cases of Hayner whisky for northern Ohio bootleggers.

Joshua E. Russell, suspended prohibition director, and Merle B. Copeland, executive clerk, have given emphatic denials of complicity in the plot.

ance of biblical command to refrain from investigating the theories of evolution and all other theories.

Plainly and emphatically, the Bible says, in first Thessalonians, fifth chapter, twenty-first verse:

"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good."

This means, "examine for yourself." It means that you are to investigate all things, not a few of them, and hold fast that which is good.

It doesn't say that you must have somebody tell you what is good and not good, while you swallow the decision whole.

Scraping along a submerged plateau, under the Pacific, the great dredge of a scientific expedition brings up strange fish.

They include long-nosed Macruroids, snake tailed brotulids, gigantic eels with black beaks.

And the dredge brings up most interesting dwarf sharks, only eight inches long, with bright green eyes.

Science asks this question:

"Do you think each of these creatures and 10,000 kinds of beetles, millions of different microbes, birds, butterflies, etc., were all made separately, as an independent act of the Divine Will, all in six days?"

Did the Lord at one time decide to make a dwarf shark, eight inches long? Or did all these things come through evolution, in the course of ages, in obedience to a wise plan?

Think what you please. But don't let anyone forbid you to think and decide for yourself.

"Prove all things.

Coningsby Dawson, writer, mourns because women are set aside, "shelved," at an age when their brothers and husbands begin to be interesting. He says a woman is, or ought to be, "at the height of her charm after 40."

Various things work against women and prevent their having adrent young admirers, as Ninon de E'Enclos had at the age of 70. The children come too close together in many cases, and that wears women out.

The husbands are dull, and after a day's work their talk is frightfully tiresome. No food for the wife's mind. Also, women have lived on the earth for 500,000 years as drudges, with a small percentage kept as toys. They literally have not had a chance.

But times and conditions are changing. Women vote, families are smaller, you cannot tell a woman from her granddaughter when their backs are turned. And often when they face you one is about as young as the other, and the grandmother has, spiritually, the younger face.

COOLIDGE OFF ON LONG TRIP

President Leaves Capital for Minneapolis- St. Paul.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Coolidge will leave Washington this afternoon on the longest journey he has made during his occupancy of the White House—1,200 miles overland to Minneapolis-St. Paul, where, on Monday, he will participate in the Norse-American centennial celebration.

Accompanying the president to the twin cities will be Mrs. Coolidge, secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg, Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin; Secretary to the President Everett Sanders, Colonel S. A. Cheney, military aide; Major J. F. Coupal, presidential physician; James C. White, secretary to Senator Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, and E. C. Geisser, the president's personal stenographer.

Despite Mr. Coolidge's efforts, the presidential party will make the trip on what amounts to a special train. The president had intended to travel on a regular train just as he did to Chicago last December, but the railroad company, on the plea of "safety and convenience of operation," has made up a "second section" to the Capital Limited for the Coolidge entourage. The train, which leaves Washington shortly after 3 o'clock, consists of the president's car, an observation car, a dining car, a club car and a press car.

The president's stay in the wheat belt, though of but one day's duration, will be filled with activity. Arriving at St. Paul Sunday night, the party will be the overnight guests of Secretary Kellogg. At noon Monday, the president will attend a luncheon in Minneapolis, tendered by the Norse-American centennial committee. Two hours later, he will deliver his prepared address at the state fair grounds and return immediately to St. Paul, where, at the state capitol, he will hold a public reception for the citizens of Minnesota. At about midnight he will entrain for Washington, arriving home Wednesday morning.

Uncle Sam Should be Tolerant in War Debt, Says France

PARIS, June 6. — United States should be tolerant toward France in the matter of France's war debt to America, in the opinion of France, it was indicated today in a statement made by the finance ministry.

"The balancing of the budget is the problem of first importance," the finance ministry said. "After Finance Minister Caillaux finishes that then he will take up the monetary situation, for which, he frankly admits, he must appeal to the foreign powers, especially the United States."

Qualifications for Good Judge

Formal declaration that the South Columbiana County Bar association's only interest in the establishment of a municipal court in East Liverpool, which becomes effective January 1, next by legislative act, was in obtaining the right man for judge, was made at the labor meeting by Atty. W. F. Lones and F. E. Grosshans, who were invited to address the delegates.

"All lawyers do not make good judges," said Lones. "We should get the best material that can be obtained."

Four qualifications for a good judge in Lones' opinion are:

1. Knowledge of the law.
2. Good judgment.
3. Knowledge of how to apply the law.
4. Impartiality in administering the law.

Bar Association's Interest.

"The bar association has taken no action on the selection of a municipal judge except to appoint a committee to confer with Trades and Labor Council and kindred organizations which were active in urging enactment of the law, as a means of obtaining the best results," said Lones.

Declaring that neither he nor any member of his firm is a candidate for the judgeship, the lawyer said that his only interest, and the only interest of the bar association, was in getting the right man for the place.

"I do not know who he is and I am not in a position to say who he should be," Lones asserted.

All lawyers are interested in obtaining the best results from an efficient organization of the municipal court, the speaker said, adding that any ideas on the functioning of the court would be subject to the approval or rejection of the people.

Attorney Grosshans explained the law and reaffrimed the declarations of Lones on the interest of the bar association in the establishment of the court.

In answer to a question propounded by Councilman-at-Large Thomas Farrall, who attended the session, the attorneys said that the city council has no authority to make changes in the salary of municipal officials during their term in office. In other words, if council readjusts the salary of the mayor, because of the establishment of the municipal court, legislation to this end must be enacted before the choice of the voters at the November election qualifies.

Another Darwin Arises in Defense Of Evolution Theory

Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.

CRIPP'S CORNER, SUSSEX, England, June 6.—Another Darwin arose today in the defense of evolution. It was Major Leonard Darwin, 75-year-old son of Charles Darwin, father of the theory.

The son of the famous scientist has shown keen interest in the approaching trial of John Scopes, Tennessee schoolmaster, on the charge of teaching evolution. He smiled when asked his opinion. But his reply crackled with youthful vigor.

Seated in a huge arm chair in his Tudor home five miles from the railroad, Major Darwin gave his views in an exclusive interview.

"This attack on evolution is a retrograde movement," he said. "But it is only a passing phase which will fade away. No scientific man disputes evolution, although he may argue in regard to the manner in which evolution came about."

PROPOSED FARE BOOST TOPIC

Franchise Committee and Newell Trolley Manager Confer.

Members of council's franchise committee conferred with Fred B. Lawrence of the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company at the city hall, last night, on the proposed increase of from five to seven cents in street car fare on the Newell-East Liverpool line.

The Newell company has filed an application with the Interstate Commerce commission seeking permission to advance the fare beginning July 1. A similar application has been filed with the county court at New Cumberland.

In order to establish a uniform rate over the entire line, thes treet car company seeks to collect the seven-cent fare in East Liverpool. Lawrence told members of council that only $155 had been collected on the East Liverpool section of the line last year. With the seven-cent fare in effect, this would mean added revenue of only about $60 per year in the city. He also pointed out that considerable inconvenience in the collection of fares would result if the increase were refused in East Liverpool and permitted for interstate travel.

The committee took the proposition under advisement and will meet early next week to draft recommendations to council, which meets next Friday night. Councilman Thomas Farrall is chairman of this committee, while Solons Fred Eardley and James Larcombe are the other members.

Bishop Rogers

ceived the opportunity to go to college.

But Bishop Rogers did not receive his chance for a college education until he was 34 years old. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1911 and the degree of doctor of divinity the same year from Union Theological seminary in New York. In 1912 he also received the degree of doctor of divinity from the General Theological seminary of New York, although his pastoral work was started in 1911 when he was made rector of St. Thomas' church in Detroit.

In 1913 he became assistant rector of Calvary church of Pittsburgh, and in 1916 accepted the post as rector of St. John's church in New Jersey, N. J., which position he held until called to be dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, in 1920.

At St. Paul's Bishop Rogers became known to thousands of people throughout the country through his radio sermons which were broadcast alternately morning and evening from the church. Through these sermons he became widely known as the "Radio Pastor of Detroit." These radio sermons were partly responsible for his being elected as bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Ohio.

Grandfather Was Baptist Preacher.

Bishop Rogers has a number of various denominations mingled in his heritage. His grandfather was a well known Baptist preacher. There is also a mixture of Puritan, Quaker and Anglican ancestry in his stock.

The new bishop made his first formal appearance in the diocese at the diocesan convention which assembled at Cleveland May 12 and 13.

According to the plan announced by Bishop William Andrew Leonard, Bishop Rogers' will have general charge of the work of the diocese outside of Cleveland and Gambier. Cleveland is the seat of the cathedral church, while Gambier is the seat of Kenyon college and Bexley Hall, the diocesan theological seminary.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 6.—The stock market was fairly active and steady in the short session today, with speculative attention concentrated in the oil stocks. A few of the motor and rubber company stocks continued to move forward, as also did the specialty stocks which have been prominent in the trading since the first of the week.

The financial district was filled with favorable propaganda relative to the oil stocks and the oil industry in general. Pennsylvania crude oil was marked up 25 cents a barrel for the best grades and 15 cents a barrel for Sommerset and Cabell. Standard oil companies advanced gasoline prices as high as 2½ cents a barrel in some of the western markets.

Oil stocks received the bulk of the buying orders in the first hour and prices moved forward a point or more in the most active issues including Pacific, Mid Continent, Pure Oil, Marland, Sinclair, Shell Union, Skelly and the Standard Oils.

Chandler Motor set a fast pace in the motor group. Buying demand for this stock was unusually heavy and the price advanced briskly to a new high at 39, up three points. Mack Trucks and the Maxwell stocks were unusually inactive. Moon Motors pushed up to a new high above 33. Fisk was the feature of the tire stocks, with an advance to a new high around 18.

Coca Cola and American Ice, the hot weather specialties, sold at new high prices of 122 and 115, respectively.

Week end business reports emphasized the unfavorable effect of the intense heat, both on the crops and on domestic trade.

Situation In Shanghai

have reached the government through Chinese students and associations in this country, but officials do not believe there is any necessity for further action by the United States in the light of events to date.

Reports to the state department today indicated that the situation in Shanghai is clearing up, but the opinion prevailed, nevertheless, that further disturbances were likely to occur on account of the Bolshevist influence and the anti-foreign and anti-Christian sentiment thus inspired.

With its seething mass of four hundred millions, China is now a fertile field for "Red" propaganda. Torn by almost continuous civil war for the past 10 years, the populace can be easily enflamed and the smouldering unrest might easily turn to active and dangerous eruption.

SHANGHAI, China, June 6.—The food situation in Shanghai was becoming increasingly difficult today as a result of the Chinese strikes against foreigners. Goods and flour are virtually the only provisions obtainable.

Authorities were investigating reports the striking Chinese are smuggling into the city Russian hand grenades.

Seventy per cent of the shops in the French concession reopened today.

EDITORS REPLY TO CRABBE BAN

MacFadden Publications Issues Statement on Ohio Edict.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Aroused by the action of Attorney General C. C. Crabbe of Ohio in including three Macfadden Publications, "True Stories," "True Romances" and "Dream World," in a list of alleged immoral publications, the editorial offices of the Macfadden Publications today issued the following statement:

"The action of Attorney General Crabbe in including True Stories, True Romances and Dream World in his proscribed list is quite unintentional, based upon a mistake which he will no doubt be glad to correct. An examination of these publications will immediately disclose this fact. The Macfadden publications are in no sense immoral publications but instead have received the indorsement of clergymen, public service workers and other leaders in public welfare work all over the country. Millions of readers of these magazines will find it difficult to understand how Attorney General Crabbe could have been led into making such a mistake and the only answer is that he has failed to read these magazines.

"True Stories Magazine and its sister publications, True Romances and Dream World, are the only magazines in this country published with the educational purpose of presenting the truths of life in that form adopted by moral and religious teachers. To this end we long ago organized an editorial board, composed of leading clergymen of various denominations, including the Rev. Dr. Ralph Welles Keeler of the Methodist Episcopal church, as its chairman. Dr. Keeler is one of the best known clergymen in America.

"It is inconceivable that Attorney General Crabbe could have read these magazines as he could not have possibly regarded as immoral the stories to which these earnest, God-fearing men have given their full endorsement.

"When this board was organized it was clothed with full authority. No impediments were placed in its way. It has full power to alter or reject any material which it regards as unwise. No other publishing house in the world is doing this or has ever entrusted any such authority to anyone outside of its publishers or editors. The policy adopted by this board of clergymen upon its organization was stated in writing to be as follows:

"We will not sanction the publication of any story in these magazines which we would not recommend to the young people of our congregations.

"In the face of such a policy adhered to rigidly over a period approaching two years does it not immediately become clear that a mistake has been made, that a grave injustice has been done the Macfadden publications and that these three magazines should be removed from the list prepared by the attorney general of the state of Ohio at once, and finally."

W. L. FOGO'S HAT IN MAYOR RING

Four-cornered Race Certain in G. O. P. Primary.

W. L. Fogo, of Broadway, today announced his intention of entering the mayoralty race at the Republican primary on August 11.

Fogo's declaration swells the field in the mayor race to four contenders. In the order of their announcements they are: J. M. Kenney, A. J. White, C. C. Ewing and W. L. Fogo.

Fogo has held only one municipal office here, that of mayor. He occupied the city's chief executive's chair from 1902 until 1908, three consecutive terms.

He was largely instrumental in making Broadway one of the beauty spots of the city, his backers point out. He is now head of the real estate and insurance firm of W. L. Fogo & Son.

With the exception of one, all announcements thus far are centered on the mayoralty. The lone petition outside of this particular field has been filed by Clyde Baker, who aspires to the chair of council president.

When I reached middle life I went all to pieces, my nerves gave way. I suffered from backache and other pains. I got so weak and nervous that I had no power or strength left. My druggist advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I began to feel better by the time I had taken one bottle. I think I took about seven bottles and was completely restored to health, in every way. Sacramento, Cal.—More than $500,000 in gold was stolen from the deep mines of California during the last year, Gov. Friend W. Autos Crash; He Sells Other Fellow Policy

Omaha.—Omaha claims the champion salesman of the universe.

John Rosenzweie, debonair representative of a life insurance company, was arrested on a reckless driving charge, and when taken to the police station declared himself "happy to be arrested." While Desk Sergeant Payne arranged Rosenzweie's bond the salesman lectured him on the importance of life insurance, and before he was released had Payne's signature on the dotted line. Now he's waiting to meet the judge.

Recently after a collision with another machine Rosenzweie explained to the disgruntled motorist that it was a miracle he wasn't killed and then sold him a policy on the spot.

SUSPEND SALE OF "U. S. UNITS"

Chamber of Commerce Reveals Motor Stock Scheme.

Co-operating with the National Vigilance committee, the Chamber of Commerce recently halted the sale of so-called "bankers' shares" or "United States units" of the Ford Motor company of Canada, promoted by agents alleged to be working for Isaac Schlank & Company of Minneapolis, Minn.

The plan of the agents, who appeared here using Schlank's name, was to take one share of the Ford Motor Company's stock, which can be purchased at any time for $450 and divide it into 100 units, selling each unit for $6.50. The return on the share would be $650, or $190 profit.

The Ford Motor Company of Canada recently announced that it had no connections with Schlank's scheme. In Minnesota, Schlank was recently called before the securities commission to explain his operations.

Schlank has refused to give credit rating bureaus information concerning his finances or furnish references. He is said to have ben connected at one time with a motion picture concern, which failed.

Other concerns, dealing in so-called "bankers' shares" have been refused permits in New York. The Vigilance committee issued a bulletin describing Schlank's scheme, following an investigation which was ordered after complaints has been received from various parts of the country.

The Vigilance committee has also issued circular bulletins dealing with the Keystone Automobile Service Corporation, of Rochester N. Y.; the Consolidated Listing Company, of St. Paul, Minn.; F. H. Porter, representing Western Lacquer corporation of Los Angeles, Cal.

Boys And Guns

Henry, aged 17, was out in the woods with his 22-calibre rifle, indulging in target practice before an admiring audience. He did that almost every afternoon. George, aged 11, heard the shooting and joined them.

"Here, George," said Henry, "let me shoot this old tin can from your head. Like William Tell, you know. And like the guide in 'The Covered Wagon.' I've already shot one from Johnny's. Didn't I, Johnny?"

George yielded. He liked to be the center of attention among older boys. Henry fired, and the little lad fell with a bullet in his brain. He died two hours later. Henry explained, in the juvenile court:

"I worked hard for that gun. Worked overtime at the brass works and bought it. Dad didn't know about it."

Guns—everlasting guns! They do almost as much harm in private hands in peaceful times as in the hands of fighting armies. They are especially dangerous in the hands of young boys. There is not one American boy in 10,000 that ever needs a gun, or that ought to have one before he is grown up. A boy in his 'teens with a rifle or pistol is almost sure to bring tragedy into the neighborhood sooner or later, from his example if not directly. Yet parents are careless, and authorities are careless, and the same old arms traffic keeps right on. It's time for the disarmament of the youngsters, at least.

Vacant Lots and Vegetables

During the war, when every vacant lot miraculously became a vegetable patch, a good deal was said and written to the effect that this particular war work would help to establish the very fine habit of gardening. Many families still make garden, but they are mostly the ones who would have done so anyhow. Very few converts to gardening were made, and today most vacant lots are once more given over to weeds or real estate signs.

In Toronto the war garden still thrives. The Toronto Vacant Lots Cultivation association helps to keep it going. There are 240 such gardens, most of which are worked by Italian residents of the city, families with small incomes or with men unemployed. They are raising their winter's supply of vegetables as well as providing fresh foodstuff for immediate consumption.

Such a project in a growing city cannot be permanent because the erection of new buildings encroaches on the garden sites. But the idea is an excellent one with many possible adaptations. Gardening opportunities for tenement dwellers have many advantages besides that of economy.

Where Divorce Starts

A judge who has heard 8,000 divorce cases says the cure for divorce is at the marriage altar. That is, it depends on the spirit in which men and women approach marriage.

"When young persons marry after thorough consideration, with honest purpose and honest motives, when they seek to build a home and rear a family and stick together through thick and thin till death ends all, there is little chance for divorce.

"When marriage results from puppy love, or passion, and lack of consideration, the couple soon become grist for the divorce mill."

It is probably true that frivolous, inconsiderate and hasty marriage is the real root of the divorce evil. And it need not be objected that if people think the question over very seriously they will not marry at all. Those fitted by character to assume the burdens of matrimony will probably marry just the same. Those who shy at serious consideration had better remain single than provide more material for the divorce courts.

But what's the use? Giving advice to those contemplating matrimony is nearly always a waste of time. People have always rushed into matrimony, and always will. The wonder is that so many of the marriages really turn out all right. Matrimony has a way of vindicating itself better than outsiders have any apparent right to expect.

The Radio Church

The old "outlaws' cabin," a stone building in the mountains near Tonopah, Nev., has become a church. Formerly it was a rendezvous for desperadoes planning stage hold-ups or raids on neighboring settlements, or meeting after a foray to share their booty. Now, with a new boom bringing gold miners again to the vicinity, it is a meeting house for Christian worship.

Moreover, it is a meeting house of a new kind, which might make the place notable without its black past. It is a "radio church." There is no pastor there, and no religious organization in the ordinary sense. The congregation is a loose, voluntary assemblage that comes to hear a church service 500 miles away. The local pastor is merely a radio receiving set.

There will be radio churches like this scattered in all the waste places of the world.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 6.—The rich man's son in New York is not always the wastrel. In fact this type is in the minority among them. Dads wise in their generation have learned to cast them adrift early "on their own." Most of them these days do not even live at home.

In a boarding house on Fifty-Second street are two millionaires' sons living three flights up and all the way back. Their allowance ended with their college diplomas. It used to be that the gleaners along the way that is white saw a harvest in every graduation.

And it was lively picking. Skilled sycophants had the stage set. Beckoning fire-flies fluttered in the offing and in the end Dad came through with a sizable check to save the family honor and son was put on a boat for the Riviera to forget.

It was discovered that the rich young man who skipped from college to lead a string of polo ponies about the country found everything in life deadly dull at 25. Almost everything after that smacked of anti-climax. And the finish of complete boredom in New York is usually one thing. Drugs.

Six years ago on the north shore of Long Island was a colossal house buried in 30 acres of foliage. Its inhabitants were sons of the rich brought there and placed under guard to be freed from the shackles of drug and liquor addiction. It closed two years ago.

Society editors say there is a dearth of rich young men who are eligible at social functions nowadays. They are too engrossed in getting on to frivol away precious hours at the tea table or in ball-room manoeuvres.

The truth is that the rich man's chiefest worry today is not the son. It is the daughter. He knows old barriers have been broken down. Flapperism, with its attendant freedom, may mean little or may mean much. Father awaits the verdict a bit nervously.

My own guess is that flapperism will result in nothing serious to young womanhood. The first flapper in our town rode a bicycle man fashion in bloomers through the main residential street. And a lot of coal scuttles and chairs were overturned in a collective rush to pull down window blinds. She was the first girl in town to smoke a cigarette and for a long time was referred to as "that woman." Today she is the mother of five children, a devoted wife and one of the most charitable women I know.

An optical store on Forty Second street offers a novelty for ladies who wear horn rimmed glasses. They offer rims in every shade to match the hair—including the henna.

Speaking of polo, a friend at my elbow who is using up my cigarettes and time, suggests that his idea of the topside in swank would be to drop into a sporting goods shop wearing a pith helmet and a sport shirt and inquire of the clerk, "What have you in polo mallets today?" I suppose he has the idea that would make him a prominent society man.'

This same friend—who has a habit of reading over my shoulder—is an actor. He has been rehearsing in a play for three weeks and it had a run of four nights on Broadway yet he had the effrontery to ask me how long I expected people to stand for the drivel I write. I had a notion to tell him that, anyway, it had run longer than four nights. But I don't need to; he can read it here.

Still I rather like him. He is the only Handsome Ham I ever met who admits he never received a mash note in his entire stage career. And that, as Epictetus or one of the boys has said, is something.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—There is a law which forbids the sale, offering for sale, or display of obscene, lewd, lascivious and indecent books, magazines, or other publications, and pictures of similar character, in the District of Columbia. Just now there is an United States District attorney in Washington who is undertaking to enforce that law, and the drive he is making in particular against objectionable magazines is attracting attention in all parts of the country.

Word has gone forth that a large number of offensive weeklies and monthlies have been barred from the news-stands in Washington and inquiries are pouring in from other cities, seeking information as to how this has been accomplished.

Parent-Teachers Associations are especially interested, and organizations similar to the Watch and Ward Society of Boston, and there are indications that a nation-wide movement may result.

At the same time the report has been circulated that a censorship is being established in the nation's capital, and apparently there is something of a counter-movement on to stir up that element of the public which does not believe in censorship of any kind, whether of literature, art, the movies, or the stage. Just what progress this agitation is making is not known here; but its echoes have been heard.

Major Peyton Gordon—he is addressed by that title more often than as District Attorney—deprecates the censorship story and refutes it with an emphatic denial.

"I have had no thought whatever of setting up a censorship of magazines and similar publications," he says, "the idea is absurd because we have no censorship law. My attention was directed to the charge that many magazines were being sold here that were clearly of a character proscribed by the law. I made an investigation and found that this was true, whereupon I notified the news agencies and news-stand proprietors that future sales of such magazines would subject them to arrest and prosecution."

"I can't forbid their selling or offering for sale of these offensive publications. They don't have to take my word for it that any particular one violates the law. They can leave it to a jury if they desire to make an issue of it.

"However, I must say that on the whole there has been manifested an entire willingness to cooperate in the suppression of periodical literature that ought to be suppressed. The news agencies and dealers generally have shown they will meet us half way."

Twenty-five on the List

To date Major Gordon has some twenty-five weeklies and monthlies on his proscribed list. This list has not been made public, primarily, he says, because he does not want to create a popular demand for the objectionable publications, for it always happens that to suppress a particular book or magazine is to stimulate its sale. The district attorney thinks that the bootlegging industry is large enough now, without creating a new branch.

Furthermore, he does not make his list public because he does not desire to invite a controversy with publishers, nor to do any injustice to those of them are ready and anxious to alter their magazines so as to come within the law.

The list has been furnished to the police. No arrests have as yet been made, but in two cases warrants were issued. These were not served when the offending dealers promised to make every effort to comply with the law in the future, for there is no disposition to make an example of

Feel All Out of Sorts?

IS a constant, nagging backache spoiling your summer? Do you get up lame and stiff—feel tired all day long? Are you so nervous and worn-out you cannot rest or relax?

Look, then, to your kidneys! You cannot be well unless your kidneys properly filter the blood. Sluggish kidneys allow poisons to accumulate and upset the whole system. When this happens you are apt to suffer nagging backache, sharp twinges of pain, lameness, soreness and stiffness, dizzy spells and annoying kidney irregularities.

Help your kidneys with a tested stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are used and recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor!

Here is East Liverpool Proof:

LOUIS H. COCHRANE, 243 Church Alley, says: "A cold settled on my kidneys and put them in a bad way. A sharp pain settled on the small of my back and would almost double me up. I got dizzy spells quite often and always felt tired and worn out. It was hard for me to pass the kidney secretions, for they burned and scalded. I used Doan's Pills from Larkin's Drug Store and all signs of the trouble left me."

The Story of a Modern Business Woman and how Fate tricked Her!

"Nora Pays"

by Lucille Van Slyke

She moved along with the air of being a woman of leisure.

Everything may be lovely for a time. There may be success and good friends and a glorious independence of life, a sense of power and ability. What more could anyone ask? But there comes a day when accounts must be settled, and then the venturesome woman is likely to find the things by which she has set great store are but baubles.

That's what Nora Murray learned in "Nora Pays"—a great story that every woman in northern Ohio should read.

TAX CONFEREES UNABLE TO AGREE

Inability of senate members of the tax bill conference committee to come to any agreement with the house members on the rates to be applied on sales of coal, natural gas, and manufactured articles, today blocked further progress of the extraordinary session of the legislature.

Senator Wright Hugus reported to the senate that the committee could agree on all other subjects and that two of the senators agreed with the unanimous opinion of the house conferees as to the coal, gas and manufacturers, but that agreement of a majority of the senate members had not been obtained.

On motion of Senator Helmick the senate voted to instruct its conferees to make a further effort to reach an agreement and then adjourned, while committee session was resumed.

The senate bill set a rate of 12 twenty fifths of one per cent on gross sales of coal, expected to raise $208,000 more than the present rate, two-fifths of one per cent. The house bill makes no change in the present rate. On natural gas, for which the present rate is two fifths of one per cent, the senate bill put a rate of one and three fifths per cent, expected to raise an additional $360,000 while the house bill rate of two and one half per cent would raise $630,000 more than present revenues. On manufactures the senate bill puts a rate of 226 thousandths of one per cent, to bring in additional revenues of $98,800, while the house bill made no change in the present rate of one fifth of one per cent.

Woman "Dream Book" Author Asks $6,000,000 in Infringement Suit

Miss Eva Nieman, Cincinnati, author of books on dreams, "personal magnetism," character reading and fortune telling, under the name of "Black and White," is suing the Plough Chemical Co., Memphis, Tenn., for $6,000,000 for alleged infringement of her works. Books given away by the company as advertisements have robbed her of her $25,000 yearly income, she contends. The company denounces the charges as untrue and absurd.

SAFETY DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Campaign for "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July Opens.

A campaign for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July in West Virginia will be carried on during June by the state fire marshal department, an activity that has been reflected the past several years by fewer accidents and fires on the great national holidays than in most of the other states.

The 1924 figures on fire losses from fireworks, firecrackers, etc., are not yet available, but in 1923 these losses for the United States amounted to $639,131, of which sum West Virginia contributed only $298. The national fire loss from the same cause in 1922 was $775,205, and the state's share $3,022.

State Fire Marshal C. L. Topping admits that fireworks probably never will be entirely abandoned as an avenue of escape for our enthusiasm on certain occasions, but he holds that the fireworks always should be under the supervision of experienced hands. He also warns that much of the fireworks contain prohibited explosives or poisonous ingredients.

"Figures on the financial loss fall, of course, to tell the whole story of the damage due to fireworks," said Mr. Topping, "for deplorable above all is the annual roll of the maimed and the disfigured and the not infrequent loss of life."

"It would seem that there can be little profit resulting to the retailer of fireworks when the heavy increase in insurance rates on the property and stock about which they are kept is considered," continued the fire marshal. "And, certainly, a profit of a few paltry dollars should not be placed above the safety of life, limb and property. So many lives have been lost, so many children maimed for life, and so much property values destroyed, that it would seem no other argument should be necessary to bring about a safe and sane Fourth.

"It is especially desirable that children should not be permitted to handle the death-dealing varieties of fireworks."

Potters Attend Outing.

Grand Jury To Meet.

George C. Holliday and George Hasson, both of Chester, are members of the grand jury which will open its sessions Monday at New Cumberland.

McKenzie Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lulu Mae McKenzie, 54, were held this afternoon at the Hanover United Presbyterian church. Burial was made in Locust Hill cemetery.

Conducting Bake Sale.

Queen Esther class of the First Presbyterian church is conducting a bake sale this afternoon in the McCutcheon drug store, Fifth street and Carolina avenue.

Prehistoric S. Carolina Mounds to Be Explored

Anderson, S. C.—Archeologists from several colleges in this state are to join an expedition being organized here for the purpose of exploring the great mounds on the Tugaloo and Seneca rivers, near here, which are said to have been built by a race that antedated the red men.

Some of the mounds, especially those along the Tugaloo river, are so large that they cover approximately three acres and are about 100 feet high.

Following an examination of several of the mounds, Andrew Todd of this city expressed the opinion their interiors are hollow and contain relics of an ancient race that only await the explorer's pick to bring them to light.

A large mound near Calhoun falls was demolished during the floods of 1908, revealing a number of pieces of pottery and other evidences of a past civilizati....

I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. Tip For Beginners.

Solve this puzzle by comparing the synonyms listed in the "Horizontal" and "Vertical" columns with the number of spaces extending crosswise or downward on the diagram, as the case may be. If a word occurs to you meaning substantially the same as the synonym and the correct number of letters to fit in the spaces between its number and the first shaded stop following, write it in lightly. Work away the small words, the "easy" words, first, and they will give you plenty of clues to the difficult ones.

ARE PRESENT NATIONS GOD'S KINGDOM?

millions now living will never die

Today's customs and practices condone profiteering, wink at dishonesty, and concede graft as cleverness. Such tactics, though condemned as a practice for all, are entrenched in the false doctrine that God rewards the powerful and that the potentates are of His appointment.

This order or arrangement of affairs is the breeder of present strife, its misunderstandings, its sufferings.

Eating like maggots at the foundation of civilization is this corruption in high places, ever growing and creating weakness by putridity.

In its wake comes God's kingdom.

TAX CONFEREES UNABLE TO AGREE

Inability of senate members of the tax bill conference committee to come to any agreement with the house members on the rates to be applied on sales of coal, natural gas, and manufactured articles, today blocked further progress of the extraordinary session of the legislature.

Senator Wright Hugus reported to the senate that the committee could agree on all other subjects and that two of the senators agreed with the unanimous opinion of the house conferees as to the coal, gas and manufacturers, but that agreement of a majority of the senate members had not been obtained.

On motion of Senator Helmick the senate voted to instruct its conferees to make a further effort to reach an agreement and then adjourned, while committee session was resumed.

The senate bill set a rate of 12 twenty fifths of one per cent on gross sales of coal, expected to raise $208,000 more than the present rate, two-fifths of one per cent. The house bill makes no change in the present rate. On natural gas, for which the present rate is two fifths of one per cent, the senate bill put a rate of one and three fifths per cent, expected to raise an additional $360,000 while the house bill rate of two and one half per cent would raise $630,000 more than present revenues. On manufactures the senate bill puts a rate of 226 thousandths of one per cent, to bring in additional revenues of $98,800, while the house bill made no change in the present rate of one fifth of one per cent.

Woman "Dream Book" Author Asks $6,000,000 in Infringement Suit

Miss Eva Nieman, Cincinnati, author of books on dreams, "personal magnetism," character reading and fortune telling, under the name of "Black and White," is suing the Plough Chemical Co., Memphis, Tenn., for $6,000,000 for alleged infringement of her works. SAFETY DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Campaign for "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July Opens.

A campaign for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July in West Virginia will be carried on during June by the state fire marshal department, an activity that has been reflected the past several years by fewer accidents and fires on the great national holidays than in most of the other states.

The 1924 figures on fire losses from fireworks, firecrackers, etc., are not yet available, but in 1923 these losses for the United States amounted to $639,131, of which sum West Virginia contributed only $298. The national fire loss from the same cause in 1922 was $775,205, and the state's share $3,022.

State Fire Marshal C. L. Topping admits that fireworks probably never will be entirely abandoned as an avenue of escape for our enthusiasm on certain occasions, but he holds that the fireworks always should be under the supervision of experienced hands. He also warns that much of the fireworks contain prohibited explosives or poisonous ingredients.

"Figures on the financial loss fall, of course, to tell the whole story of the damage due to fireworks," said Mr. Topping, "for deplorable above all is the annual roll of the maimed and the disfigured and the not infrequent loss of life."

"It would seem that there can be little profit resulting to the retailer of fireworks when the heavy increase in insurance rates on the property and stock about which they are kept is considered," continued the fire marshal. "And, certainly, a profit of a few paltry dollars should not be placed above the safety of life, limb and property. So many lives have been lost, so many children maimed for life, and so much property values destroyed, that it would seem no other argument should be necessary to bring about a safe and sane Fourth.

"It is especially desirable that children should not be permitted to handle the death-dealing varieties of fireworks."

Potters Attend Outing.

Grand Jury To Meet.

George C. Holliday and George Hasson, both of Chester, are members of the grand jury which will open its sessions Monday at New Cumberland.

McKenzie Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lulu Mae McKenzie, 54, were held this afternoon at the Hanover United Presbyterian church. Burial was made in Locust Hill cemetery.

Queen Esther class of the First Presbyterian church is conducting a bake sale this afternoon in the McCutcheon drug store, Fifth street and Carolina avenue.

Prehistoric S. Carolina Mounds to Be Explored

Anderson, S. C.—Archeologists from several colleges in this state are to join an expedition being organized here for the purpose of exploring the great mounds on the Tugaloo and Seneca rivers, near here, which are said to have been built by a race that antedated the red men.

Some of the mounds, especially those along the Tugaloo river, are so large that they cover approximately three acres and are about 100 feet high.

Following an examination of several of the mounds, Andrew Todd of this city expressed the opinion their interiors are hollow and contain relics of an ancient race that only await the explorer's pick to bring them to light.

A large mound near Calhoun falls was demolished during the floods of 1908, revealing a number of pieces of pottery and other evidences of a past civilization.

The Brittannia trophy for the best flight of 1924 has been awarded Wing-Commander Goble and Flight-Lieutenant McIntyre of England, who flew round the Australian continent in 10 hours.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore, Maryland.

Tip For Beginners.

Solve this puzzle by comparing the synonyms listed in the "Horizontal" and "Vertical" columns with the number of spaces extending crosswise or downward on the diagram, as the case may be. If a word occurs to you meaning substantially the same as the synonym and the correct number of letters to fit in the spaces between its number and the first shaded stop following, write it in lightly. Work away the small words, the "easy" words, first, and they will give you plenty of clues to the difficult ones.

ARE PRESENT NATIONS GOD'S KINGDOM?

millions now living will never die

Today's customs and practices condone profiteering, wink at dishonesty, and concede graft as cleverness. Such tactics, though condemned as a practice for all, are entrenched in the false doctrine that God rewards the powerful and that the potentates are of His appointment.

This order or arrangement of affairs is the breeder of present strife, its misunderstandings, its sufferings.

Eating like maggots at the foundation of civilization is this corruption in high places, ever growing and creating weakness by putridity.

In its wake comes God's kingdom.

DIVORCE COURT HOLDS SESSION

Decrees Handed Down by Judge Moore at Hearing Friday.

The divorce action filed by Mary Ann Snyder against her husband, James G. Snyder, on April 9, has been heard by Judge James G. Moore, and a decree has been awarded the plaintiff on the grounds of extreme cruelty. The custody of a minor child has also been awarded the mother.

Snyder has been ordered to pay his former wife $2 per week for the support of the child, and each is to have a half interest in' real estate being bought on land contract upon which there is a balance of $160 due. Snyder has been ordered by the court to pay this. The costs in this suit are to be divided between the parties.

On the grounds of three years' wilful absence, a decree of divorce has been granted by the court to John E. McNeal against his wife, Margaret McNeal.

Extreme cruelty was charged in the divorce petition of Jessie F. Harter against her husband, Francis E. Harter, and a decree has been granted the plaintiff upon the payment of costs.

In the action filed by Alma Hetrick against Labana Hetrick, the defendant has been ordered by the court to pay the plaintiff $15 temporary alimony within five days. In this petition, the plaintiff seeks a decree of divorce, alimony and other equitable relief.

Margaret Helen Campbell has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, William Edward Campbell. In this cause extreme cruelty was set up in the petition. The custody of two children have been awarded the mother.

Gross neglect of duty was the cause assigned in the petition for divorce filed by Wilbur H. Probert against his wife, Ethel Mae Probert. The custody of a minor child was awarded the father in this case.

A former entry in the case of Sadie Dietz against her husband, Howard Dietz, has been modified, and the custody of a child has been given the defendant until further order of court. The petition in this case was filed July 5, 1924, and is one for alimony.

REPORTS FILED BY ASSESSORS

Reports of all assessors who have been in the field are to be filed with County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton next week, it was announced today. The assessors had been allowed ten days to complete their work and the majority have already filed their records. No extra pay is to be allowed the assessors, as it is contended that ample time was allowed for assessors to cover their districts.

All assessors who will go into the field next year will be appointed by the county auditor. In former years they have been elected. It is probable, however, that many of the assessors who were employed this year will be appointed next year.

MANY ENTERING POLITICAL RACE

Mayor Frank E. Albrecht, of Lisbon, has announced his candidacy on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself. He is the only one so far announcing on that ticket for that office.

The contest for marshal gives early promise of being an interesting one in Lisbon, Marshal H. L. Lewton being a candidate to succeed himself, and on the Republican ticket he will be opposed by George Groves, who has already filed.

On the Democratic ticket, Robert Stacy, special motorcycle officer, has also announced his candidacy for the office of marshal.

Max Dickerson has also filed his declaration as a candidate for council on the Republican ticket.

SENSATIONAL FILM

"Cheaper to Marry"

Robert Z. Leonard Production Proves to Be Vastly Entertaining

A photoplay bringing a scathing indictment against the modern tendency to tear down conventions opens Monday at the American Theatre. It is "Cheaper to Marry" Robert Z. Leonards production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

A powerful lesson to the effect that matrimony is the best and safest, policy is forcibly demonstrated before the final fadeout. The picture is extraordinary, aside from its rare dramatic and entertaining value, because in the course of adaptation to the screen not a single fundamental change was made in the original plot of the play by Samuel Shipman.

SOME FILM FAVORITES

An exceptional cast is seen in this film. Heading the list are Lewis S. Stone and Conrad Nagel, who have established themselves as among the most popular men on the screen. They play partners in business who, on fundamental questions of life, differ radically, Stone as Jim Knight, holding conventions and matrimony in contempt, and Nagel, as Dick Tyler believing in marriage and practicing his theory, with the aid of Marguerite de la Motte, as the play reaches its startling climax.

"Cheaper to Marry" is noteworthy because it brings Paulette Duval back again. This actress, who made he screen debut as Madame de Pompadour in "Monsieur Beaucaire," is seen.

Yesterday's Puzzle Answered

anyone unless there is evidence that he is a persistent and flagrant violator of the statute.

However, there is a widespread demand for the names of the publications that are under the ban of the Washington authorities. This demand comes from prurient-minded persons who like to have their literary fikh selected for them by the taboo of official edict, and it also comes from authorities and others outside Washington who are anxious to carry on the work that has been undertaken here.

For the benefit of the latter it is pointed out that they must conduct their own investigations and compile their own lists of publications that offend against their own laws. The laws on this subject are by no means uniform. A magazine or book might get by in one city or state that would be proscribed in another, and the Washington list could be of no use in any toher section of the country, save as a basis of inquiry.

A Burdensome Task

It is also to be noted that no list could be complete and that any list must necessarily change frequently in view of the fact that one issue of a periodical may bo of a character such that its sale is a clear violation of the law, while the next issue may be unobjectionable, or at least of such a nature that it would be difficult to make a case on it before a jury.

A notable instance of this was disclosed in the investigation in this city. The May number of a certain magazine that features autobigraphical suggestiveness was flagrantly offensive and was listed promptly by Major Gordon, but the June number was comparatively inocuous and its sale was not regarded as a basis for legal proceedings.

Hence it is an extremely burdensome task to keep tabs on all periodicals from week to week, and from month to month, and it is not a pleasant task. Major Gordon says he has been spending most of his spare time recently reading "some of the most rotton and depraved literautre" he has ever seen and he still has a large number of publications awaiting his attention. He can't keep up that sort of thing and the newdealers will have to take on the job of sampling their own wares. He has indicated the kind of stories and pictures that he views as actionable by listing magazines that contained matter fo that character and he says it is now up to the dealers to keep their shelves clean.

To those who complain that the ban which he has placed on some of their best sellers is runing their business he replies thhat a business that violates the law, and that depends upon such violations for its existence, ought to be ruined.

Should that movement that has had its inception in Washington assume national proportions, as promised, it goes without saying that two Federal laws of general application will be invoked. Section 211 of the Federal Penal Code makes it a criminal offense to send throught the mails obecene, lewd, lascivious and filthy pictures and books, pamphlets, papers, letters, writings, prints, "or other publication of an indecent character," and violators of this statute may be subjected to a penalty of five years imprisonment, or a fine of not more than $5,000, or both.

Section 245 of the Interstate Commerce Act is identical with Section 211 of the Penal Code, and thus the publishers who transport their "subtle" literature by freight or express, instead of by mail, may be reached.

Owners and editors of certain magazines that have grown rich by pandering to lasciviousness when told that they should cleanse their publications and keep them clean have defended themselves by saying that the public demands what they sell or they couldn't sell it.

"What the grocer's customers like" they say, " is none of the grocer's business."

Five years' reflection within the granite walls of Atlanta or Fort Leavenworth might bring about a change in that opinion.

Trotters Rally In Fourth to Win From Wellsville Tossers

Pollock's Pitching Is Chief Factor In Victory of Automen

Visitors Hold Lead Until Fourth Frame When Lefty Leatherberry Uncorks a Few Wild Ones Which, With Hits of Davis' Club, Permits East Liverpool Crew to Even up Count.

Wellsville threw a scare into the fast Trotter outfit at Patterson field and all but won a City Industrial league contest. Wildness on the part of Southpaw Leatherberry, however, nullified the four-run lead of the down river aggregation. So the Fowlerites, thanks to the sterling pitching of R. Pollock, who guided them out of their seeming wildness of defeat by wing and bat after mounting the hill top, winning 8 to 7.

At the points at the outset the husky Kidder was opposed by the portsider, Leatherberry. The latter got into trouble right in the first inning when a pass, a force-out, two singles and two wild pitches gave the home team a lead of three runs.

In the second, Kidder had a bad time as a pass, single, double and a put out tied the score.

With honors even again Wellsville did the unexpected when the entire team batted four hits, two being doubles. An error and a wild pitch gave the C. & P. team a four run lead and seemingly the game.

Came the third when ten of the East Liverpool contingent swatted. With one on and two out Leatherberry suddenly lost control and a single sent one run over. Two men in this inning where forced in by walks before Calhoun took his place. Then the score was tied, 7 to 7, before he could retire his opponents.

R. Pollock stopped all scoring for the remainder of the game. He retired those facing him almost in a row each time they faced him.

After Patterson had succeeded Calhoun in the fourth Herbert and Heckathorne bunched a single and double and the former by a nice bit of fielding crossed the plate with the winning run.

Wellsville played fine ball for the most part, their single error comparing favorably against the three of the up-town club. But for the delayed lifting of Leatherberry a reversed result might have easily occurred.

J. Stroble made two fine stops and throws during the game; R. Manning, in middle, fielded sensationally, one a shoe string grab off E. Bayley's bat, standing out. Shipley in right also did a fine piece of work in landing R. Pollock's long fly after a fast side sprint.

D. Morgan hit sensationally for the day, he having two doubles in three batting tries. Runyan, in four efforts, had a single and double for a .500 percentage.

R. Pollock, A. Balyey and Herbert had two hits each, all singles.

Assuming the burden of apparent defeat, R. Pollock's flinging to the extent that no more scoring resulted stood out as the strongest feature of what from start to finish was an exciting contest.

How They Scored.

A. Bayley forced J. Stroble, who had walked, at second in the first inning. A wild pitch put him on second from where he scored on R. Pollock's single over short. Herbert singled and stole second. Heckathorne released an infield rap which Leatherberry booted and R. Pollock counted as Heckathorne reached third. He scored on a second wild pitch.

J. Morgan walked in the second and R. Manning singled. Both scored on D. Morgan's double to left. The latter reached third on the throw to the plate and scored as E. Bayley threw out Calhoun at first.

Runyan, doubling in the third, reached third as Shipley struck out and scored on Rager's single. J. Morgan doubled and scored on a wild pitch. The latter also counted on A. Bayley's overthrow to third base. D. Morgan doubled and R. Manning, on second by reason of J. Stroble's error, scored. R. Pollock then supplanted Kidder.

Herbert, singling in the third, scored on Heckathorne's double.

Gibbons Good Sport; Admits Superiority Of His Conqueror

NEW YORK, June 6—Both Gene Tunney, the victor, and Tom Gibbons, the vanquished, were voluble after the sudden end of their bout in the twelfth round at the Polo grounds last night. Fairly overran with admirers, Tunney found time to say:

"I did something that Jack Dempsey was unable to do at Shelby and now I think I am entitled to a shot at his title. I will take on Harry Wills, if the public demands the match, but I would rather meet Dempsey first. Gibbons didn't do any real damage, although he stung me once of twice in the eighth round. I think I proved that my improvement is real. Now I want Dempsey."

Gibbons made no excuse for his defeat, merely declaring:

"I fought the best I knew how but it wasn't good enough. Tunney fought wonderfully and certainly is an improved man. He is a splendid fellow and a great fighter. I wish him the best of luck."

WELLS ENTERS SEMI-FINALS

Meets J. B. Rose Today in Oakmont. Play.

Out of the 16 players that started out yesterday morning in the elimination rounds of the annual invitation tournament which is being played at the Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley Heights, only four remained at the finish of the day's play. These were A. R. Maxwell, Oakmont Country club; James B. Crookston, C. Stanton Heights Golf Club; J. Bernd Rose of the home club and Joseph M. Wells, East Liverpool, O., the winner of last year's tournament.

The others were counted among the casualties succumbing to the superior play of their opponents, and to the torrid weather which prevailed. Some of the players could hardly trudge back to the clubhouse after playing two rounds over the hills and dales of the course, and sweltering under the heat. Despite the unfavorable weather conditions, the scoring was low yesterday, the lowest scores of the torunament being turned in. Maxwell plays Crookston this morning in the semi-finals, in the upper half of the bracket, while Rose clashes with Wells in the lower bracket. Both should furnish the gallery with some fine golf.

The contestants were deserted as far as galleries were concerned as the spectators preferred to remain behind at the club house, and await the returns thehe at the close of the match. Some of the players quit play in the afternoon rather than brave the heat again in a second round, and they defaulted their matches.

MACFARLANE IS OPEN CHAMPION

Beats Bobby Jones by Stroke in Title Play-off.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 6.—Followers of golf today slowly were recovering from the shock occasioned by Willie McFarlane's victory over Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, 72 to 73, in the second play off for the national open title yesterday on the Worcester Country club course. An obscure figure four days ago, the public found it difficult to credit MacFarlane's sudden rise to eiminence but was quick to grant that his play was richly deserving of the honors that are now his.

Even less creditble was the information, made known today, that MacFarlane had played only thirteen rounds of Golf since last October, previous to taking part in the championship. The Tuckahoe, N. Y., pro's competitive record is meagre, the three previous open tournaments passing into the records without an entry from the new champion. He never before has won an important title.

The consensus was both Jones and MacFarlane played great golf in the play-off; that, in fact, the new champion did not outplay Bobby. He merely beat him because the Atlanta youth happened to lose the last hole of the day, a fatal mistake. Both had 75's for their first eighteen holes.

Gibbons Takes First Kayo of Long Career; Tunney Wins In 12th

St. Paul Boxer Pays Penalty of Age, Combined With Heat; Victor Gives Superb Exhibition of Hitting.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Gene Tunney entered upon the realm last night where the knuckle is king as Tom Gibbons left by the rear entrance for all the world like a male Cinderella who had overstayed the time limit and suddenly found that his skill had sprunk a leak in the seat of its trousers. It was like the exit on one of those pay-as-you-leave trolley cars.

Tom Gibbons paid the penalty of age and the heat by taking a right full on the jaw and suffering the ignominy of a knockout, the first and probably the last of his career, after one minute and 23 seconds of the twelfth round. He was simply too weary to get his hands up to stop the punch or move his chin out of its path, and this same weariness merely permitted him to get to his feet at the count of 10 instead of nine, as he intended.

This was the end of Tom Gibbons of last night, not the Gibbons who stepped 15 rounds with Dempsey at Shelby. His age made him more susceptible than the youthful Tunney to one of the hottest nights New York has known. His vitality was gone; so was his punch and the speed that had been the admiration of all who genuflect before the throne and acknowledge the knuckle as king. The Gibbons who had his head stabbed off by straight lefts and his torso outraged by body punches for nearly 12 rounds was just a pale innuendo of the man of other and better days.

Neither did Tunney at all resemble the innocuous citizen who used to maul around with Harry Greb and kindred specimens. He was a hundred percent a better man than the writer even thought he could be—a beautiful boxer, a hitter whose punches traveled less than eight inches and seldom missed, and a fighter whose mind held one thought and one only, to win as quickly as possible.

Gibbons did a deal of smiling at one time and another and indicated his willingness to shake hands when he thought Tunney hit him low once or twice. Tunney would have none of it. He glared at his man with the eye of a fanatic and fairly ran amuck when Gibbons hit him on the jaw twice near the end of the eighth round. The writer was unable to concede Gibbons even one of the 11 and one-third rounds fought.

Tunney's new attitude was strikingly emphasized when the end came. It came suddenly and a wild animal about to score a kill could have looked no more bloodthirsty than did this studious young man of the usually calm and courteous manner. Without the slightest warning, he had Gibbons on the floor with a left and right to the jaw. Tom never had been there before and although not badly hurt, his unfamiliarity with the posture caused him to delay arising until the count of seven. It was his legs that were gone, not his head.

Tunney charged from his corner with his eyes aglare and before Gibbons could protect himself, hooked a left to the jaw and crossed with a right. Slowly, painfully, Gibbons sat down. He rolled over and clutched the ropes. Then the writer saw his eyes. They were glazed, almost sightless.

"Get up, Tom," was shouted at him by Eddie Kane at the count of eight. And Tom did—too late.

It was the inevitable end, forecast almost from the first round.

Bricelin's Crew Gets to Sharp for Five Runs in Fifth.

Scoring five runs in the fifth frame and breaking a four inning deadlock, Barney Bricelin's Newell Laughlins defeated the Babcock & Wilcox nine, 9 to 3, last evening.

Sharp pitched great ball for the Oaklanders until the fifth, his speed turning back his opponents easily. Sharp was derricked at this point, giving way to Howell, who, in turn, was replaced by McGeehan.

Riser pitched for Laughlin and was effective in all but the fifth when three runs were made off him.

Reese led in the slugging for the day with a perfect mark, having a single, double and triple in three times up. Every Laughlin player hit safely except Riser.

A. Morris the star young pitcher of Laughlin, East End, last year, played second base for B. & W. and missed but one of nine chances. Kinney, the old Hall China shortstop, also played and lost but one of seven chances.

Tagging The Bases

The Athletics continued to breeze along in first place by defeating Detroit, 8 to 6. The other American league teams perspired against each other for pursuit positions in the race.

Washington kept within looking distance of the leaders by beating Chicago, 5 to 3. The Senators won in the lucky seventh, scoring four runs against Cvengros.

There were two overtime games in the National league. Luque of Cincinnati outpitching Benton of Boston, 1 to 0, in a ten-inning duel. Clarence Mitchell, Philly pitcher, won his own game against Pittsburgh in the eleventh with a single. Score 6 to 5.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

A man writes in his last hour, "burn me up, scatter my ashes around the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor. Death has set me free."

How does he know that death has set him free? Nature, of which death is a part, has a habit of using the same material over and over again. The tree of this generation supplies mould to the tree that takes its place.

A man burned up today may go traveling, his spirit to continue his work and struggling in some other far-off sphere.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis is making a hard fight for the distressed stockholders of the St. Paul road. It wont' do any good.

When the time comes for a road to be reorganized and again yield a few millions to high finance, reorganized it is, and that is all there is about that.

Rioting in Shanghai, with machine guns used by foreign soldiers, is now blamed on the Russian government. Moscow sent money, you are told, to stir up the Chineese coolies. Moscow in these days covers a multitude of sins, but it doesn't explain all the violence and unrest, from Sofia to Pekin and from Pekin back to Moscow.

The war made men think. When they think they're dissatisfied and dangerous.

Seventy-five years ago, in New York, 18 merchants contributed $200 each to start the Emigrant Industrial Savings bank.

Last week the bank celebated its birthday by opening a mid-town branch, and in one working day, 9:30 a. m. to 7 p. m., 3,000 new depositors were added to the bank's list of 194,000.

That bank started with $3,000, now has deposits of $250,000,000, and holds gilt-edged securities, government bonds, etc., worth $287,000,000.

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings."

Flammarion is dead. He was an able astronomer, a useful man. He stirred up men's imaginations.

He had intellectual vision enabling him at least faintly to see the greatness of the universe.

When he was already an old man, in his flat, six flights (no elevator) on the other side of the Seine, he said to this writer:

"Man is barely at the threshold of knowledge. True, a shepherd of old, with his naked eye, could count only eight or 10 stars in the Pleiades, and we count 45,000 great suns. But we know nothing."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, head of Columbia university, says laws forbidding teaching evolution, and similar laws that would put an iron band around young men's minds, are "cowardice." And that is what a Frenchman would call "LE MOT JUSTE."

For legislators to say "you musn't examine that," is like a timid person running away from something that looks like a ghost, for fear of going near it.

In addition to being cowardly, it is irreligious, unChristian, and a defi-

Petition for Vote On Chiropractic Law In Ohio is Filed

John W. Moore, clerk of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections, today received from Secretary of State T. H. HIGH COURT DECISION ON RELIGIOUS SCHOOL IS SOUGHT BY CRABBE

Attorney General, Acting Upon Request of J. H. Brookes, President of Board of Education, Promises Ruling on Ministerial Association's Proposal to Use School Buildings.

OHIO LEGAL ADVISER WILL EXAMINE OPINION OF U. S. SUPREME TRIBUNAL

Trades and Labor Council Fails to Act Upon Motion to Protest Against Pastors' Request Because of Constitutional Inhibition of Injection of Religious Issues.

Legality of the proposal of the Ministerial association to use public schools of the city for classes in religious education probably hinges upon a recent ruling by the United States supreme court, judging from advices from Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, of Columbus, received today by Attorney J. H. Brookes, president of the board of education.

Ohio's legal adviser, replying to Mr. Brookes' telegram in which the board chieftain requested a ruling, said there would be delay pending receipt of a copy of the supreme court's opinion.

The attorney general's letter follows:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your telegram. In reply beg to advise you that the matter to which you refer is being given consideration, but will be delayed until this department is able to procure and examine a copy of an opinion recently rendered by the supreme court of the United States, which has some bearing upon your question."

Trades and Labor Action.

The school board president called upon the attorney general for a ruling after Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent of public instructions, declined to express an opinion.

Because the constitution of the organization precludes the injection of religious issues into discussion, Trades and Labor council has decided to withhold action on a proposal to protest against the use of public school buildings for Bible classes, it was announced today by its leaders.

For this reason, no action was taken at a recent meeting on the request of the Ministerial association which is expected to be acted upon by the board of education at the session on Thursday, June 18.

A motion urging that the central labor body disprove the plan was made, but when the constitutional inhibition was cited the trades assembly

DR. CAMPBELL TO GO ABROAD

Second U. P. Church Pastor Will Visit Wales.

Rev. J. O. Campbell, D. D., pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, will leave Tuesday for New York, from which port he will sail next Saturday for Cardiff, Wales, where he will attend the twelfth quadrennial Council of the Alliance of reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian system througout the world, which meets June 23 to July 3.

Dr. Campbell will sail on the steamer Orbita, making the trip via Southampton, England. He is one of 12 delegates appointed by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of the United States. The council meets for the purpose of cultivating a spirit of unity and co-operation among Presbyterians.

Dr. Campbell, accompanied by Dr. John McNaugher, president of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary of the United Presbyterian church and president of the Alliance, will visit points of interest in England, Scotland, Ireland and France, returning home about August 15.

During the pastor's absence prominent preachers in the denomination will act as supplies in the East End church.

D. F. White Sues For Commission in Real Estate Sale

D. F. White, East End real estate dealer, has filed a petition in common pleas court at Lisbon, seeking $2,525 commission from William Reed in the recent sale of a four-story Diamond business block to Altman Brothers.

The petition declares that on March 25, 1925 the plaintiff found a buyer for the property owned by Mr. Reed. His commission on the sale of the property was to have been five percent on the first $1,000 and two and one-half percent on the balance, White says. The commission was never paid and Mr. White, through his counsel, Lones, Hill & Davidson, is asking that the court order a settlement.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. SESSION FRIDAY

235 ARE DEAD AS HEAT WAVE SHOWS SIGNS OF SUBSIDING

Today's Deaths Expected to Send Total Far Higher.

Showers Promised Today and Monday in Ohio Valley.

Overcast skies at noon today, promising rain, brought the first relief from the heat wave in East Liverpool, while death and the relentless torridity stalked hand in hand in other sections of Ohio and the remaining scorched states from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard as the unbroken week of sizzling temperatures drew to a close.

The weather bureau at Washington at noon today, in the forecast for next week, predicted a break in the heat wave Monday or Tuesday north of the Ohio river. Indications are for thunder showers, the forecast said.

Hope of relief from record temperatures in other districts was still remote as the thermometer mounted to new heights. New victims were added hourly to the death-list, already past the 200 mark. Hospitals were crowded with the stricken, while overworked physicians and nurses struggled to give aid to the prostrated. With 235 dead at dawn, today's deaths were expected to send the total far higher before sunset.

106 Degrees at Springfield.

Twenty-three new deaths were added yesterday and last night to New York's list. Four were dead in Chicago with records for June temperatures broken and still higher marks expected this afternoon.

Eleven died in Ohio, bringing that state total to 34. Springfield recorded a temperature of 106.

Five deaths brought Detroit's total to eleven in the hottest weather in a half century, with 96 degrees. Flint and Saginaw had temperatures of 105.

Another death at dawn added to yesterday's twelve brought the hot wave fatalities to 23 in Philadelphia, where the thermometer stood at 100 yesterday.

County Roads Damaged.

The heat wave has damaged practically all macadam roads and at least one paved highway in Columbiana county.

All of the macadam roads are "bleeding" with the exception of that piece on the Lisbon-Salem road, north

PICKPOCKETS' JOBS NET $115

"Dips" Following Circus Find Three Victims Here

Pickpockets robbed three circus fans at Columbian park yesterday, two of them losing $40 each and the third $35. Police are holding three suspects, all Negroes.

While Stanley Baker of Newell and Elias Wright, 1200 St. George street, were in the side show last evening, they lost their pocketbooks containing $40 each. Neither of the two men wore coats and carried their purses in their hip pockets. The theft was reported to Chief of Police McDermott a few minutes afterwards.

Later in the evening, Chief McDermott and Patrolman Roth arrested "Sonny" Craig and Homer Smith, both colored, and claiming to be residents of Midland. They denied the charge but were lodged in jail pending an investigation.

Benton Kirk, Civil war veteran and senior commander of General Lyon post No. 44, G. A. R., lost $35 in the jam around the ticket wagon. He failed to report his loss to the police, however.

Craig and Smith, with Ray Jones, also colored, who was arrested by Patrolman Lister, Friday morning, are being held in jail for a few days. Circus detectives told Chief McDermott yesterday that they were making every effort to weed out suspicious looking characters who follow the show from town to town.

TWO MOTORISTS TO FACE MAYOR

Charges of violating the traffic ordinance by driving with four persons in one seat have been filed against Alfred McCormick, 1056 High stret, and J. S. Cooke, R. D. No. 1.

They were arrested in East End by Special Officer Walter Torrence last night. They will appear before Mayor Brown for a hearing tonight.

Wells and Maxwell Golf Finalists in Sewickley Tourney

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 6.—R. A. Maxwell, Oakmont Country club, and Joseph M. Wells, East Liverpool, last year's tournament winner, are the finalists in the annual invitation golf tournament at the Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley Heights, this afternoon. Maxwell defeated J. B. Crookston, three and one this morning in the semi-finals, while Wells had an easy time with J. B. Rose, winning seven and six. Wells was out in 34, two under par for the distance.

Loeb, Bobby Franks' Slayer, Insane, Says Warden at Joliet

JOLIET ILL., June 6.—"Loeb is a typical insane case."

This was the opinion of Warden John Whitman following a conference today with Dr. Walter B. Martin, state psychiatrist, who had the slayer of Bobby Franks under observation since Monday.

"Just how long this condition will exist is impossible to say," Warden Whitman said. "It may be corrected within a few days and it may run along for an indefinite period.

"However, there is no thought of trnasferring Loeb from the hospital here either to the new prison or to any other institution.

"At present there are nine other cases of prisoners who are suffering from mental disorders similar to Loeb's. All of these men are being treated here.

"We are fully equipped to handle Loeb's case. He could not receive better or more effective care at the state hospital for criminal insane at Chester."

The Rt. Rev. Warren Lincoln Rogers, of Cleveland, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of Ohio, will administer confirmation to a class in St. Stephen's Episcopal church, West Fourth street, at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the evening, he will confirm a class in Steubenville.

On a small farm about 12 miles from Trenton, N. J., Bishop Rogers was born 47 years ago. When three years old, he was taken to Detroit which has been his home during the greater part of his life.

Bishop Rogers' school days were no different than those of thousands of other men. He attended grammar school and high school in Detroit and for several years as a newsboy. After his graduation from high school, he worked as a stenographer until he re-

WAGE PROBLEM BLOCKS PEACE IN STRIKE OF CARPENTERS

Contractors and Employes Agree on Working Conditions.

PARLEY IS HELD

Strikers Reject Employers' Proposal to Arbitrate Differences.

Wage differences alone prevent settlement of the strike of 125 carpenters, in effect in the East Liverpool district since May 1, it was announced today following a conference yesterday afternoon between representatives of the workers and the contractors.

With Arnold Bill, of Cleveland, national representative of the carpenters' union, present, the conferees agreed upon all working conditions, but a stalemate resulted when the wage question was discussed.

Strikers Stand Pat.

The strikers stood pat on their demands for a wage increase from $10 to $11 per day, while the contractors, who have refused to concede this pay boost, expressed a willingness to submit the differences to arbitration. The men, however, declined to arbitrate, it was said.

"We are willing to accept any reasonable suggestion looking toward a settlement of the wage question,' said a spokesman for the contractors today. "We have offered to arbitrate, but the carpenters have declined the proposal."

It was announced that another conference may be held next week, following receipt of advices from the national chieftain of the carpenters. Representative Bill, who has returned to Cleveland, will advise the executive president of the result of Friday's parley and await his instructions, it was declared.

BURGESS TAKES POTTER OFFICE

Ex-Tariff Commissioner Vice-president of U. S Association

William Burgess, Morrisville, Pa., member of the United States tariff commission for more than four years, who recently resigned, has been named first vice-president of the United States Potters' association, it was announced today.

Burgess, regarded as a tariff expert in view of his experience on the tariff board, will represent the general ware manufacturers on matters pertaining particularly to tariffs on foreign-made products.

For several years prior to the outbreak of the war, Burgess was connected with the United States Potters association, holding the place of first vice-president. When the war was declared officials at Washington sought his services and he became one of the $1 per year men in governmental work, but at the same time retained his position with the potters' association.

With the election of President Harding and the return of the Republican party to power in 1920, Burgess, in view of his efficient services during the war, was appointed a member of the tariff commission. He held this place until a few weeks ago when he resigned after being induced to return to the United States Potters' association.

Burgess succeeds E. E. Salisbury, president of the Onandago Pottery company, Syracuse N. Y., as vice-president of the United States Potters' association. Salisbury recently resigned.

Burgess will probably establish his office in Trenton, N. J., but will work in Washington, East Liverpool, Trenton and other pottery centers.

SITUATION IN SHANGHAI REMAINS SERIOUS; RIOTING REPORTED GENERAL

Despite Appeals, United States Intends to Take no Precipitate Action in China.

LONDON, June 6.—The situation in Shanghai remains serious and rioting is general, according to information which reached London today from Shanghai.

Great Britain favors enlarging the scope of the forthcoming conference in regard to Chinese tariffs so that it would include a general consideration of China's welfare.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Despite widespread disorders and fighting in China—described in reports to the state department as of Russian Soviet origin—and appeals to the United States to lend its good offices to effect a settlement, this government intends to take no precipitate action in the Chinese situation, it was declared officially here today.

Through its diplomatic and consular representatives in China, the United States has united with other powers in conference with Chinese officials, and American marines have been landed at Shanghai for the protection of American lives and interests when they were placed in jeopardy by Chinese disturbances. These steps, officials said today, are the only ones now contemplated by the government.

Expect Further Disturbances.

50 LADS LEARN TO SWIM HERE

Two Hundred and Thirty Six Enroll in Y. M. Campaign

The "learn to swim" campaign for boys, conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., this week, was the most successful affair of its kind in the history of the organization.

A total of 236 youths, 10 years of age and over, were enrolled for the week of instruction which began last Monday and ended yesterday. In all 711 lessons were given, 50 lads learning the art of swimming at least 50 feet in the examinations conducted Friday. Each lad swimming 50 feet or more will receive a Y. M. C. A. button. Practically every lad enrolled in the class learned to swim at least 10 feet.

The classes were in charge of T. F. Scheffer, physical director, and Harvey J. Price, boys' work secretary, assisted by Alfred Earl, William Swaney, Richard Larkins and Elmer English.

The summer schedule for swimming classes at the "Y" becomes effective next Monday. Boys unable to swim will be given special instruction at 9:30 o'clock each Wednesday morning. Here is the schedule for the boys' classes:

Elementary class (boys 10 to 12)—Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 9:30 a. m.

Junior class (boys 12-15—Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at 2 p. m. and Saturday at 10:30 a. m.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Three more deaths this morning brought the toll of the heat wave to 31 deaths, in and about New York City, for the past six days during which torrid temperatures have prevailed.

Washington Swelters.

WASHINGTON ,June 6.— Heat records continued to be smashed here today as the thermomter began another climb to the temperature of 107 degrees registered on Pennsylvania avenue Friday afternoon.

The only hope for relief held out by the United States weather bureaus was probable frosts in the northwestern states, with resulting cooler weather in the eastern states.

Two deaths due to the heat occurred during the past 24 hours and there were scores of prostrations. Government workers working in temporary wooden buildings are working only part time and schedules in other departments have been reduced to prevent suffering among the thousands of federal employes.

Ohio Fears Water Famine.

CLEVELAND, June 6.—With record high temperatures recorded in Cleveland and many other Ohio cities yesterday, the people of the state today faced a continuance of the hot wave that has lasted seven days and claimed 34 persons as victims. A water famine was adding to the discomfort of many, and unless rains come soon, will prove a real menace, as well as inflict a loss running high into the millions on Ohio farmers.

Eleven deaths yesterday throughout the state were attributed to the heat. Of these two were in Cleveland, three in Steubenville and one each in Youngstown, Warren, Marietta, Akron, Toledo and Conneaut.

More than a dozen cases of heat prostration were reported.

Springfield, according to official reports, was the hottest point in the state. Government thermometers there registered 106. Fremont and Lancaster sweltered under a high of 101, and Marietta and St. Marys 100.

Relief is Promised.

BOSTON, June 6.—Relief from the devastating heat wave that had taken a toll of 22 lives in New England was promised by the weather bureau today.

Cloudy with thunder showers, was the prediction for tonight and Sunday with a welcome "somewhat cooler Sunday afternoon."

Boston was the hottest spot in New England today with the mercury climbing about the 86 degree mark and Eastport, Me., the coolest with a 48.

Both Sides Rest In Hayner Liquor Conspiracy Case

CLEVELAND, June 6.—The government and defense have rested and after arguments by attorneys on both sides Monday the sensational Hayner conspiracy case will go to the jury.

Warren E. Barnett, prominent Columbus attorney and politician, was the last of the three defendants to take the witness stand yesterday and deny that he had any part in securing the release of 22,000 cases of Hayner whisky for northern Ohio bootleggers.

Joshua E. Russell, suspended prohibition director, and Merle B. Copeland, executive clerk, have given emphatic denials of complicity in the plot.

ance of biblical command to refrain from investigating the theories of evolution and all other theories.

Plainly and emphatically, the Bible says, in first Thessalonians, fifth chapter, twenty-first verse:

"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good."

This means, "examine for yourself." It means that you are to investigate all things, not a few of them, and hold fast that which is good.

It doesn't say that you must have somebody tell you what is good and not good, while you swallow the decision whole.

Scraping along a submerged plateau, under the Pacific, the great dredge of a scientific expedition brings up strange fish.

They include long-nosed Macruroids, snake tailed brotulids, gigantic eels with black beaks.

And the dredge brings up most interesting dwarf sharks, only eight inches long, with bright green eyes.

Science asks this question:

"Do you think each of these creatures and 10,000 kinds of beetles, millions of different microbes, birds, butterflies, etc., were all made separately, as an independent act of the Divine Will, all in six days?"

Did the Lord at one time decide to make a dwarf shark, eight inches long? Or did all these things come through evolution, in the course of ages, in obedience to a wise plan?

Think what you please. But don't let anyone forbid you to think and decide for yourself.

"Prove all things.

Coningsby Dawson, writer, mourns because women are set aside, "shelved," at an age when their brothers and husbands begin to be interesting. He says a woman is, or ought to be, "at the height of her charm after 40."

Various things work against women and prevent their having adrent young admirers, as Ninon de E'Enclos had at the age of 70. The children come too close together in many cases, and that wears women out.

The husbands are dull, and after a day's work their talk is frightfully tiresome. No food for the wife's mind. Also, women have lived on the earth for 500,000 years as drudges, with a small percentage kept as toys. They literally have not had a chance.

But times and conditions are changing. Women vote, families are smaller, you cannot tell a woman from her granddaughter when their backs are turned. And often when they face you one is about as young as the other, and the grandmother has, spiritually, the younger face.

COOLIDGE OFF ON LONG TRIP

President Leaves Capital for Minneapolis- St. Paul.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Coolidge will leave Washington this afternoon on the longest journey he has made during his occupancy of the White House—1,200 miles overland to Minneapolis-St. Paul, where, on Monday, he will participate in the Norse-American centennial celebration.

Accompanying the president to the twin cities will be Mrs. Coolidge, secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg, Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin; Secretary to the President Everett Sanders, Colonel S. A. Cheney, military aide; Major J. F. Coupal, presidential physician; James C. White, secretary to Senator Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, and E. C. Geisser, the president's personal stenographer.

Despite Mr. Coolidge's efforts, the presidential party will make the trip on what amounts to a special train. The president had intended to travel on a regular train just as he did to Chicago last December, but the railroad company, on the plea of "safety and convenience of operation," has made up a "second section" to the Capital Limited for the Coolidge entourage. The train, which leaves Washington shortly after 3 o'clock, consists of the president's car, an observation car, a dining car, a club car and a press car.

The president's stay in the wheat belt, though of but one day's duration, will be filled with activity. Arriving at St. Paul Sunday night, the party will be the overnight guests of Secretary Kellogg. At noon Monday, the president will attend a luncheon in Minneapolis, tendered by the Norse-American centennial committee. Two hours later, he will deliver his prepared address at the state fair grounds and return immediately to St. Paul, where, at the state capitol, he will hold a public reception for the citizens of Minnesota. At about midnight he will entrain for Washington, arriving home Wednesday morning.

Uncle Sam Should be Tolerant in War Debt, Says France

PARIS, June 6. — United States should be tolerant toward France in the matter of France's war debt to America, in the opinion of France, it was indicated today in a statement made by the finance ministry.

"The balancing of the budget is the problem of first importance," the finance ministry said. "After Finance Minister Caillaux finishes that then he will take up the monetary situation, for which, he frankly admits, he must appeal to the foreign powers, especially the United States."

High Court Decision

decided to remain aloof from the controversy.

Qualifications for Good Judge

Formal declaration that the South Columbiana County Bar association's only interest in the establishment of a municipal court in East Liverpool, which becomes effective January 1, next by legislative act, was in obtaining the right man for judge, was made at the labor meeting by Atty. W. F. Lones and F. E. Grosshans, who were invited to address the delegates.

"All lawyers do not make good judges," said Lones. "We should get the best material that can be obtained."

Four qualifications for a good judge in Lones' opinion are:

1. Knowledge of the law.
2. Good judgment.
3. Knowledge of how to apply the law.
4. Impartiality in administering the law.

Bar Association's Interest.

"The bar association has taken no action on the selection of a municipal judge except to appoint a committee to confer with Trades and Labor Councils and kindred organizations which were active in urging enactment of the law, as a means of obtaining the best results," said Lones.

Declaring that neither he nor any member of his firm is a candidate for the judgeship, the lawyer said that his only interest, and the only interest of the bar association, was in getting the right man for the place.

"I do not know who he is and I am not in a position to say who he should be," Lones asserted.

All lawyers are interested in obtaining the best results from an efficient organization of the municipal court, the speaker said, adding that any ideas on the functioning of the court would be subject to the approval or rejection of the people.

Attorney Grosshans explained the law and reaffrimed the declarations of Lones on the interest of the bar association in the establishment of the court.

In answer to a question propounded by Councilman-at-Large Thomas Farrall, who attended the session, the attorneys said that the city council has no authority to make changes in the salary of municipal officials during their term in office. In other words, if council readjusts the salary of the mayor, because of the establishment of the municipal court, legislation to this end must be enacted before the choice of the voters at the November election qualifies.

Another Darwin Arises in Defense Of Evolution Theory

Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.

CRIPP'S CORNER, SUSSEX, England, June 6.—Another Darwin arose today in the defense of evolution. It was Major Leonard Darwin, 75-year-old son of Charles Darwin, father of the theory.

The son of the famous scientist has shown keen interest in the approaching trial of John Scopes, Tennessee schoolmaster, on the charge of teaching evolution. He smiled when asked his opinion. But his reply crackled with youthful vigor.

Seated in a huge arm chair in his Tudor home five miles from the railroad, Major Darwin gave his views in an exclusive interview.

"This attack on evolution is a retrograde movement," he said. "But it is only a passing phase which will fade away. No scientific man disputes evolution, although he may argue in regard to the manner in which evolution came about."

PROPOSED FARE BOOST TOPIC

Franchise Committee and Newell Trolley Manager Confer.

Members of council's franchise committee conferred with Fred B. Lawrence of the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company at the city hall, last night, on the proposed increase of from five to seven cents in street car fare on the Newell-East Liverpool line.

The Newell company has filed an application with the Interstate Commerce commission seeking permission to advance the fare beginning July 1. A similar application has been filed with the county court at New Cumberland.

In order to establish a uniform rate over the entire line, thes treet car company seeks to collect the seven-cent fare in East Liverpool. Lawrence told members of council that only $155 had been collected on the East Liverpool section of the line last year. With the seven-cent fare in effect, this would mean added revenue of only about $60 per year in the city. He also pointed out that considerable inconvenience in the collection of fares would result if the increase were refused in East Liverpool and permitted for interstate travel.

The committee took the proposition under advisement and will meet early next week to draft recommendations to council, which meets next Friday night. Councilman Thomas Farrall is chairman of this committee, while Solons Fred Eardley and James Larcombe are the other members.

Bishop Rogers

ceived the opportunity to go to college.

But Bishop Rogers did not receive his chance for a college education until he was 34 years old. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1911 and the degree of doctor of divinity the same year from Union Theological seminary in New York. In 1912 he also received the degree of doctor of divinity from the General Theological seminary of New York, although his pastoral work was started in 1911 when he was made rector of St. Thomas' church in Detroit.

In 1913 he became assistant rector of Calvary church of Pittsburgh, and in 1916 accepted the post as rector of St. John's church in New Jersey, N. J., which position he held until called to be dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, in 1920.

At St. Paul's Bishop Rogers became known to thousands of people throughout the country through his radio sermons which were broadcast alternately morning and evening from the church. Through these sermons he became widely known as the "Radio Pastor of Detroit." These radio sermons were partly responsible for his being elected as bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Ohio.

Grandfather Was Baptist Preacher.

Bishop Rogers has a number of various denominations mingled in his heritage. His grandfather was a well known Baptist preacher. There is also a mixture of Puritan, Quaker and Anglican ancestry in his stock.

The new bishop made his first formal appearance in the diocese at the diocesan convention which assembled at Cleveland May 12 and 13.

According to the plan announced by Bishop William Andrew Leonard, Bishop Rogers' will have general charge of the work of the diocese outside of Cleveland and Gambier. Cleveland is the seat of the cathedral church, while Gambier is the seat of Kenyon college and Bexley Hall, the diocesan theological seminary.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 6.—The stock market was fairly active and steady in the short session today, with speculative attention concentrated in the oil stocks. A few of the motor and rubber company stocks continued to move forward, as also did the specialty stocks which have been prominent in the trading since the first of the week.

The financial district was filled with favorable propaganda relative to the oil stocks and the oil industry in general. Pennsylvania crude oil was marked up 25 cents a barrel for the best grades and 15 cents a barrel for Sommerset and Cabell. Standard oil companies advanced gasoline prices as high as 2½ cents a barrel in some of the western markets.

Oil stocks received the bulk of the buying orders in the first hour and prices moved forward a point or more in the most active issues including Pacific, Mid-Continent, Pure Oil, Marland, Sinclair, Shell Union, Skelly and the Standard Oils.

Chandler Motor set a fast pace in the motor group. Buying demand for this stock was unusually heavy and the price advanced briskly to a new high at 39, up three points. Mack Trucks and the Maxwell stocks were unusually inactive. Moon Motors pushed up to a new high above 33. Fisk was the feature of the tire stocks, with an advance to a new high around 18.

Coca Cola and American Ice, the hot weather specialties, sold at new high prices of 122 and 115, respectively.

Week end business reports emphasized the unfavorable effect of the intense heat, both on the crops and on domestic trade.

have reached the government through Chinese students and associations in this country, but officials do not believe there is any necessity for further action by the United States in the light of events to date.

Reports to the state department today indicated that the situation in Shanghai is clearing up, but the opinion prevailed, nevertheless, that further disturbances were likely to occur on account of the Bolshevist influence and the anti-foreign and anti-Christian sentiment thus inspired.

With its seething mass of four hundred millions, China is now a fertile field for "Red" propaganda. Torn by almost continuous civil war for the past 10 years, the populace can be easily enflamed and the smouldering unrest might easily turn to active and dangerous eruption.

SHANGHAI, China, June 6.—The food situation in Shanghai was becoming increasingly difficult today as a result of the Chinese strikes against foreigners. Goods and flour are virtually the only provisions obtainable.

Authorities were investigating reports the striking Chinese are smuggling into the city Russian hand grenades.

Seventy per cent of the shops in the French concession reopened today.

EDITORS REPLY TO CRABBE BAN

MacFadden Publications Issues Statement on Ohio Edict.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Aroused by the action of Attorney General C. C. Crabbe of Ohio in including three Macfadden Publications, "True Stories," "True Romances" and "Dream World," in a list of alleged immoral publications, the editorial offices of the Macfadden Publications today issued the following statement:

"The action of Attorney General Crabbe in including True Stories, True Romances and Dream World in his proscribed list is quite unintentional, based upon a mistake which he will no doubt be glad to correct. An examination of these publications will immediately disclose this fact. The Macfadden publications are in no sense immoral publications but instead have received the indorsement of clergymen, public service workers and other leaders in public welfare work all over the country. Millions of readers of these magazines will find it difficult to understand how Attorney General Crabbe could have been led into making such a mistake and the only answer is that he has failed to read these magazines.

"True Stories Magazine and its sister publications, True Romances and Dream World, are the only magazines in this country published with the educational purpose of presenting the truths of life in that form adopted by moral and religious teachers. To this end we long ago organized an editorial board, composed of leading clergymen of various denominations, including the Rev. Dr. Ralph Welles Keeler of the Methodist Episcopal church, as its chairman. Dr. Keeler is one of the best known clergymen in America.

"It is inconceivable that Attorney General Crabbe could have read these magazines as he could not have possibly regarded as immoral the stories to which these earnest, God-fearing men have given their full endorsement.

"When this board was organized it was clothed with full authority. No impediments were placed in its way. It has full power to alter or reject any material which it regards as unwise. No other publishing house in the world is doing this or has ever entrusted any such authority to anyone outside of its publishers or editors. The policy adopted by this board of clergymen upon its organization was stated in writing to be as follows:

"We will not sanction the publication of any story in these magazines which we would not recommend to the young people of our congregations.

"In the face of such a policy adhered to rigidly over a period approaching two years does it not immediately become clear that a mistake has been made, that a grave injustice has been done the Macfadden publications and that these three magazines should be removed from the list prepared by the attorney general of the state of Ohio at once, and finally."

W. L. FOGO'S HAT IN MAYOR RING

Four-cornered Race Certain in G. O. P. Primary.

W. L. Fogo, of Broadway, today announced his intention of entering the mayoralty race at the Republican primary on August 11.

Fogo's declaration swells the field in the mayor race to four contenders. In the order of their announcements they are: J. M. Kenney, A. J. White, C. C. Ewing and W. L. Fogo.

Fogo has held only one municipal office here, that of mayor. He occupied the city's chief executive's chair from 1902 until 1908, three consecutive terms.

He was largely instrumental in making Broadway one of the beauty spots of the city, his backers point out. He is now head of the real estate and insurance firm of W. L. Fogo & Son.

With the exception of one, all announcements thus far are centered on the mayoralty. The lone petition outside of this particular field has been filed by Clyde Baker, who aspires to the chair of council president.

Saved from Operation

Toledo, Ohio — "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only saved me from an operation, but also relieved me of all weakness and made me well and strong. I had given up hopes of ever getting better. When I reached middle life I went all to pieces, my nerves gave way. I suffered from backache and other pains. I got so weak and nervous that I had no power or strength left. My druggist advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I began to feel better by the time I had taken one bottle. I think I took about seven bottles and was completely restored to health, in every way. I can recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women of middle age after what it has done for me."—Mrs. Mary Lambert, 422 Tenth St.

Obtain Dr. Pierce's Prescription now, in liquid or tablets, from your druggist or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo. Write for free medical advice.

FIRE DESTROYS CAR; NONE HURT

Catching fire at a point in the Wellsville-West Point road, several miles south of the West Point bridge, an automobile owned by L. I. Martin, of 537 Commerce street, was totally destroyed yesterday afternoon.

The occupants jumped from the car and were uninjured. Within a few moments the body of the auto, a sedan, was reduced to ruins.

Mr. Martin was unable to determine the cause of the fire.

Autos Crash; He Sells Other Fellow Policy

Omaha.—Omaha claims the champion salesman of the universe.

John Rosenzweie, debonair representative of a life insurance company, was arrested on a reckless driving charge, and when taken to the police station declared himself "happy to be arrested." While Desk Sergeant Payne arranged Rosenzwele's bond the salesman lectured him on the importance of life insurance, and before he was released had Payne's signature on the dotted line. Now he's waiting to meet the judge.

Recently after a collision with another machine Rosenzwele explained to the disgruntled motorist that it was a miracle he wasn't killed and then sold him a policy on the spot.

SUSPEND SALE OF "U. S. UNITS"

Chamber of Commerce Reveals Motor Stock Scheme.

Co-operating with the National Vigilance committee, the Chamber of Commerce recently halted the sale of so-called "bankers' shares" or "United States units" of the Ford Motor company of Canada, promoted by agents alleged to be working for Isaac Cchlank & Company of Minneapolis, Minn.

The plan of the agents, who appeared here using Schlank's name, was to take one share of the Ford Motor Company's stock, which can be purchased at any time for $450 and divide it into 100 units, selling each unit for $6.50. The return on the share would be $650, or $190 profit.

The Ford Motor Company of Canada recently announced that it had no connections with Schlank's scheme. In Minnesota, Schlank was recently called before the securities commission to explain his operations.

Schlank has refused to give credit rating bureaus information concerning his finances or furnish references. He is said to have ben connected at one time with a motion picture concern, which failed.

Other concerns, dealing in so-called "bankers' shares" have been refused permits in New York. The Vigilance committee issued a bulletin describing Schlank's scheme, following an investigation which was ordered after complaints has been received from various parts of the country.

The Vigilance committee has also issued circular bulletins dealing with the Keystone Automobile Service Corporation, of Rochester N. Y.; the Consolidated Listing Company, of St. Paul, Minn.; F. H. Porter, representing Western Lacquer corporation of Los Angeles, Cal.

$500,000 in Gold Stolen From California Mines

Sacramento, Cal.—More than $500,000 in gold was stolen from the deep mines of California during the last year, Gov. Friend W. Richardson announced in signing a "high grading" bill similar to an act in effect in Colorado. The measure is designed to throw greater safeguards around ore and provides a direct law under which mine thieves may be prosecuted.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Five dollars to his wife, Frieda, and more than $200,000 to James A. Who Has to Pay If Carpenters Get a Raise?

You would have to pay it — you and the rest of the folks.

The potter would have to pay it.
The grocer would have to pay it.
The clerk.
The stenographer.
The street car man.

They would all have to pay it. Everybody who builds would have to pay it. Everybody who rents. Everybody who deals with those who build or rent. Everybody. That is a fundamental economic fact.

Do you want to dig down deeper in your pocket to provide more money for a man who is already getting his ten dollars a day?

Is your salary going up, so you can afford to pay the carpenter more?

* * * * * *

This carpenters strike could be ended by arbitration. The contractors have agreed to arbitrate. The carpenters won't.

When the public wants a strike to end—it does end.

Boys And Guns

Henry, aged 17, was out in the woods with his 22-calibre rifle, indulging in target practice before an admiring audience. He did that almost every afternoon George, aged 11, heard the shooting and joined them.

"Here, George," said Henry, "let me shoot this old tin can from your head. Like William Tell, you know. And like the guide in 'The Covered Wagon.' I've already shot one from Johnny's. Didn't I, Johnny?"

George yielded. He liked to be the center of attention among older boys. Henry fired, and the little lad fell with a bullet in his brain. He died two hours later. Henry explained, in the juvenile court:

"I worked hard for that gun. Worked overtime at the brass works and bought it. Dad didn't know about it."

Guns—everlasting guns! They do almost as much harm in private hands in peaceful times as in the hands of fighting armies. They are especially dangerous in the hands of young boys. There is not one American boy in 10,000 that ever needs a gun, or that ought to have one before he is grown up. A boy in his 'teens with a rifle or pistol is almost sure to bring tragedy into the neighborhood sooner or later, from his example if not directly. Yet parents are careless, and authorities are careless, and the same old arms traffic keeps right on. It's time for the disarmament of the youngsters, at least.

Vacant Lots and Vegetables

During the war, when every vacant lot miraculously became a vegetable patch, a good deal was said and written to the effect that this particular war work would help to establish the very fine habit of gardening. Many families still make garden, but they are mostly the ones who would have done so anyhow. Very few converts to gardening were made, and today most vacant lots are once more given over to weeds or real estate signs.

In Toronto the war garden still thrives. The Toronto Vacant Lots Cultivation association helps to keep it going. There are 240 such gardens, most of which are worked by Italian residents of the city, families with small incomes or with men unemployed. They are raising their winter's supply of vegetables as well as providing fresh foodstuff for immediate consumption.

Such a project in a growing city cannot be permanent because the erection of new buildings encroaches on the garden sites. But the idea is an excellent one with many possible adaptations. Gardening opportunities for tenement dwellers have many advantages besides that of economy.

Where Divorce Starts

A judge who has heard 8,000 divorce cases says the cure for divorce is at the marriage altar. That is, it depends on the spirit in which men and women approach marriage.

"When young persons marry after thorough consideration, with honest purpose and honest motives, when they seek to build a home and rear a family and stick together through thick and thin till death ends all, there is little chance for divorce.

"When marriage results from puppy love, or passion, and lack of consideration, the couple soon become grist for the divorce mill."

It is probably true that frivolous, inconsiderate and hasty marriage is the real root of the divorce evil. And it need not be objected that if people think the question over very seriously they will not marry at all. Those fitted by character to assume the burdens of matrimony will probably marry just the same. Those who shy at serious consideration had better remain single than provide more material for the divorce courts.

But what's the use? Giving advice to those contemplating matrimony is nearly always a waste of time. People have always rushed into matrimony, and always will. The wonder is that so many of the marriages really turn out all right. Matrimony has a way of vindicating itself better than outsiders have any apparent right to expect.

The Radio Church

The old "outlaws' cabin," a stone building in the mountains near Tonopah, Nev., has become a church. Formerly it was a rendezvous for desperadoes planning stage hold-ups or raids on neighboring settlements, or meeting after a foray to share their booty. Now, with a new boom bringing gold miners again to the vicinity, it is a meeting house for Christian worship.

Moreover, it is a meeting house of a new kind, which might make the place notable without its black past. It is a "radio church." There is no pastor there, and no religious organization in the ordinary sense. The congregation is a loose, voluntary assemblage that comes to hear a church service 500 miles away. The local pastor is merely a radio receiving set.

There will be radio churches like this scattered in all the waste places of the world.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 6.—The rich man's son in New York is not always the wastrel. In fact this type is in the minority among them. Dads wise in their generation have learned to cast them adrift early "on their own." Most of them these days do not even live at home.

In a boarding house on Fifty-Second street are two millionaires' sons living three flights up and all the way back. Their allowance ended with their college diplomas. It used to be that the gleaners along the way that is white saw a harvest in every graduation.

And it was lively picking. Skilled sycophants had the stage set. Beckoning fire-flies fluttered in the offing and in the end Dad came through with a sizable check to save the family honor and son was put on a boat for the Riviera to forget.

It was discovered that the rich young man who skipped from college to lead a string of polo ponies about the country found everything in life deadly dull at 25. Almost everything after that smacked of anti-climax. And the finish of complete boredom in New York is usually one thing. Drugs.

Six years ago on the north shore of Long Island was a colossal house buried in 30 acres of foliage. Its inhabitants were sons of the rich brought there and placed under guard to be freed from the shackles of drug and liquor addiction. It closed two years ago.

Society editors say there is a dearth of rich young men who are eligible at social functions nowadays. They are too engrossed in getting on to frivol away precious hours at the tea table or in ball-room manoeuvres.

The truth is that the rich man's chiefest worry today is not the son. It is the daughter. He knows old barriers have been broken down. Flapperism, with its attendant freedom, may mean little or may mean much. Father awaits the verdict a bit nervously.

My own guess is that flapperism will result in nothing serious to young womanhood. The first flapper in our town rode a bicycle man fashion in bloomers through the main residential street. And a lot of coal scuttles and chairs were overturned in a collective rush to pull down window blinds. She was the first girl in town to smoke a cigarette and for a long time was referred to as "that woman." Today she is the mother of five children, a devoted wife and one of the most charitable women I know.

An optical store on Forty Second street offers a novelty for ladies who wear horn rimmed glasses. They offer rims in every shade to match the hair—including the henna.

Speaking of polo, a friend at my elbow who is using up my cigarettes and time, suggests that his idea of the topside in swank would be to drop into a sporting goods shop wearing a pith helmet and a sport shirt and inquire of the clerk, "What have you in polo mallets today?" I suppose he has the idea that would make him a prominent society man."

This same friend—who has a habit of reading over my shoulder—is an actor. He has been rehearsing in a play for three weeks and it had a run of four nights on Broadway yet he had the effrontery to ask me how long I expected people to stand for the drivel I write. I had a notion to tell him that, anyway, it had run longer than four nights. But I don't need to; he can read it here.

Still I rather like him. He is the only Handsome Ham I ever met who admits he never received a mash note in his entire stage career. And that, as Epictetus or one of the boys has said, is something.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—There is a law which forbids the sale, offering for sale, or display of obscene, lewd, lascivious and indecent books, magazines, or other publications, and pictures of similar character, in the District of Columbia. Just now there is an United States District attorney in Washington who is undertaking to enforce that law, and the drive he is making in particular against objectionable magazines is attracting attention in all parts of the country.

Word has gone forth that a large number of offensive weeklies and monthlies have been barred from the news-stands in Washington and inquiries are pouring in from other cities, seeking information as to how this has been accomplished.

Parent-Teachers Associations are especially interested, and organizations similar to the Watch and Ward Society of Boston, and there are indications that a nation-wide movement may result.

At the same time the report has been circulated that a censorship is being established in the nation's capital, and apparently there is something of a counter-movement on to stir up that element of the public which does not believe in censorship of any kind, whether of literature, art, the movies, or the stage. Just what progress this agitation is making is not known here; but its echoes have been heard.

Major Peyton Gordon—he is addressed by that title more often than as District Attorney—deprecates the censorship story and refutes it with an emphatic denial.

"I have had no thought whatever of setting up a censorship of magazines and similar publications," he says, "the idea is absurd because we have no censorship law. My attention was directed to the charge that many magazines were being sold here that were clearly of a character proscribed by the law. I made an investigation and found that this was true, whereupon I notified the news agencies and news-stand proprietors that future sales of such magazines would subject them to arrest and prosecution."

"I can't forbid their selling or offering for sale of these offensive publications. They don't have to take my word for it that any particular one violates the law. They can leave it to a jury if htey desire to make an issue of it.

"However, I must say that on the whole there has been manifested an entire willingness to cooperate in the suppression of periodical literature that ought to be suppressed. The news agencies and dealers generally have shown they will meet us half way."

Twenty-five on the List

To date Major Gordon has some twenty-five weeklies and monthlies on his proscribed list. This list has not been made public, primarily, he says, because he does not want to create a popular demand for the objectionable publications, for it always happens that to suppress a particular book or magazine is to stimulate its sale. The district attorney thinks that the bootlegging industry is large enough now, without creating a new branch.

Furthermore, he does not make his list public because he does not desire to invite a controversy with publishers, nor to do any injustice to those of them are ready and anxious to alter their magazines so as to come within the law.

The list has been furnished to the police. No arrests have as yet been made, but in two cases warrants were issued. These were not served when the offending dealers promised to make every effort to comply with the law in the future, for there is no disposition to make an example of

Feel All Out of Sorts?

IS a constant, nagging backache spoiling your summer? Do you get up lame and stiff—feel tired all day long? Are you so nervous and worn-out you cannot rest or relax?

Look, then, to your kidneys! You cannot be well unless your kidneys properly filter the blood. Sluggish kidneys allow poisons to accumulate and upset the whole system. When this happens you are apt to suffer nagging backache, sharp twinges of pain, lameness, soreness and stiffness, dizzy spells and annoying kidney irregularities.

Help your kidneys with a tested stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are used and recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor!

Here is East Liverpool Proof:

LOUIS H. COCHRANE, 243 Church Alley, says: "A cold settled on my kidneys and put them in a bad way. A sharp pain settled on the small of my back and would almost double me up. I got dizzy spells quite often and always felt tired and worn out. It was hard for me to pass the kidney secretions, for they burned and scalded. I used Doan's Pills from Larkin's Drug Store and all signs of the trouble left me."

TAX CONFEREES UNABLE TO AGREE

Inability of senate members of the tax bill conference committee to come to any agreement with the house members on the rates to be applied on sales of coal, natural gas, and manufactured articles, today blocked further progress of the extraordinary session of the legislature.

Senator Wright Hugus reported to the senate that the committee could agree on all other subjects and that two of the senators agreed with the unanimous opinion of the house comferees as to the coal, gas and manufacturers, but that agreement of a majority of the senate members had not been obtained.

On motion of Senator Helmick the senate voted to instruct its conferees to make a further effort to reach an agreement and then adjourned, while committee session was resumed.

The senate bill set a rate of 12 twenty fifths of one per cent on gross sales of coal, expected to raise $208,000 more than the present rate, two-fifths of one per cent. The house bill makes no change in the present rate. On natural gas, for which the present rate is two fifths of one per cent, the senate bill put a rate of one and three fifths per cent, expected to raise an additional $360,000 while the house bill rate of two and one half per cent would raise $630,000 more than present revenues. On manufactures the senate bill puts a rate of 226 thousandths of one per cent, to bring in additional revenues of $98,800, while the house bill made no change in the present rate of one fifth of one per cent.

Woman "Dream Book" Author Asks $6,000,000 in Infringement Suit

Miss Eva Nieman, Cincinnati, author of books on dreams, "personal magnetism," character reading and fortune telling, under the name of "Black and White," is suing the Plough Chemical Co., Memphis, Tenn., for $6,000,000 for alleged infringement of her works. Books given away by the company as advertisements have robbed her of her $25,000 yearly income, she contends. The company denounces the charges as untrue and absurd.

SAFETY DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Campaign for "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July Opens.

A campaign for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July in West Virginia will be carried on during June by the state fire marshal department, an activity that has been reflected the past several years by fewer accidents and fires on the great national holidays than in most of the other states.

The 1924 figures on fire losses from fireworks, firecrackers, etc., are not yet available, but in 1923 these losses for the United States amounted to $639,131, of which sum West Virginia contributed only $298. The national fire loss from the same cause in 1922 was $775,205, and the state's share $3,022.

State Fire Marshal C. L. Topping admits that fireworks probably never will be entirely abandoned as an avenue of escape for our enthusiasm on certain occasions, but he holds that the fireworks always should be under the supervision of experienced hands. He also warns that much of the fireworks contain prohibited explosives or poisonous ingredients.

"Figures on the financial loss fall, of course, to tell the whole story of the damage due to fireworks," said Mr. Topping, "for deplorable above all is the annual roll of the maimed and the disfigured and the not infrequent loss of life.

"It would seem that there can be little profit resulting to the retailer of fireworks when the heavy increase in insurance rates on the property and stock about which they are kept is considered," continued the fire marshal. "And, certainly, a profit of a few paltry dollars should not be placed above the safety of life, limb and property. So many lives have been lost, so many children maimed for life, and so much property values destroyed, that it would seem no other argument should be necessary to bring about a safe and sane Fourth.

"It is especially desirable that children should not be permitted to handle the death-dealing varieties of fireworks."

Potters Attend Outing.

Grand Jury To Meet.

George C. Holliday and George Hasson, both of Chester, are members of the grand jury which will open its sessions Monday at New Cumberland.

McKenzie Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lulu Mae McKenzie, 54, were held this afternoon at the Hanover United Presbyterian church. Burial was made in Locust Hill cemetery.

Conducting Bake Sale.

Queen Esther class of the First Presbyterian church is conducting a bake sale this afternoon in the McCutcheon drug store, Fifth street and Carolina avenue.

Prehistoric S. Carolina Mounds to Be Explored

Anderson, S. C.—Archeologists from several colleges in this state are to join an expedition being organized here for the purpose of exploring the great mounds on the Tugaloo and Seneca rivers, near here, which are said to have been built by a race that antedated the red men.

Some of the mounds, especially those along the Tugaloo river, are so large that they cover approximately three acres and are about 100 feet high.

Following an examination of several of the mounds, Andrew Todd of this city expressed the opinion their interiors are hollow and contain relics of an ancient race that only await the explorer's pick to bring them to light.

A large mound near Calhoun falls was demolished during the floods of 1908, revealing a number of pieces of pottery and other evidences of a past civilization.

The Brittannia trophy for the best flight of 1924 has been awarded Wing-Commander Goble and Flight-Lieutenant McIntyre of England, who flew round the Australian continent in 20 hours.

Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 196.

Tip For Beginners.

Solve this puzzle by comparing the synonyms listed in the "Horizontal" and "Vertical" columns with the number of spaces extending crosswise or downward on the diagram, as the case may be. If a word occurs to you meaning substantially the same as the synonym and the correct number of letters to fit in the spaces between its number and the first shaded stop following, write it in lightly. Work away the small words, the "easy" words, first, and they will give you plenty of clues to the difficult ones.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

ARE PRESENT NATIONS GOD'S KINGDOM?

millions now living will never die

Today's customs and practices condone profiteering, wink at dishonesty, and concede graft as eleverness. Such tactics, though condemned as a practice for all, are entrenched in the false doctrine that God rewards the powerful and that the potentates are of His appointment.

This order or arrangement of affairs is the breeder of present strife, its misunderstandings, its sufferings.

Eating like maggots at the foundation of civilization is this corruption in high places, ever growing and creating weakness by putridity.

In its wake comes God's kingdom.

A man writes in his last hour, "burn me up, scatter my ashes around the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor. Death has set me free."

How does he know that death has set him free? Nature, of which death is a part, has a habit of using the same material over and over again. The tree of this generation supplies mould to the tree that takes its place.

A man burned up today may go traveling, his spirit to continue his work and struggling in some other far-off sphere.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis is making a hard fight for the distressed stockholders of the St. Paul road. It wont' do any good.

When the time comes for a road to be reorganized and again yield a few millions to high finance, reorganized it is, and that is all there is about that.

Rioting in Shanghai, with machine guns used by foreign soldiers, is now blamed on the Russian government. Moscow sent money, you are told, to stir up the Chineese coolies. Moscow in these days covers a multitude of sins, but it doesn't explain all the violence and unrest, from Sofia to Pekin and from Pekin back to Moscow.

The war made men think. When they think they're dissatisfied and dangerous.

Seventy-five years ago, in New York, 18 merchants contributed $200 each to start the Emigrant Industrial Savings bank.

Last week the bank celebated its birthday by opening a mid-town branch, and in one working day, 9:30 a. m. to 7 p. m., 3,000 new depositors were added to the bank's list of 194,000.

That bank started with $3,000, now has deposits of $250,000,000, and holds gilt-edged securities, government bonds, etc., worth $287,000,000.

Flammarion is dead. He was an able astronomer, a useful man. He stirred up men's imaginations.

He had intellectual vision enabling him at least faintly to see the greatness of the universe.

When he was already an old man, in his flat, six flights (no elevator) on the other side of the Seine, he said to this writer:

"Man is barely at the threshold of knowledge. True, a shepherd of old, with his naked eye, could count only eight or 10 stars in the Pleiades, and we count 45,000 great suns. But we know nothing."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, head of Columbia university, says laws forbidding teaching evolution, and similar laws that would put an iron band around young men's minds, are "cowardice." And that is what a Frenchman would call "LE MOT JUSTE."

For legislators to say "you musn't examine that," is like a timid person running away from something that looks like a ghost, for fear of going near it.

In addition to being cowardly, it is irreligious, unChristian, and a defi-

HIGH COURT DECISION ON RELIGIOUS SCHOOL IS SOUGHT BY CRABBE

Attorney General, Acting Upon Request of J. H. Brookes, President of Board of Education, Promises Ruling on Ministerial Association's Proposal to Use School Buildings.

OHIO LEGAL ADVISER WILL EXAMINE OPINION OF U. S. SUPREME TRIBUNAL

Trades and Labor Council Fails to Act Upon Motion to Protest Against Pastors' Request Because of Constitutional Inhibition of Injection of Religious Issues.

Legality of the proposal of the Ministerial association to use public schools of the city for classes in religious education probably hinges upon a recent ruling by the United States supreme court, judging from advices from Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, of Columbus, received today by Attorney J. H. Brookes, president of the board of education.

Ohio's legal adviser, replying to Mr. Brookes' telegram in which the board chieftain requested a ruling, said there would be delay pending receipt of a copy of the supreme court's opinion.

The attorney general's letter follows:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your telegram. In reply beg to advise you that the matter to which you refer is being given consideration, but will be delayed until this department is able to procure and examine a copy of an opinion recently rendered by the supreme court of the United States, which has some bearing upon your question."

Trades and Labor Action.

The school board president called upon the attorney general for a ruling after Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent of public instructions, declined to express an opinion.

Because the constitution of the organization precludes the injection of religious issues into discussion, Trades and Labor council has decided to withhold action on a proposal to protest against the use of public school buildings for Bible classes, it was announced today by its leaders.

For this reason, no action was taken at a recent meeting on the request of the Ministerial association which is expected to be acted upon by the board of education at the session on Thursday, June 18.

A motion urging that the central labor body disprove the plan was made, but when the constitutional inhibition was cited the trades assembly

D. F. White Sues For Commission in Real Estate Sale

D. F. White, East End real estate dealer, has filed a petition in common pleas court at Lisbon, seeking $2,525 commission from William Reed in the recent sale of a four-story Diamond business block to Altman Brothers.

The petition declares that on March 25, 1925 the plaintiff found a buyer for the property owned by Mr. Reed. His commission on the sale of the property was to have been five percent on the first $1,000 and two and one-half percent on the balance, White says. The commission was never paid and Mr. White, through his counsel, Lones, Hill & Davidson, is asking that the court order a settlement.

SITUATION IN SHANGHAI REMAINS SERIOUS; RIOTING REPORTED GENERAL

Despite Appeals, United States Intends to Take no Precipitate Action in China.

LONDON, June 6.—The situation in Shanghai remains serious and rioting is general, according to information which reached London today from Shanghai.

Great Britain favors enlarging the scope of the forthcoming conference in regard to Chinese tariffs so that it would include a general consideration of China's welfare.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Despite widespread disorders and fighting in China—described in reports to the state department as of Russian Soviet origin—and appeals to the United States to lend its good offices to effect a settlement, this government intends to take no precipitate action in the Chinese situation, it was declared officially here today.

Through its diplomatic and consular representatives in China, the United States has united with other powers in conference with Chinese officials, and American marines have been landed at Shanghai for the protection of American lives and interests when they were placed in jeopardy by Chinese disturbances. These steps, officials said today, are the only ones now contemplated by the government.

Expect Further Disturbances.

235 ARE DEAD AS HEAT WAVE SHOWS SIGNS OF SUBSIDING

Today's Deaths Expected to Send Total Far Higher.

Showers Promised Today and Monday in Ohio Valley.

Overcast skies at noon today, promising rain, brought the first relief from the heat wave in East Liverpool, while death and the relentless torridity stalked hand in hand in other sections of Ohio and the remaining scorched states from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard as the unbroken week of sizzling temperatures drew to a close.

The weather bureau at Washington at noon today, in the forecast for next week, predicted a break in the heat wave Monday or Tuesday north of the Ohio river. Indications are for thunder showers, the forecast said.

Hope of relief from record temperatures in other districts was still remote as the thermometer mounted to new heights. New victims were added hourly to the death-list, already past the 200 mark. Hospitals were crowded with the stricken, while overworked physicians and nurses struggled to give aid to the prostrated. With 235 dead at dawn, today's deaths were expected to send the total far higher before sunset.

106 Degrees at Springfield.

Twenty-three new deaths were added yesterday and last night to New York's list. Four were dead in Chicago with records for June temperatures broken and still higher marks expected this afternoon.

Eleven died in Ohio, bringing that state total to 34. Springfield recorded a temperature of 106.

Five deaths brought Detroit's total to eleven in the hottest weather in a half century, with 96 degrees. Flint and Saginaw had temperatures of 105.

Another death at dawn added to yesterday's twelve brought the hot wave fatalities to 23 in Philadelphia, where the thermometer stood at 100 yesterday.

County Roads Damaged.

The heat wave has damaged practically all macadam roads and at least one paved highway in Columbiana county.

"Dips" Following Circus Find Three Victims Here

Pickpockets robbed three circus fans at Columbian park yesterday, two of them losing $40 each and the third $35. Police are holding three suspects, all Negroes.

While Stanley Baker of Newell and Elias Wright, 1200 St. George street, were in the side show last evening, they lost their pocketbooks containing $40 each. Neither of the two men wore coats and carried their purses in their hip pockets. The theft was reported to Chief of Police McDermott a few minutes afterwards.

Later in the evening, Chief McDermott and Patrolman Roth arrested "Sonny" Craig and Homer Smith, both colored, and claiming to be residents of Midland. They denied the charge but were lodged in jail pending an investigation.

Benton Kirk, Civil war veteran and senior commander of General Lyon post No. 44, G. A. R., lost $35 in the jam around the ticket wagon. He failed to report his loss to the police, however.

Craig and Smith, with Ray Jones, also colored, who was arrested by Patrolman Lister, Friday morning, are being held in jail for a few days. Circus detectives told Chief McDermott yesterday that they were making every effort to weed out suspicious looking characters who follow the show from town to town.

Loeb, Bobby Franks' Slayer, Insane, Says Warden at Joliet

JOLIET ILL., June 6.—"Loeb is a typical insane case."

This was the opinion of Warden John Whitman following a conference today with Dr. Walter B. Martin, state psychiatrist, who had the slayer of Bobby Franks under observation since Monday.

"Just how long this condition will exist is impossible to say," Warden Whitman said. "It may be corrected within a few days and it may run along for an indefinite period.

"However, there is no thought of trnasferring Loeb from the hospital here either to the new prison or to any other institution.

"At present there are nine other cases of prisoners who are suffering from mental disorders similar to Loeb's. All of these men are being treated here.

"We are fully equipped to handle Loeb's case. He could not receive better or more effective care at the state hospital for criminal insane at Chester."

Myers Lake park at Canton, is the mecca today for potters and members of their families from various sections of eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia at the first annual reunion and outing under the auspices of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

A special train of 14 coaches, carrying 1,000 persons, left East Liverpool at 7:45 o'clock this morning. Stops were made at Wellsville and Salineville where additional passengers were taken aboard. Fully 2,000 others, it has been estimated left East Liverpool by automobiles. All plants were idle for the day.

WAGE PROBLEM BLOCKS PEACE IN STRIKE OF CARPENTERS

Contractors and Employes Agree on Working Conditions.

PARLEY IS HELD

Strikers Reject Employers' Proposal to Arbitrate Differences.

Wage differences alone prevent settlement of the strike of 125 carpenters, in effect in the East Liverpool district since May 1, it was announced today following a conference yesterday afternoon between representatives of the workers and the contractors.

With Arnold Bill, of Cleveland, national representative of the carpenters' union, present, the conferees agreed upon all working conditions, but a stalemate resulted when the wage question was discussed.

Strikers Stand Pat.

The strikers stood pat on their demands for a wage increase from $10 to $11 per day, while the contractors, who have refused to concede this pay boost, expressed a willingness to submit the differences to arbitration. The men, however, declined to arbitrate, it was said.

"We are willing to accept any reasonable suggestion looking toward a settlement of the wage question,' said a spokesman for the contractors today. "We have offered to arbitrate, but the carpenters have declined the proposal."

It was announced that another conference may be held next week, following receipt of advices from the national chieftain of the carpenters. Representative Bill, who has returned to Cleveland, will advise the executive president of the result of Friday's parley and await his instructions, it was declared.

BURGESS TAKES POTTER OFFICE

Ex-Tariff Commissioner Vice-president of U. S Association

William Burgess, Morrisville, Pa., member of the United States tariff commission for more than four years, who recently resigned, has been named first vice-president of the United States Potters' association, it was announced today.

Burgess, regarded as a tariff expert in view of his experience on the tariff board, will represent the general ware manufacturers on matters pertaining particularly to tariffs on foreign-made products.

For several years prior to the outbreak of the war, Burgess was connected with the United States Potters association, holding the place of first vice-president. When the war was declared officials at Washington sought his services and he became one of the $1 per year men in governmental work, but at the same time retained his position with the potters' association.

With the election of President Harding and the return of the Republican party to power in 1920, Burgess, in view of his efficient services during the war, was appointed a member of the tariff commission. He held this place until a few weeks ago when he resigned after being induced to return to the United States Potters' association.

Burgess succeeds E. E. Salisbury, president of the Onandago Pottery company, Syracuse N. Y., as vice-president of the United States Potters' association. Salisbury recently resigned.

Burgess will probably establish his office in Trenton, N. J., but will work in Washington, East Liverpool, Trenton and other pottery centers.

TAX CONFEREES UNABLE TO AGREE

Inability of senate members of the tax bill conference committee to come to any agreement with the house members on the rates to be applied on sales of coal, natural gas, and manufactured articles, today blocked further progress of the extraordinary session of the legislature.

Senator Wright Hugus reported to the senate that the committee could agree on all other subjects and that two of the senators agreed with the unanimous opinion of the house conferees as to the coal, gas and manufacturers, but that agreement of a majority of the senate members had not been obtained.

On motion of Senator Helmick the senate voted to instruct its conferees to make a further effort to reach an agreement and then adjourned, while committee session was resumed.

The senate bill set a rate of 12 twenty fifths of one per cent on gross sales of coal, expected to raise $208,000 more than the present rate, two-fifths of one per cent. The house bill makes no change in the present rate. On natural gas, for which the present rate is two fifths of one per cent, the senate bill put a rate of one and three fifths per cent, expected to raise an additional $360,000 while the house bill rate of two and one half per cent would raise $630,000 more than present revenues. On manufactures the senate bill puts a rate of 226 thousandths of one per cent, to bring in additional revenues of $98,800, while the house bill made no change in the present rate of one fifth of one per cent.

Woman "Dream Book" Author Asks $6,000,000 in Infringement Suit

Miss Eva Nieman, Cincinnati, author of books on dreams, "personal magnetism," character reading and fortune telling, under the name of "Black and White," is suing the Plough Chemical Co., Memphis, Tenn., for $6,000,000 for alleged infringement of her works. Books given away by the company as advertisements have robbed her of her $25,000 yearly income, she contends. The company denounces the charges as untrue and absurd.

SAFETY DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Campaign for "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July Opens.

A campaign for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July in West Virginia will be carried on during June by the state fire marshal department, an activity that has been reflected the past several years by fewer accidents and fires on the great national holidays than in most of the other states.

The 1924 figures on fire losses from fireworks, firecrackers, etc., are not yet available, but in 1923 these losses for the United States amounted to $639,131, of which sum West Virginia contributed only $298. The national fire loss from the same cause in 1922 was $775,205, and the state's share $3,022.

State Fire Marshal C. L. Topping admits that fireworks probably never will be entirely abandoned as an avenue of escape for our enthusiasm on certain occasions, but he holds that the fireworks always should be under the supervision of experienced hands. He also warns that much of the fireworks contain prohibited explosives or poisonous ingredients.

"Figures on the financial loss fall, of course, to tell the whole story of the damage due to fireworks," said Mr. Topping, "for deplorable above all is the anual roll of the maimed and the disfigured and the not infrequent loss of life.

"It would seem that there can be little profit resulting to the retailer of fireworks when the heavy increase in insurance rates on the property and stock about which they are kept is considered," continued the fire marshal. "And, certainly, a profit of a few paltry dollars should not be placed above the safety of life, limb and property. So many lives have been lost, so many children maimed for life, and so much property values destroyed, that it would seem no other argument should be necessary to bring about a safe and sane Fourth.

"It is especially desirable that children should not be permitted to handle the death-dealing varieties of fireworks."

Prehistoric S. Carolina Mounds to Be Explored

Anderson, S. C.—Archeologists from several colleges in this state are to join an expedition being organized here for the purpose of exploring the great mounds on the Tugaloo and Seneca rivers, near here, which are said to have been built by a race that antedated the red men.

Some of the mounds, especially those along the Tugaloo river, are so large that they cover approximately three acres and are about 100 feet high.

Following an examination of several of the mounds, Andrew Todd of this city expressed the opinion their interiors are hollow and contain relics of an ancient race that only await the explorer's pick to bring them to light.

A large mound near Calhoun falls was demolished during the floods of 1908, revealing a number of pieces of pottery and other evidences of a past civilization.

The Brittannia trophy for the best flight of 1924 has been awarded Wing-Commander Goble and Flight-Lieutenant McIntyre of England, who flew round the Australian continent in 30 hours.

50 LADS LEARN TO SWIM HERE

Two Hundred and Thirty Six Enroll in Y. M. Campaign

The "learn to swim" campaign for boys, conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., this week, was the most successful affair of its kind in the history of the organization.

A total of 236 youths, 10 years of age and over, were enrolled for the week of instruction which began last Monday and ended yesterday. In all 711 lessons were given, 50 lads learning the art of swimming at least 50 feet in the examinations conducted Friday. Each lad swimming 50 feet or more will receive a Y. M. C. A. button. Practically every lad enrolled in the class learned to swim at least 10 feet.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Three more deaths this morning brought the toll of the heat wave to 31 deaths, in and about New York City, for the past six days during which torrid temperatures have prevailed.

Washington Swelters.

WASHINGTON ,June 6.— Heat records continued to be smashed here today as the thermomter began another climb to the temperature of 107 degrees registered on Pennsylvania avenue Friday afternoon.

The only hope for relief held out by the United States weather bureaus was probable frosts in the northwestern states, with resulting cooler weather in the eastern states.

Two deaths due to the heat occurred during the past 24 hours and there were scores of prostrations. Government workers working in temporary wooden buildings are working only part time and schedules in other departments have been reduced to prevent suffering among the thousands of federal employes.

Ohio Fears Water Famine.

CLEVELAND, June 6.—With record high temperatures recorded in Cleveland and many other Ohio cities yesterday, the people of the state today faced a continuance of the hot wave that has lasted seven days and claimed 34 persons as victims. A water famine was adding to the discomfort of many, and unless rains come soon, will prove a real menace, as well as inflict a loss running high into the millions on Ohio farmers.

Eleven deaths yesterday throughout the state were attributed to the heat. Of these two were in Cleveland, three in Steubenville and one each in Youngstown, Warren, Marietta, Akron, Toledo and Conneaut.

More than a dozen cases of heat prostration were reported.

Springfield, according to official reports, was the hottest point in the state. Government thermometers there registered 106. Fremont and Lancaster sweltered under a high of 101, and Marietta and St. Marys 100.

Relief is Promised.

BOSTON, June 6.—Relief from the devastating heat wave that had taken a toll of 22 lives in New England was promised by the weather bureau today.

Cloudy with thunder showers, was the prediction for tonight and Sunday with a welcome "somewhat cooler Sunday afternoon."

Boston was the hottest spot in New England today with the mercury climbing about the 86 degree mark and Eastport, Me., the coolest with a 48.

Both Sides Rest In Hayner Liquor Conspiracy Case

CLEVELAND, June 6.—The government and defense have rested and after arguments by attorneys on both sides Monday the sensational Hayner conspiracy case will go to the jury.

Warren E. Barnett, prominent Columbus attorney and politician, was the last of the three defendants to take the witness stand yesterday and deny that he had any part in securing the release of 22,000 cases of Hayner whisky for northern Ohio bootleggers.

Joshua E. Russell, suspended prohibition director, and Merle B. Copeland, executive clerk, have given emphatic denials of complicity in the plot.

ance of biblical command to refrain from investigating the theories of evolution and all other theories.

Plainly and emphatically, the Bible says, in first Thessalonians, fifth chapter, twenty-first verse:

"Prove all things; hold fast that which is good."

This means, "examine for yourself." It means that you are to investigate all things, not a few of them, and hold fast that which is good.

It doesn't say that you must have somebody tell you what is good and not good, while you swallow the decision whole.

Scraping along a submerged plateau, under the Pacific, the great dredge of a scientific expedition brings up strange fish.

They include long-nosed Macruroids, snake tailed brotulids, gigantic eels with black beaks.

And the dredge brings up most interesting dwarf sharks, only eight inches long, with bright green eyes.

Science asks this question:

"Do you think each of these creatures and 10,000 kinds of beetles, millions of different microbes, birds, butterflies, etc., were all made separately, as an independent act of the Divine Will, all in six days?"

Did the Lord at one time decide to make a dwarf shark, eight inches long? Or did all these things come through evolution, in the course of ages, in obedience to a wise plan?

Think what you please. But don't let anyone forbid you to think and decide for yourself.

"Prove all things.

Coningsby Dawson, writer, mourns because women are set aside, "shelved," at an age when their brothers and husbands begin to be interesting. He says a woman is, or ought to be, "at the height of her charm after 40."

Various things work against women and prevent their having adrent young admirers, as Ninon de E'Enclos had at the age of 70. The children come too close together in many cases, and that wears women out.

The husbands are dull, and after a day's work their talk is frightfully tiresome. No food for the wife's mind. Also, women have lived on the earth for 500,000 years as drudges, with a small percentage kept as toys. They literally have not had a chance.

But times and conditions are changing. Women vote, families are smaller, you cannot tell a woman from her granddaughter when their backs are turned. And often when they face you one is about as young as the other, and the grandmother has, spiritually, the younger face.

COOLIDGE OFF ON LONG TRIP

President Leaves Capital for Minneapolis- St. Paul.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Coolidge will leave Washington this afternoon on the longest journey he has made during his occupancy of the White House—1,200 miles overland to Minneapolis-St. Paul, where, on Monday, he will participate in the Norse-American centennial celebration.

Accompanying the president to the twin cities will be Mrs. Coolidge, secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg, Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin; Secretary to the President Everett Sanders, Colonel S. A. Cheney, military aide; Major J. F. Coupal, presidential physician; James C. White, secretary to Senator Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, and E. C. Geisser, the president's personal stenographer.

Despite Mr. Coolidge's efforts, the presidential party will make the trip on what amounts to a special train. The president had intended to travel on a regular train just as he did to Chicago last December, but the railroad company, on the plea of "safety and convenience of operation," has made up a "second section" to the Capital Limited for the Coolidge entourage. The train, which leaves Washington shortly after 3 o'clock, consists of the president's car, an observation car, a dining car, a club car and a press car.

The president's stay in the wheat belt, though of but one day's duration, will be filled with activity. Arriving at St. Paul Sunday night, the party will be the overnight guests of Secretary Kellogg. At noon Monday, the president will attend a luncheon in Minneapolis, tendered by the Norse-American centennial committee. Two hours later, he will deliver his prepared address at the state fair grounds and return immediately to St. Paul, where, at the state capitol, he will hold a public reception for the citizens of Minnesota. At about midnight he will entrain for Washington, arriving home Wednesday morning.

Uncle Sam Should be Tolerant in War Debt, Says France

PARIS, June 6. — United States should be tolerant toward France in the matter of France's war debt to America, in the opinion of France, it was indicated today in a statement made by the finance ministry.

"The balancing of the budget is the problem of first importance," the finance ministry said. "After Finance Minister Caillaux finishes that then he will take up the monetary situation, for which, he frankly admits, he must appeal to the foreign powers, especially the United States."

High Court Decision

decided to remain aloof from the controversy.

Qualifications for Good Judge

Formal declaration that the South Columbiana County Bar association's only interest in the establishment of a municipal court in East Liverpool, which becomes effective January 1, next by legislative act, was in obtaining the right man for judge, was made at the labor meeting by Atty. W. F. Lones and F. E. Grosshans, who were invited to address the delegates.

"All lawyers do not make good judges," said Lones. "We should get the best material that can be obtained."

Four qualifications for a good judge in Lones' opinion are:

1. Knowledge of the law.
2. Good judgment.
3. Knowledge of how to apply the law.
4. Impartiality in administering the law.

Bar Association's Interest.

"The bar association has taken no action on the selection of a municipal judge except to appoint a committee to confer with Trades and Labor Council and kindred organizations which were active in urging enactment of the law, as a means of obtaining the best results," said Lones.

Declaring that neither he nor any member of his firm is a candidate for the judgeship, the lawyer said that his only interest, and the only interest of the bar association, was in getting the right man for the place.

"I do not know who he is and I am not in a position to say who he should be," Lones asserted.

All lawyers are interested in obtaining the best results from an efficient organization of the municipal court, the speaker said, adding that any ideas on the functioning of the court would be subject to the approval or rejection of the people.

Attorney Grosshans explained the law and reaffrimed the declarations of Lones on the interest of the bar association in the establishment of the court.

In answer to a question propounded by Councilman-at-Large Thomas Farrall, who attended the session, the attorneys said that the city council has no authority to make changes in the salary of municipal officials during their term in office. In other words, if council readjusts the salary of the mayor, because of the establishment of the municipal court, legislation to this end must be enacted before the choice of the voters at the November election qualifies.

Another Darwin Arises in Defense Of Evolution Theory

Copyright, 1925, by I. N. S.

CRIPP'S CORNER, SUSSEX, England, June 6.—Another Darwin arose today in the defense of evolution. It was Major Leonard Darwin, 75-year-old son of Charles Darwin, father of the theory.

The son of the famous scientist has shown keen interest in the approaching trial of John Scopes, Tennessee schoolmaster, on the charge of teaching evolution. He smiled when asked his opinion. But his reply crackled with youthful vigor.

Seated in a huge arm chair in his Tudor home five miles from the railroad, Major Darwin gave his views in an exclusive interview.

"This attack on evolution is a retrograde movement," he said. "But it is only a passing phase which will fade away. No scientific man disputes evolution, although he may argue in regard to the manner in which evolution came about."

College Sophomore Drowns.

TIFFIN, June 6.—Preparations were being made today to ship the body of Roscoe Kuhn, sophomore at Heidelberg university, to his former home in Shelby. Kuhn was drowned late yesterday at Lake Mohawk, a summer resort near here.

PROPOSED FARE BOOST TOPIC

Franchise Committee and Newell Trolley Manager Confer.

Members of council's franchise committee conferred with Fred B. Lawrence of the Newell Street Railway and Bridge company at the city hall, last night, on the proposed increase of from five to seven cents in street car fare on the Newell-East Liverpool line.

The Newell company has filed an application with the Interstate Commerce commission seeking permission to advance the fare beginning July 1. A similar application has been filed with the county court at New Cumberland.

In order to establish a uniform rate over the entire line, thes treet car company seeks to collect the seven-cent fare in East Liverpool. Lawrence told members of council that only $155 had been collected on the East Liverpool section of the line last year. With the seven-cent fare in effect, this would mean added revenue of only about $60 per year in the city. He also pointed out that considerable inconvenience in the collection of fares would result if the increase were refused in East Liverpool and permitted for interstate travel.

The committee took the proposition under advisement and will meet early next week to draft recommendations to council, which meets next Friday night. Councilman Thomas Farrall is chairman of this committee, while Solons Fred Eardley and James Larcombe are the other members.

Bishop Rogers

ceived the opportunity to go to college.

But Bishop Rogers did not receive his chance for a college education until he was 34 years old. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1911 and the degree of doctor of divinity the same year from Union Theological seminary in New York. In 1912 he also received the degree of doctor of divinity from the General Theological seminary of New York, although his pastoral work was started in 1911 when he was made rector of St. Thomas' church in Detroit.

In 1913 he became assistant rector of Calvary church of Pittsburgh, and in 1916 accepted the post as rector of St. John's church in New Jersey, N. J., which position he held until called to be dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, in 1920.

At St. Paul's Bishop Rogers became known to thousands of people throughout the country through his radio sermons which were broadcast alternately morning and evening from the church. Through these sermons he became widely known as the "Radio Pastor of Detroit." These radio sermons were partly responsible for his being elected as bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Ohio.

Grandfather Was Baptist Preacher.

Bishop Rogers has a number of various denominations mingled in his heritage. His grandfather was a well known Baptist preacher. There is also a mixture of Puritan, Quaker and Anglican ancestry in his stock.

The new bishop made his first formal appearance in the diocese at the diocesan convention which assembled at Cleveland May 12 and 13.

According to the plan announced by Bishop William Andrew Leonard, Bishop Rogers' will have general charge of the work of the diocese outside of Cleveland and Gambier. Cleveland is the seat of the cathedral church, while Gambier is the seat of Kenyon college and Bexley Hall, the diocesan theological seminary.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 6.—The stock market was fairly active and steady in the short session today, with speculative attention concentrated in the oil stocks. A few of the motor and rubber company stocks continued to move forward, as also did the specialty stocks which have been prominent in the trading since the first of the week.

The financial district was filled with favorable propaganda relative to the oil stocks and the oil industry in general. Pennsylvania crude oil was marked up 25 cents a barrel for the best grades and 15 cents a barrel for Sommerset and Cabell. Standard oil companies advanced gasoline prices as high as 2½ cents a barrel in some of the western markets.

Oil stocks received the bulk of the buying orders in the first hour and prices moved forward a point or more in the most active issues including Pacific, Mid Continent, Pure Oil, Marland, Sinclair, Shell Union, Skelly and the Standard Oils.

Chandler Motor set a fast pace in the motor group. Buying demand for this stock was unusually heavy and the price advanced briskly to a new high at 39, up three points. Mack Trucks and the Maxwell stocks were unusually inactive. Moon Motors pushed up to a new high above 33. Fisk was the feature of the tire stocks, with an advance to a new high around 18.

Coca Cola and American Ice, the hot weather specialties, sold at new high prices of 122 and 115, respectively.

Week end business reports emphasized the unfavorable effect of the intense heat, both on the crops and on domestic trade.

Situation In Shanghai

have reached the government through Chinese students and associations in this country, but officials do not believe there is any necessity for further action by the United States in the light of events to date.

Reports to the state department today indicated that the situation in Shanghai is clearing up, but the opinion prevailed, nevertheless, that further disturbances were likely to occur on account of the Bolshevist influence and the anti-foreign and anti-Christian sentiment thus inspired.

With its seething mass of four hundred millions, China is now a fertile field for "Red" propaganda. Torn by almost continuous civil war for the past 10 years, the populace can be easily enflamed and the smouldering unrest might easily turn to active and dangerous eruption.

SHANGHAI, China, June 6.—The food situation in Shanghai was becoming increasingly difficult today as a result of the Chinese strikes against foreigners. Goods and flour are virtually the only provisions obtainable.

Authorities were investigating reports the striking Chinese are smuggling into the city Russian hand grenades.

EDITORS REPLY TO CRABBE BAN

MacFadden Publications Issues Statement on Ohio Edict.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Aroused by the action of Attorney General C. C. Crabbe of Ohio in including three Macfadden Publications, "True Stories," "True Romances" and "Dream World," in a list of alleged immoral publications, the editorial offices of the Macfadden Publications today issued the following statement:

"The action of Attorney General Crabbe in including True Stories, True Romances and Dream World in his proscribed list is quite unintentional, based upon a mistake which he will no doubt be glad to correct. An examination of these publications will immediately disclose this fact. The Macfadden publications are in no sense immoral publications but instead have received the indorsement of clergymen, public service workers and other leaders in public welfare work all over the country. Millions of readers of these magazines will find it difficult to understand how Attorney General Crabbe could have been led into making such a mistake and the only answer is that he has failed to read these magazines.

"True Stories Magazine and its sister publications, True Romances and Dream World, are the only magazines in this country published with the educational purpose of presenting the truths of life in that form adopted by moral and religious teachers. To this end we long ago organized an editorial board, composed of leading clergymen of various denominations, including the Rev. Dr. Ralph Welles Keeler of the Methodist Episcopal church, as its chairman. Dr. Keeler is one of the best known clergymen in America.

"It is inconceivable that Attorney General Crabbe could have read these magazines as he could not have possibly regarded as immoral the stories to which these earnest, God-fearing men have given their full endorsement.

"When this board was organized it was clothed with full authority. No impediments were placed in its way. It has full power to alter or reject any material which it regards as unwise. No other publishing house in the world is doing this or has ever entrusted any such authority to anyone outside of its publishers or editors. The policy adopted by this board of clergymen upon its organization was stated in writing to be as follows:

"We will not sanction the publication of any story in these magazines which we would not recommend to the young people of our congregations.

"In the face of such a policy adhered to rigidly over a period approaching two years does it not immediately become clear that a mistake has been made, that a grave injustice has been done the Macfadden publications and that these three magazines should be removed from the list prepared by the attorney general of the state of Ohio at once, and finally."

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 196.

Tip For Beginners.

Solve this puzzle by comparing the synonyms listed in the "Horizontal" and "Vertical" columns with the number of spaces extending crosswise or downward on the diagram, as the case may be. If a word occurs to you meaning substantially the same as the synonym and the correct number of letters to fit in the spaces between its number and the first shaded stop following, write it in lightly. Work away the small words, the "easy" words, first, and they will give you plenty of clues to the difficult ones.

ARE PRESENT NATIONS GOD'S KINGDOM?

millions now living will never die

Today's customs and practices condone profiteering, wink at dishonesty, and concede graft as cleverness. Such tactics, though condemned as a practice for all, are entrenched in the false doctrine that God rewards the powerful and that the potentates are of His appointment.

This order or arrangement of affairs is the breeder of present strife, its misunderstandings, its sufferings.

Eating like maggots at the foundation of civilization is this corruption in high places, ever growing and creating weakness by putridity.

In its wake comes God's kingdom.

Your motor oil should stay out of your exhaust pipe. It should seal itself in your motor by sealing up the places through which it might escape—the spaces between the pistons and cylinder walls.

W. L. FOGO'S HAT IN MAYOR RING

Four-cornered Race Certain in G. O. P. Primary.

W. L. Fogo, of Broadway, today announced his intention of entering the mayoralty race at the Republican primary on August 11.

Fogo's declaration swells the field in the mayor race to four contenders. In the order of their announcements they are: J. M. Kenney, A. J. White, C. C. Ewing and W. L. Fogo.

Fogo has held only one municipal office here, that of mayor. He occupied the city's chief executive's chair from 1902 until 1908, three consecutive terms.

He was largely instrumental in making Broadway one of the beauty spots of the city, his backers point out. He is now head of the real estate and insurance firm of W. L. Fogo & Son.

With the exception of one, all announcements thus far are centered on the mayoralty. The lone petition outside of this particular field has been filed by Clyde Baker, who aspires to the chair of council president.

Saved from Operation

Toledo, Ohio — "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only saved me from an operation, but also relieved me of all weakness and made me well and strong. I had given up hopes of ever getting better. When I reached middle life I went all to pieces, my nerves gave way. I suffered from backache and other pains. I got so weak and nervous that I had no power or strength left. My druggist advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I began to feel better by the time I had taken one bottle. I think I took about seven bottles and was completely restored to health, in every way. I can recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women of middle age after what it has done for me."—Mrs. Mary Lambert, 422 Tenth St.

Obtain Dr. Pierce's Prescription now, in liquid or tablets, from your druggist or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo. Write for free medical advice.

SUSPEND SALE OF "U. S. UNITS"

Chamber of Commerce Reveals Motor Stock Scheme.

Co-operating with the National Vigilance committee, the Chamber of Commerce recently halted the sale of so-called "bankers' shares" or "United States units" of the Ford Motor company of Canada, promoted by agents alleged to be working for Isaac Cchlank & Company of Minneapolis, Minn.

The plan of the agents, who appeared here using Schlank's name, was to take one share of the Ford Motor Company's stock, which can be purchased at any time for $450 and divide it into 100 units, selling each unit for $6.50. The return on the share would be $650, or $190 profit.

The Ford Motor Company of Canada recently announced that it had no connections with Schlank's scheme. In Minnesota, Schlank was recently called before the securities commission to explain his operations.

Schlank has refused to give credit rating bureaus information concerning his finances or furnish references. He is said to have ben connected at one time with a motion picture concern, which failed.

Other concerns, dealing in so-called "bankers' shares" have been refused permits in New York. The Vigilance committee issued a bulletin describing Schlank's scheme, following an investigation which was ordered after complaints has been received from various parts of the country.

The Vigilance committee has also issued circular bulletins dealing with the Keystone Automobile Service Corporation, of Rochester N. Y.; the Consolidated Listing Company, of St. Paul, Minn.; F. H. Porter, representing Western Lacquer corporation of Los Angeles, Cal.

Autos Crash; He Sells Other Fellow Policy

Omaha.—Omaha claims the champion salesman of the universe.

John Rosenzweie, debonair representative of a life insurance company, was arrested on a reckless driving charge, and when taken to the police station declared himself "happy to be arrested." While Desk Sergeant Payne arranged Rosenzweie's bond the salesman lectured him on the importance of life insurance, and before he was released had Payne's signature on the dotted line. Now he's waiting to meet the judge.

Recently after a collision with another machine Rosenzweie explained to the disgruntled motorist that it was a miracle he wasn't killed and then sold him a policy on the spot.

Who Has to Pay If Carpenters Get a Raise?

You would have to pay it — you and the rest of the folks.

The potter would have to pay it.
The grocer would have to pay it.
The clerk.
The stenographer.
The street car man.

They would all have to pay it. Everybody who builds would have to pay it. Everybody who rents. Everybody who deals with those who build or rent. Everybody. That is a fundamental economic fact.

Do you want to dig down deeper in your pocket to provide more money for a man who is already getting his ten dollars a day?

Is your salary going up, so you can afford to pay the carpenter more?

* * * * * *

This carpenters strike could be ended by arbitration. The contractors have agreed to arbitrate. The carpenters won't.

DIVORCE COURT HOLDS SESSION

Decrees Handed Down by Judge Moore at Hearing Friday.

The divorce action filed by Mary Ann Snyder against her husband, James G. Snyder, on April 9, has been heard by Judge James G. Moore, and a decree has been awarded the plaintiff on the grounds of extreme cruelty. The custody of a minor child has also been awarded the mother.

Snyder has been ordered to pay his former wife $2 per week for the support of the child, and each is to have a half interest in real estate being bought on land contract upon which there is a balance of $160 due. Snyder has been ordered by the court to pay this. The costs in this suit are to be divided between the parties.

On the grounds of three years' wilful absence, a decree of divorce has been granted by the court to John E. McNeal against his wife, Margaret McNeal.

Extreme cruelty was charged in the divorce petition of Jessie F. Harter against her husband, Francis E. Harter, and a decree has been granted the plaintiff upon the payment of costs.

In the action filed by Alma Hetrick against Labana Hetrick, the defendant has been ordered by the court to pay the plaintiff $25 temporary alimony within five days. In this petition, the plaintiff seeks a decree of divorce, alimony and other equitable relief.

Margaret Helen Campbell has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, William Edward Campbell. In this cause extreme cruelty was set up in the petition. The custody of two children have been awarded the mother.

Gross neglect of duty was the cause assigned in the petition for divorce filed by Wilbur H. Probert against his wife, Ethel Mae Probert. The custody of a minor child was awarded the father in this case.

A former entry in the case of Sadie Dietz against her husband, Howard Dietz, has been modified, and the custody of a child has been given the defendant until further order of court. The petition in this case was filed July 5, 1924, and is one for alimony.

SENSATIONAL FILM

"Cheaper to Marry"

Robert Z. Leonard Production Proves to Be Vastly Entertaining

A photoplay bringing a scathing indictment against the modern tendency to tear down conventions opens Monday at the American Theatre. It is "Cheaper to Marry" Robert Z. Leonards production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

A powerful lesson to the effect that matrimony is the best and safest, policy is forcibly demonstrated before the final fadeout. The picture is extraordinary, aside from its rare dramatic and entertaining value, because in the course of adaptation to the screen not a single fundamental change was made in the original plot of the play by Samuel Shipman.

SOME FILM FAVORITES

An exceptional cast is seen in this film. Heading the list are Lewis S. Stone and Conrad Nagel, who have established themselves as among the most popular men on the screen. They play partners in business who, on fundamental questions of life, differ radically, Stone as Jim Knight, holding conventions and matrimony in contempt, and Nagel, as Dick Tyler believing in marriage and practicing his theory, with the aid of Marguerite de la Motte, as the play reaches its startling climax.

"Cheaper to Marry" is noteworthy because it brings Paulette Duval back again. This actress, who made he screen debut as Madame de Pompadour in "Monsieur Beaucaire," is seen.

REPORTS FILED BY ASSESSORS

Reports of all assessors who have been in the field are to be filed with County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton next week, it was announced today. The assessors had been allowed ten days to complete their work and the majority have already filed their records. No extra pay is to be allowed the assessors, as it is contended that ample time was allowed for assessors to cover their districts.

All assessors who will go into the field next year will be appointed by the county auditor. In former years they have been elected. It is probable, however, that many of the assessors who were employed this year will be appointed next year.

MANY ENTERING POLITICAL RACE

Mayor Frank E. Albrecht, of Lisbon, has announced his candidacy on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself. He is the only one so far announcing on that ticket for that office.

On the Republican ticket, George Bradbury is the only one to have filed his declaration so far.

The contest for marshal gives early promise of being an interesting one in Lisbon, Marshal H. L. Lewton being a candidate to succeed himself, and on the Republican ticket he will be opposed by George Groves, who has already filed.

On the Democratic ticket, Robert Stacy, special motorcycle officer, has also announced his candidacy for the office of marshal.

Max Dickerson has also filed his declaration as a candidate for council on the Republican ticket.

Boys And Guns

Henry, aged 17, was out in the woods with his 22-calibre rifle, indulging in target practice before an admiring audience. He did that almost every afternoon George, aged 11, heard the shooting and joined them.

"Here, George," said Henry, "let me shoot this old tin can from your head. Like William Tell, you know. And like the guide in 'The Covered Wagon.' I've already shot one from Johnny's. Didn't I, Johnny?"

George yielded. He liked to be the center of attention among older boys. Henry fired, and the little lad fell with a bullet in his brain. He died two hours later. Henry explained, in the juvenile court:

"I worked hard for that gun. Worked overtime at the brass works and bought it. Dad didn't know about it."

Guns—everlasting guns! They do almost as much harm in private hands in peaceful times as in the hands of fighting armies. They are especially dangerous in the hands of young boys. There is not one American boy in 10,000 that ever needs a gun, or that ought to have one before he is grown up. A boy in his 'teens with a rifle or pistol is almost sure to bring tragedy into the neighborhood sooner or later, from his example if not directly. Yet parents are careless, and authorities are careless, and the same old arms traffic keeps right on. It's time for the disarmament of the youngsters, at least.

Vacant Lots and Vegetables

During the war, when every vacant lot miraculously became a vegetable patch, a good deal was said and written to the effect that this particular war work would help to establish the very fine habit of gardening. Many families still make garden, but they are mostly the ones who would have done so anyhow. Very few converts to gardening were made, and today most vacant lots are once more given over to weeds or real estate signs.

In Toronto the war garden still thrives. The Toronto Vacant Lots Cultivation association helps to keep it going. There are 240 such gardens, most of which are worked by Italian residents of the city, families with small incomes or with men unemployed. They are raising their winter's supply of vegetables as well as providing fresh foodstuff for immediate consumption.

Such a project in a growing city cannot be permanent because the erection of new buildings encroaches on the garden sites. But the idea is an excellent one with many possible adaptations. Gardening opportunities for tenement dwellers have many advantages besides that of economy.

Where Divorce Starts

A judge who has heard 8,000 divorce cases says the cure for divorce is at the marriage altar. That is, it depends on the spirit in which men and women approach marriage.

"When young persons marry after thorough consideration, with honest purpose and honest motives, when they seek to build a home and rear a family and stick together through thick and thin till death ends all, there is little chance for divorce.

"When marriage results from puppy love, or passion, and lack of consideration, the couple soon become grist for the divorce mill."

It is probably true that frivolous, inconsiderate and hasty marriage is the real root of the divorce evil. And it need not be objected that if people think the question over very seriously they will not marry at all. Those fitted by character to assume the burdens of matrimony will probably marry just the same. Those who shy at serious consideration had better remain single than provide more material for the divorce courts.

But what's the use? Giving advice to those contemplating matrimony is nearly always a waste of time. People have always rushed into matrimony, and always will. The wonder is that so many of the marriages really turn out all right. Matrimony has a way of vindicating itself better than outsiders have any apparent right to expect.

The Radio Church

The old "outlaws' cabin," a stone building in the mountains near Tonopah, Nev., has become a church. Formerly it was a rendezvous for desperadoes planning stage hold-ups or raids on neighboring settlements, or meeting after a foray to share their booty. Now, with a new boom bringing gold miners again to the vicinity, it is a meeting house for Christian worship.

Moreover, it is a meeting house of a new kind, which might make the place notable without its black past. It is a "radio church." There is no pastor there, and no religious organization in the ordinary sense. The congregation is a loose, voluntary assemblage that comes to hear a church service 500 miles away. The local pastor is merely a radio receiving set.

There will be radio churches like this scattered in all the waste places of the world.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 6.—The rich man's son in New York is not always the wastrel. In fact this type is in the minority among them. Dads wise in their generation have learned to cast them adrift early "on their own." Most of them these days do not even live at home.

In a boarding house on Fifty-Second street are two millionaires' sons living three flights up and all the way back. Their allowance ended with their college diplomas. It used to be that the gleaners along the way that is white saw a harvest in every graduation.

And it was lively picking. Skilled sycophants had the stage set. Beckoning fire-flies fluttered in the offing and in the end Dad came through with a sizable check to save the family honor and son was put on a boat for the Riviera to forget.

It was discovered that the rich young man who skipped from college to lead a string of polo ponies about the country found everything in life deadly dull at 25. Almost everything after that smacked of anti-climax. And the finish of complete boredom in New York is usually one thing. Drugs.

Six years ago on the north shore of Long Island was a colossal house buried in 30 acres of foliage. Its inhabitants were sons of the rich brought there and placed under guard to be freed from the shackles of drug and liquor addiction. It closed two years ago.

Society editors say there is a dearth of rich young men who are eligible at social functions nowadays. They are too engrossed in getting on to frivol away precious hours at the tea table or in ball-room manoeuvres.

The truth is that the rich man's chiefest worry today is not the son. It is the daughter. He knows old barriers have been broken down. Flapperism, with its attendant freedom, may mean little or may mean much. Father awaits the verdict a bit nervously.

My own guess is that flapperism will result in nothing serious to young womanhood. The first flapper in our town rode a bicycle man fashion in bloomers through the main residential street. And a lot of coal scuttles and chairs were overturned in a collective rush to pull down window blinds. She was the first girl in town to smoke a cigarette and for a long time was referred to as "that woman." Today she is the mother of five children, a devoted wife and one of the most charitable women I know.

An optical store on Forty Second street offers a novelty for ladies who wear horn rimmed glasses. They offer rims in every shade to match the hair—including the henna.

Speaking of polo, a friend at my elbow who is using up my cigarettes and time, suggests that his idea of the topside in swank would be to drop into a sporting goods shop wearing a pith helmet and a sport shirt and inquire of the clerk, "What have you in polo mallets today?" I suppose he has the idea that would make him a prominent society man.

This same friend—who has a habit of reading over my shoulder—is an actor. He has been rehearsing in a play for three weeks and it had a run of four nights on Broadway yet he had the effrontery to ask me how long I expected people to stand for the drivel I write. I had a notion to tell him that, anyway, it had run longer than four nights. But I don't need to; he can read it here.

Still I rather like him. He is the only Handsome Ham I ever met who admits he never received a mash note in his entire stage career. And that, as Epictetus or one of the boys has said, is something.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—There is a law which forbids the sale, offering for sale, or display of obscene, lewd, lascivious and indecent books, magazines, or other publications, and pictures of similar character, in the District of Columbia. Just now there is an United States District attorney in Washington who is undertaking to enforce that law, and the drive he is making in particular against objectionable magazines is attracting attention in all parts of the country.

Word has gone forth that a large number of offensive weeklies and monthlies have been barred from the news-stands in Washington and inquiries are pouring in from other cities, seeking information as to how this has been accomplished.

Parent-Teachers Associations are especially interested, and organizations similar to the Watch and Ward Society of Boston, and there are indications that a nation-wide movement may result.

At the same time the report has been circulated that a censorship is being established in the nation's capital, and apparently there is something of a counter-movement on to stir up that element of the public which does not believe in censorship of any kind, whether of literature, art, the movies, or the stage. Just what progress this agitation is making is not known here; but its echoes have been heard.

Major Peyton Gordon—he is addressed by that title more often than as District Attorney—deprecates the censorship story and refutes it with an emphatic denial.

"I have had no thought whatever of setting up a censorship of magazines and similar publications," he says, "the idea is absurd because we have no censorship law. My attention was directed to the charge that many magazines were being sold here that were clearly of a character proscribed by the law. I made an investigation and found that this was true, whereupon I notified the news agencies and news-stand proprietors that future sales of such magazines would subject them to arrest and prosecution."

"I can't forbid their selling or offering for sale of these offensive publications. They don't have to take my word for it that any particular one violates the law. They can leave it to a jury if they desire to make an issue of it.

"However, I must say that on the whole there has been manifested an entire willingness to cooperate in the suppression of periodical literature that ought to be suppressed. The news agencies and dealers generally have shown they will meet us half way."

Twenty-five on the List

To date Major Gordon has some twenty-five weeklies and monthlies on his proscribed list. This list has not been made public, primarily, he says, because he does not want to create a popular demand for the objectionable publications, for it always happens that to suppress a particular book or magazine is to stimulate its sale. The district attorney thinks that the bootlegging industry is large enough now, without creating a new branch.

Furthermore, he does not make his list public because he does not desire to invite a controversy with publishers, nor to do any injustice to those of them are ready and anxious to alter their magazines so as to come within the law.

The list has been furnished to the police. No arrests have as yet been made, but in two cases warrants were issued. These were not served when the offending dealers promised to make every effort to comply with the law in the future, for there is no disposition to make an example of anyone unless there is evidence that he is a persistent and flagrant violator of the statute.

However, there is a widespread demand for the names of the publications that are under the ban of the Washington authorities. This demand comes from prurient-minded persons who like to have their literary filth selected for them by the taboo of official edict, and it also comes from authorities and others outside Washington who are anxious to carry on the work that has been undertaken here.

For the benefit of the latter it is pointed out that they must conduct their own investigations and compile their own lists of publications that offend against their own laws. The laws on this subject are by no means uniform. A magazine or book might get by in one city or state that would be proscribed in another, and the Washington list could be of no use in any toher section of the country, save as a basis of inquiry.

A Burdensome Task

It is also to be noted that no list could be complete and that any list must necessarily change frequently in view of the fact that one issue of a periodical may bo of a character such that its sale is a clear violation of the law, while the next issue may be unobjectionable, or at least of such a nature that it would be difficult to make a case on it before a jury.

A notable instance of this was disclosed in the investigation in this city. The May number of a certain magazine that features autobigraphical suggestiveness was flagrantly offensive and was listed promptly by Major Gordon, but the June number was comparatively inocuous and its sale was not regarded as a basis for legal proceedings.

Hence it is an extremely burdensome task to keep tabs on all periodicals from week to week, and from month to month, and it is not a pleasant task. Major Gordon says he has been spending most of his spare time recently reading "some of the most rotton and depraved literautre" he has ever seen and he still has a large number of publications awaiting his attention. He can't keep up that sort of thing and the newdealers will have to take on the job of sampling their own wares. He has indicated the kind of stories and pictures that he views as actionable by listing magazines that contained matter fo that character and he says it is now up to the dealers to keep their shelves clean.

To those who complain that the ban which he has placed on some of their best sellers is runing their business he replies thhat a business that violates the law, and that depends upon such violations for its existence, ought to be ruined.

Should that movement that has had its inception in Washington assume national proportions, as promised, it goes without saying that two Federal laws of general application will be invoked. Section 211 of the Federal Penal Code makes it a criminal offense to send throught the mails obecene, lewd, lascivious and filthy pictures and books, pamphlets, papers, letters, writings, prints, "or other publication of an indecent character," and violators of this statute may be subjected to a penalty of five years imprisonment, or a fine of not more than $5,000, or both.

Section 245 of the Interstate Commerce Act is identical with Section 211 of the Penal Code, and thus the publishers who transport their "subtle" literature by freight or express, instead of by mail, may be reached.

Owners and editors of certain magazines that have grown rich by pandering to lasciviousness when told that they should cleanse their publications and keep them clean have defended themselves by saying that the public demands what they sell or they couldn't sell it.

"What the grocer's customers like" they say, " is none of the grocer's business."

Five years' reflection within the granite walls of Atlanta or Fort Leavenworth might bring about a change in that opinion.

Feel All Out of Sorts?

IS a constant, nagging backache spoiling your summer? Do you get up lame and stiff—feel tired all day long? Are you so nervous and worn-out you cannot rest or relax?

Look, then, to your kidneys! You cannot be well unless your kidneys properly filter the blood. Sluggish kidneys allow poisons to accumulate and upset the whole system. When this happens you are apt to suffer nagging backache, sharp twinges of pain, lameness, soreness and stiffness, dizzy spells and annoying kidney irregularities.

Help your kidneys with a tested stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are used and recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor!

Here is East Liverpool Proof:

LOUIS H. COCHRANE, 243 Church Alley, says: "A cold settled on my kidneys and put them in a bad way. A sharp pain settled on the small of my back and would almost double me up. I got dizzy spells quite often and always felt tired and worn out. It was hard for me to pass the kidney secretions, for they burned and scalded. I used Doan's Pills from Larkin's Drug Store and all signs of the trouble left me."

The Story of a Modern Business Woman and how Fate tricked Her!

"Nora Pays"

by Lucille Van Slyke

She moved along with the air of being a woman of leisure.

Everything may be lovely for a time. There may be success and good friends and a glorious independence of life, a sense of power and ability. What more could anyone ask? But there comes a day when accounts must be settled, and then the venturesome woman is likely to find the things by which she has set great store are but baubles.

That's what Nora Murray learned in "Nora Pays"—a great story that every woman in northern Ohio should read.

Trotters Rally In Fourth to Win From Wellsville Tossers

Pollock's Pitching Is Chief Factor In Victory of Automen

Visitors Hold Lead Until Fourth Frame When Lefty Leatherberry Uncorks a Few Wild Ones Which, With Hits of Davis' Club, Permits East Liverpool Crew to Even up Count.

Wellsville threw a scare into the fast Trotter outfit at Patterson field and all but won a City Industrial league contest. Wildness on the part of Southpaw Leatherberry, however, nullified the four-run lead of the down river aggregation. So the Fowlerites, thanks to the sterling pitching of R. Pollock, who guided them out of their seeming wildness of defeat by wing and bat after mounting the hill top, winning 8 to 7.

At the points at the outset the husky Kidder was opposed by the portsider, Leatherberry. The latter got into trouble right in the first inning when a pass, a force-out, two singles and two wild pitches gave the home team a lead of three runs.

In the second, Kidder had a bad time as a pass, single, double and a put out tied the score.

With honors even again Wellsville did the unexpected when the entire team batted four hits, two being doubles. An error and a wild pitch gave the C. & P. team a four run lead and seemingly the game.

Came the third when ten of the East Liverpool contingent swatted. With one on and two out Leatherberry suddenly lost control and a single sent one run over. Two men in this inning where forced in by walks before Calhoun took his place. Then the score was tied, 7 to 7, before he could retire his opponents.

R. Pollock stopped all scoring for the remainder of the game. He retired those facing him almost in a row each time they faced him.

After Patterson had succeeded Calhoun in the fourth Herbert and Heckathorne bunched a single and double and the former by a nice bit of fielding crossed the plate with the winning run.

Wellsville played fine ball for the most part, their single error comparing favorably against the three of the up-town club. But for the delayed lifting of Leatherberry a reversed result might have easily occurred.

J. Stroble made two fine stops and throws during the game; R. Manning, in middle, fielded sensationally, one a shoe string grab off E. Bayley's bat, standing out. Shipley in right also did a fine piece of work in landing R. Pollock's long fly after a fast side sprint.

D. Morgan hit sensationally for the day, he having two doubles in three batting tries. Runyan, in four efforts, had a single and double for a .500 percentage.

R. Pollock, A. Balyey and Herbert had two hits each, all singles.

Assuming the burden of apparent defeat, R. Pollock's flinging to the extent that no more scoring resulted stood out as the strongest feature of what from start to finish was an exciting contest.

How They Scored.

A. Bayley forced J. Stroble, who had walked, at second in the first inning. A wild pitch put him on second from where he scored on R. Pollock's single over short. Herbert singled and stole second. Heckathorne released an infield rap which Leatherberry booted and R. Pollock counted as Heckathorne reached third. He scored on a second wild pitch.

J. Morgan walked in the second and R. Manning singled. Both scored on D. Morgan's double to left. The latter reached third on the throw to the plate and scored as E. Bayley threw out Calhoun at first.

Runyan, doubling in the third, reached third as Shipley struck out and scored on Rager's single. J. Morgan doubled and scored on a wild pitch. The latter also counted on A. Bayley's overthrow to third base. D. Morgan doubled and R. Manning, on second by reason of J. Stroble's error, scored. R. Pollock then supplanted Kidder.

Herbert, singling in the third, scored on Heckathorne's double.

Gibbons Takes First Kayo of Long Career; Tunney Wins In 12th

St. Paul Boxer Pays Penalty of Age, Combined With Heat; Victor Gives Superb Exhibition of Hitting.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Gene Tunney entered upon the realm last night where the knuckle is king as Tom Gibbons left by the rear entrance for all the world like a male Cinderella who had overstayed the time limit and suddenly found that his skill had sprunk a leak in the seat of its trousers. It was like the exit on one of those pay-as-you-leave trolley cars.

Tom Gibbons paid the penalty of age and the heat by taking a right full on the jaw and suffering the ignominy of a knockout, the first and probably the last of his career, after one minute and 23 seconds of the twelfth round. He was simply too weary to get his hands up to stop the punch or move his chin out of its path, and this same weariness merely permitted him to get to his feet at the count of 10 instead of nine, as he intended.

This was the end of Tom Gibbons of last night, not the Gibbons who stepped 15 rounds with Dempsey at Shelby. His age made him more susceptible than the youthful Tunney to one of the hottest nights New York has known. His vitality was gone; so was his punch and the speed that had been the admiration of all who genuflect before the throne and acknowledge the knuckle as king. The Gibbons who had his head stabbed off by straight lefts and his torso outraged by body punches for nearly 12 rounds was just a pale innuendo of the man of other and better days.

Neither did Tunney at all resemble the innocuous citizen who used to maul around with Harry Greb and kindred specimens. He was a hundred percent a better man than the writer even thought he could be—a beautiful boxer, a hitter whose punches traveled less than eight inches and seldom missed, and a fighter whose mind held one thought and one only, to win as quickly as possible.

Gibbons did a deal of smiling at one time and another and indicated his willingness to shake hands when he thought Tunney hit him low once or twice. Tunney would have none of it. He glared at his man with the eye of a fanatic and fairly ran amuck when Gibbons hit him on the jaw twice near the end of the eighth round. The writer was unable to concede Gibbons even one of the 11 and one-third rounds fought.

Tunney's new attitude was strikingly emphasized when the end came. It came suddenly and a wild animal about to score a kill could have looked no more bloodthirsty than did this studious young man of the usually calm and courteous manner. Without the slightest warning, he had Gibbons on the floor with a left and right to the jaw. Tom never had been there before and although not badly hurt, his unfamiliarity with the posture caused him to delay arising until the count of seven. It was his legs that were gone, not his head.

Tunney charged from his corner with his eyes aglare and before Gibbons could protect himself, hooked a left to the jaw and crossed with a right. Slowly, painfully, Gibbons sat down. He rolled over and clutched the ropes. Then the writer saw his eyes. They were glazed, almost sightless.

"Get up, Tom," was shouted at him by Eddie Kane at the count of eight. And Tom did—too late.

It was the inevitable end, forecast almost from the first round.

Gibbons Good Sport; Admits Superiority Of His Conqueror

NEW YORK, June 6—Both Gene Tunney, the victor, and Tom Gibbons, the vanquished, were voluble after the sudden end of their bout in the twelfth round at the Polo grounds last night. Fairly overran with admirers, Tunney found time to say:

"I did something that Jack Dempsey was unable to do at Shelby and now I think I am entitled to a shot at his title. I will take on Harry Wills, if the public demands the match, but I would rather meet Dempsey first. Gibbons didn't do any real damage, although he stung me once or twice in the eighth round. I think I proved that my improvement is real. Now I want Dempsey."

Gibbons made no excuse for his defeat, merely declaring:

"I fought the best I knew how but it wasn't good enough. Tunney fought wonderfully and certainly is an improved man. He is a splendid fellow and a great fighter. I wish him the best of luck."

WELLS ENTERS SEMI-FINALS

Meets J. B. Rose Today in Oakmont. Play.

Out of the 16 players that started out yesterday morning in the elimination tournament which is being played at the Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley Heights, only four remained at the finish of the day's play. These were A. R. Maxwell, Oakmont Country club; James B. Crookston, C. Stanton Heights Golf Club; J. Bernd Rose of the home club and Joseph M. Wells, East Liverpool, O., the winner of last year's tournament.

The others were counted among the casualties succumbing to the superior play of their opponents, and to the torrid weather which prevailed. Some of the players could hardly trudge back to the clubhouse after playing two rounds over the hills and dales of the course, and sweltering under the heat. Despite the unfavorable weather conditions, the scoring was low yesterday, the lowest scores of the tornament being turned in. Maxwell plays Crookston this morning in the semi-finals, in the upper half of the bracket, while Rose clashes with Wells in the lower bracket. Both should furnish the gallery with some fine golf.

The contestants were deserted as far as galleries were concerned as the spectators preferred to remain behind at the club house, and await the returns thehe at the close of the match. Some of the players quit play in the afternoon rather than brave the heat again in a second round, and they defaulted their matches.

MACFARLANE IS OPEN CHAMPION

Beats Bobby Jones by Stroke in Title Play-off.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 6.—Followers of golf today slowly were recovering from the shock occasioned by Willie McFarlane's victory over Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, 72 to 73, in the second play off for the national open title yesterday on the Worcester Country club course. An obscure figure four days ago, the public found it difficult to credit MacFarlane's sudden rise to eminence but was quick to grant that his play was richly deserving of the honors that are now his.

Even less credible was the information, made known today, that MacFarlane had played only thirteen rounds of Golf since last October, previous to taking part in the championship. The Tuckahoe, N. Y., pro's competitive record is meagre, the three previous open tournaments passing into the records without an entry from the new champion. He never before has won an important title.

The consensus was both Jones and MacFarlane played great golf in the play-off; that, in fact, the new champion did not outplay Bobby. He merely beat him because the Atlanta youth happened to lose the last hole of the day, a fatal mistake. Both had 75's for their first eighteen holes.

TAX CONFEREES UNABLE TO AGREE

Inability of senate members of the tax bill conference committee to come to any agreement with the house members on the rates to be applied on sales of coal, natural gas, and manufactured articles, today blocked further progress of the extraordinary session of the legislature.

Senator Wright Hugus reported to the senate that the committee could agree on all other subjects and that two of the senators agreed with the unanimous opinion of the house conferees as to the coal, gas and manufacturers, but that agreement of a majority of the senate members had not been obtained.

On motion of Senator Helmick the senate voted to instruct its conferees to make a further effort to reach an agreement and then adjourned, while committee session was resumed.

The senate bill set a rate of 12 twenty fifths of one per cent on gross sales of coal, expected to raise $208,000 more than the present rate, two-fifths of one per cent. The house bill makes no change in the present rate. On natural gas, for which the present rate is two fifths of one per cent, the senate bill put a rate of one and three fifths per cent, expected to raise an additional $360,000 while the house bill rate of two and one half per cent would raise $630,000 more than present revenues. On manufactures the senate bill puts a rate of 226 thousandths of one per cent, to bring in additional revenues of $98,800, while the house bill made no change in the present rate of one fifth of one per cent.

Woman "Dream Book" Author Asks $6,000,000 in Infringement Suit

Miss Eva Nieman, Cincinnati, author of books on dreams, "personal magnetism," character reading and fortune telling, under the name of "Black and White," is suing the Plough Chemical Co., Memphis, Tenn., for $6,000,000 for alleged infringement of her works. Books given away by the company as advertisements have robbed her of her $25,000 yearly income, she contends. The company denounces the charges as untrue and absurd.

SAFETY DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Campaign for "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July Opens.

A campaign for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July in West Virginia will be carried on during June by the state fire marshal department, an activity that has been reflected the past several years by fewer accidents and fires on the great national holidays than in most of the other states.

The 1924 figures on fire losses from fireworks, firecrackers, etc., are not yet available, but in 1923 these losses for the United States amounted to $639,131, of which sum West Virginia contributed only $298. The national fire loss from the same cause in 1922 was $775,205, and the state's share $3,022.

State Fire Marshal C. L. Topping admits that fireworks probably never will be entirely abandoned as an avenue of escape for our enthusiasm on certain occasions, but he holds that the fireworks always should be under the supervision of experienced hands. He also warns that much of the fireworks contain prohibited explosives or poisonous ingredients.

"Figures on the financial loss fall, of course, to tell the whole story of the damage due to fireworks," said Mr. Topping, "for deplorable above all is the annual roll of the maimed and the disfigured and the not infrequent loss of life.

"It would seem that there can be little profit resulting to the retailer of fireworks when the heavy increase in insurance rates on the property and stock about which they are kept is considered," continued the fire marshal. "And, certainly, a profit of a few paltry dollars should not be placed above the safety of life, limb and property. So many lives have been lost, so many children maimed for life, and so much property values destroyed, that it would seem no other argument should be necessary to bring about a safe and sane Fourth.

"It is especially desirable that children should not be permitted to handle the death-dealing varieties of fireworks."

Potters Attend Outing.

Grand Jury To Meet.

George C. Holliday and George Hasson, both of Chester, are members of the grand jury which will open its sessions Monday at New Cumberland.

McKenzie Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lulu Mae McKenzie, 54, were held this afternoon at the Hanover United Presbyterian church. Burial was made in Locust Hill cemetery.

Conducting Bake Sale.

Queen Esther class of the First Presbyterian church is conducting a bake sale this afternoon in the McCutcheon drug store, Fifth street and Carolina avenue.

Prehistoric S. Carolina Mounds to Be Explored

Anderson, S. C.—Archeologists from several colleges in this state are to join an expedition being organized here for the purpose of exploring the great mounds on the Tugaloo and Seneca rivers, near here, which are said to have been built by a race that antedated the red men.

Some of the mounds, especially those along the Tugaloo river, are so large that they cover approximately three acres and are about 100 feet high.

Following an examination of several of the mounds, Andrew Todd of this city expressed the opinion their interiors are hollow and contain relics of an ancient race that only await the explorer's pick to bring them to light.

A large mound near Calhoun falls was demolished during the floods of 1908, revealing a number of pieces of pottery and other evidences of a past civilizati....

NEWELL TRIMS B. & W. TOSSERS

Bricelin's Crew Gets to Sharp for Five Runs in Fifth.

Scoring five runs in the fifth frame and breaking a four inning deadlock, Barney Bricelin's Newell Laughlins defeated the Babcock & Wilcox nine, 9 to 3, last evening.

Sharp pitched great ball for the Oaklanders until the fifth, his speed turning back his opponents easily. Sharp was derricked at this point, giving way to Howell, who, in turn, was replaced by McGeehan.

Riser pitched for Laughlin and was effective in all but the fifth when three runs were made off him.

Reese led in the slugging for the day with a perfect mark, having a single, double and triple in three times up. Every Laughlin player hit safely except Riser.

A. Merris, the star young pitcher of Laughlin, East End, last year, played second base for B. & W. and missed but one of nine chances. Kinney, the old Hall China shortstop, also played and lost but one of seven chances.

Tagging The Bases

The Athletics continued to breeze along in first place by defeating Detroit, 8 to 6. The other American league teams perspired against each other for pursuit positions in the race.

Washington kept within looking distance of the leaders by beating Chicago, 5 to 3. The Senators won in the lucky seventh, scoring four runs against Cvengros.

There were two overtime games in the National league. Luque of Cincinnati outpitching Benton of Boston, 1 to 0, in a ten-inning duel. Clarence Mitchell, Philly pitcher, won his own game against Pittsburgh in the eleventh with a single. Score 6 to 5.

Tip For Beginners.

Solve this puzzle by comparing the synonyms listed in the "Horizontal" and "Vertical" columns with the number of spaces extending crosswise or downward on the diagram, as the case may be. If a word occurs to you meaning substantially the same as the synonym and the correct number of letters to fit in the spaces between its number and the first shaded stop following, write it in lightly. Work away the small words, the "easy" words, first, and they will give you plenty of clues to the difficult ones.

ARE PRESENT NATIONS GOD'S KINGDOM?

millions now living will never die

Today's customs and practices condone profiteering, wink at dishonesty, and concede graft as cleverness. Such tactics, though condemned as a practice for all, are entrenched in the false doctrine that God rewards the powerful and that the potentates are of His appointment.

This order or arrangement of affairs is the breeder of present strife, its misunderstandings, its sufferings.

Eating like maggots at the foundation of civilization is this corruption in high places, ever growing and creating weakness by putridity.

In its wake comes God's kingdom.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

TAX CONFEREES UNABLE TO AGREE

Inability of senate members of the tax bill conference committee to come to any agreement with the house members on the rates to be applied on sales of coal, natural gas, and manufactured articles, today blocked further progress of the extraordinary session of the legislature.

Senator Wright Hugus reported to the senate that the committee could agree on all other subjects and that two of the senators agreed with the unanimous opinion of the house conferees as to the coal, gas and manufacturers, but that agreement of a majority of the senate members had not been obtained.

On motion of Senator Helmick the senate voted to instruct its conferees to make a further effort to reach an agreement and then adjourned, while committee session was resumed.

The senate bill set a rate of 12 twenty fifths of one per cent on gross sales of coal, expected to raise $208,000 more than the present rate, two-fifths of one per cent. The house bill makes no change in the present rate. On natural gas, for which the present rate is two fifths of one per cent, the senate bill put a rate of one and three fifths per cent, expected to raise an additional $360,000 while the house bill rate of two and one half per cent would raise $630,000 more than present revenues. On manufactures the senate bill puts a rate of 226 thousandths of one per cent, to bring in additional revenues of $98,800, while the house bill made no change in the present rate of one fifth of one per cent.

Woman "Dream Book" Author Asks $6,000,000 in Infringement Suit

Miss Eva Nieman, Cincinnati, author of books on dreams, "personal magnetism," character reading and fortune telling, under the name of "Black and White," is suing the Plough Chemical Co., Memphis, Tenn., for $6,000,000 for alleged infringement of her works. Books given away by the company as advertisements have robbed her of her $25,000 yearly income, she contends. The company denounces the charges as untrue and absurd.

SAFETY DRIVE IS LAUNCHED

Campaign for "Safe and Sane" Fourth of July Opens.

A campaign for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July in West Virginia will be carried on during June by the state fire marshal department, an activity that has been reflected the past several years by fewer accidents and fires on the great national holidays than in most of the other states.

The 1924 figures on fire losses from fireworks, firecrackers, etc., are not yet available, but in 1923 these losses for the United States amounted to $639,131, of which sum West Virginia contributed only $298. The national fire loss from the same cause in 1922 was $775,205, and the state's share $3,022.

State Fire Marshal C. L. Topping admits that fireworks probably never will be entirely abandoned as an avenue of escape for our enthusiasm on certain occasions, but he holds that the fireworks always should be under the supervision of experienced hands. He also warns that much of the fireworks contain prohibited explosives or poisonous ingredients.

"Figures on the financial loss fail, of course, to tell the whole story of the damage due to fireworks," said Mr. Topping, "for deplorable above all is the anual roll of the maimed and the disfigured and the not infrequent loss of life.

"It would seem that there can be little profit resulting to the retailer of fireworks when the heavy increase in insurance rates on the property and stock about which they are kept is considered," continued the fire marshal. "And, certainly, a profit of a few paltry dollars should not be placed above the safety of life, limb and property. So many lives have been lost, so many children maimed for life, and so much property values destroyed, that it would seem no other argument should be necessary to bring about a safe and sane Fourth.

"It is especially desirable that children should not be permitted to handle the death-dealing varieties of fireworks."

Potters Attend Outing.

Grand Jury To Meet.

George C. Holliday and George Hasson, both of Chester, are members of the grand jury which will open its sessions Monday at New Cumberland.

Prehistoric S. Carolina Mounds to Be Explored

Anderson, S. C.—Archeologists from several colleges in this state are to join an expedition being organized here for the purpose of exploring the great mounds on the Tugaloo and Seneca rivers, near here, which are said to have been built by a race that antedated the red men.

Some of the mounds, especially those along the Tugaloo river, are so large that they cover approximately three acres and are about 100 feet high.

Following an examination of several of the mounds, Andrew Todd of this city expressed the opinion their interiors are hollow and contain relics of an ancient race that only await the explorer's pick to bring them to light.

A large mound near Calhoun falls was demolished during the floods of 1908, revealing a number of pieces of pottery and other evidences of a past civilizati...

Tip For Beginners.

Solve this puzzle by comparing the synonyms listed in the "Horizontal" and "Vertical" columns with the number of spaces extending crosswise or downward on the diagram, as the case may be. If a word occurs to you meaning substantially the same as the synonym and the correct number of letters to fit in the spaces between its number and the first shaded stop following, write it in lightly. Work away the small words, the "easy" words, first, and they will give you plenty of clues to the difficult ones.

ARE PRESENT NATIONS GOD'S KINGDOM?

millions now living will never die

Today's customs and practices condone profiteering, wink at dishonesty, and concede graft as cleverness. Such tactics, though condemned as a practice for all, are entrenched in the false doctrine that God rewards the powerful and that the potentates are of His appointment.

This order or arrangement of affairs is the breeder of present strife, its misunderstandings, its sufferings.

Eating like maggots at the foundation of civilization is this corruption in high places, ever growing and creating weakness by putridity.

In its wake comes God's kingdom.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

DIVORCE COURT HOLDS SESSION

Decrees Handed Down by Judge Moore at Hearing Friday.

The divorce action filed by Mary Ann Snyder against her husband, James G. Snyder, on April 9, has been heard by Judge James G. Moore, and a decree has been awarded the plaintiff on the grounds of extreme cruelty. The custody of a minor child has also been awarded the mother.

Snyder has been ordered to pay his former wife $2 per week for the support of the child, and each is to have a half interest in real estate being bought on land contract upon which there is a balance of $160 due. Snyder has been ordered by the court to pay this. The costs in this suit are to be divided between the parties.

On the grounds of three years' wilful absence, a decree of divorce has been granted by the court to John E. McNeal against his wife, Margaret McNeal.

Extreme cruelty was charged in the divorce petition of Jessie F. Harter against her husband, Francis E. Harter, and a decree has been granted the plaintiff upon the payment of costs.

In the action filed by Alma Hetrick against Labana Hetrick, the defendant has been ordered by the court to pay the plaintiff $25 temporary alimony within five days. In this petition, the plaintiff seeks a decree of divorce, alimony and other equitable relief.

Margaret Helen Campbell has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, William Edward Campbell. In this cause extreme cruelty was set up in the petition. The custody of two children have been awarded the mother.

Gross neglect of duty was the cause assigned in the petition for divorce filed by Wilbur H. Probert against his wife, Ethel Mae Probert. The custody of a minor child was awarded the father in this case.

A former entry in the case of Sadie Dietz against her husband, Howard Dietz, has been modified, and the custody of a child has been given the defendant until further order of court. The petition in this case was filed July 5, 1924, and is one for alimony.

SENSATIONAL FILM

"Cheaper to Marry"

Robert Z. Leonard Production Proves to Be Vastly Entertaining

A photoplay bringing a scathing indictment against the modern tendency to tear down conventions opens Monday at the American Theatre. It is "Cheaper to Marry" Robert Z. Leonards production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

A powerful lesson to the effect that matrimony is the best and safest, policy is forcibly demonstrated before the final fadeout. The picture is extraordinary, aside from its rare dramatic and entertaining value, because in the course of adaptation to the screen not a single fundamental change was made in the original plot of the play by Samuel Shipman.

SOME FILM FAVORITES

An exceptional cast is seen in this film. Heading the list are Lewis S. Stone and Conrad Nagel, who have established themselves as among the most popular men on the screen. They play partners in business who, on fundamental questions of life, differ radically, Stone as Jim Knight, holding conventions and matrimony in contempt, and Nagel, as Dick Tyler believing in marriage and practicing his theory, with the aid of Marguerite de la Motte, as the play reaches its startling climax.

"Cheaper to Marry" is noteworthy because it brings Paulette Duval back again. This actress, who made he screen debut as Madame de Pompadour in "Monsieur Beaucaire," is seen.

REPORTS FILED BY ASSESSORS

Reports of all assessors who have been in the field are to be filed with County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton next week, it was announced today. The assessors had been allowed ten days to complete their work and the majority have already filed their records. No extra pay is to be allowed the assessors, as it is contended that ample time was allowed for assessors to cover their districts.

All assessors who will go into the field next year will be appointed by the county auditor. In former years they have been elected. It is probable, however, that many of the assessors who were employed this year will be appointed next year.

MANY ENTERING POLITICAL RACE

Mayor Frank E. Albrecht, of Lisbon, has announced his candidacy on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself. He is the only one so far announcing on that ticket for that office.

On the Republican ticket, George Bradbury is the only one to have filed his declaration so far.

The contest for marshal gives early promise of being an interesting one in Lisbon, Marshal H. L. Lewton being a candidate to succeed himself, and on the Republican ticket he will be opposed by George Groves, who has already filed.

On the Democratic ticket, Robert Stacy, special motorcycle officer, has also announced his candidacy for the office of marshal.

Max Dickerson has also filed his declaration as a candidate for council on the Republican ticket.

Seeks Divorce.

Sarah E. Detinger, residing at 189 West Pershing avenue, Salem, has filed an action for divorce through her counsel, K. L. Coburn, against her husband, George W. anyone unless there is evidence that he is a persistent and flagrant violator of the statute.

However, there is a widespread demand for the names of the publications that are under the ban of the Washington authorities. This demand comes from prurient-minded persons who like to have their literary filth selected for them by the taboo of official edict, and it also comes from authorities and others outside Washington who are anxious to carry on the work that has been undertaken here.

For the benefit of the latter it is pointed out that they must conduct their own investigations and compile their own lists of publications that offend against their own laws. The laws on this subject are by no means uniform. A magazine or book might get by in one city or state that would be proscribed in another, and the Washington list could be of no use in any toher section of the country, save as a basis of inquiry.

A Burdensome Task

It is also to be noted that no list could be complete and that any list must necessarily change frequently in view of the fact that one issue of a periodical may bo of a character such that its sale is a clear violation of the law, while the next issue may be unobjectionable, or at least of such a nature that it would be difficult to make a case on it before a jury.

A notable instance of this was disclosed in the investigation in this city. The May number of a certain magazine that features autobigraphical suggestiveness was flagrantly offensive and was listed promptly by Major Gordon, but the June number was comparatively inocuous and its sale was not regarded as a basis for legal proceedings.

Hence it is an extremely burdensome task to keep tabs on all periodicals from week to week, and from month to month, and it is not a pleasant task. Major Gordon says he has been spending most of his spare time recently reading "some of the most rotton and depraved literautre" he has ever seen and he still has a large number of publications awaiting his attention. He can't keep up that sort of thing and the newdealers will have to take on the job of sampling their own wares. He has indicated the kind of stories and pictures that he views as actionable by listing magazines that contained matter fo that character and he says it is now up to the dealers to keep their shelves clean.

To those who complain that the ban which he has placed on some of their best sellers is runing their business he replies thhat a business that violates the law, and that depends upon such violations for its existence, ought to be ruined.

Should that movement that has had its inception in Washington assume national proportions, as promised, it goes without saying that two Federal laws of general application will be invoked. Section 211 of the Federal Penal Code makes it a criminal offense to send throught the mails obecene, lewd, lascivious and filthy pictures and books, pamphlets, papers, letters, writings, prints, "or other publication of an indecent character," and violators of this statute may be subjected to a penalty of five years imprisonment, or a fine of not more than $5,000, or both.

Section 245 of the Interstate Commerce Act is identical with Section 211 of the Penal Code, and thus the publishers who transport their "subtle" literature by freight or express, instead of by mail, may be reached.

Owners and editors of certain magazines that have grown rich by pandering to lasciviousness when told that they should cleanse their publications and keep them clean have defended themselves by saying that the public demands what they sell or they couldn't sell it.

"What the grocer's customers like" they say, " is none of the grocer's business."

Five years' reflection within the granite walls of Atlanta or Fort Leavenworth might bring about a change in that opinion.

Trotters Rally In Fourth to Win From Wellsville Tossers

Pollock's Pitching Is Chief Factor In Victory of Automen

Visitors Hold Lead Until Fourth Frame When Lefty Leatherberry Uncorks a Few Wild Ones Which, With Hits of Davis' Club, Permits East Liverpool Crew to Even up Count.

Wellsville threw a scare into the fast Trotter outfit at Patterson field and all but won a City Industrial league contest. Wildness on the part of Southpaw Leatherberry, however, nullified the four-run lead of the down river aggregation. So the Fowlerites, thanks to the sterling pitching of R. Pollock, who guided them out of their seeming wildness of defeat by wing and bat after mounting the hill top, winning 8 to 7.

At the points at the outset the husky Kidder was opposed by the portsider, Leatherberry. The latter got into trouble right in the first inning when a pass, a force-out, two singles and two wild pitches gave the home team a lead of three runs.

In the second, Kidder had a bad time as a pass, single, double and a put out tied the score.

With honors even again Wellsville did the unexpected when the entire team batted four hits, two being doubles. An error and a wild pitch gave the C. & P. team a four run lead and seemingly the game.

Came the third when ten of the East Liverpool contingent swatted. With one on and two out Leatherberry suddenly lost control and a single sent one run over. Two men in this inning where forced in by walks before Calhoun took his place. Then the score was tied, 7 to 7, before he could retire his opponents.

R. Pollock stopped all scoring for the remainder of the game. He retired those facing him almost in a row each time they faced him.

After Patterson had succeeded Calhoun in the fourth Herbert and Heckathorne bunched a single and double and the former by a nice bit of fielding crossed the plate with the winning run.

Wellsville played fine ball for the most part, their single error comparing favorably against the three of the up-town club. But for the delayed lifting of Leatherberry a reversed result might have easily occurred.

J. Stroble made two fine stops and throws during the game; R. Manning, in middle, fielded sensationally, one a shoe string grab off E. Bayley's bat, standing out. Shipley in right also did a fine piece of work in landing R. Pollock's long fly after a fast side sprint.

D. Morgan hit sensationally for the day, he having two doubles in three batting tries. Runyan, in four efforts, had a single and double for a .500 percentage.

R. Pollock, A. Balyey and Herbert had two hits each, all singles.

Assuming the burden of apparent defeat, R. Pollock's flinging to the extent that no more scoring resulted stood out as the strongest feature of what from start to finish was an exciting contest.

How They Scored.

A. Bayley forced J. Stroble, who had walked, at second in the first inning. A wild pitch put him on second from where he scored on R. Pollock's single over short. Herbert singled and stole second. Heckathorne released an infield rap which Leatherberry booted and R. Pollock counted as Heckathorne reached third. He scored on a second wild pitch.

J. Morgan walked in the second and R. Manning singled. Both scored on D. Morgan's double to left. The latter reached third on the throw to the plate and scored as E. Bayley threw out Calhoun at first.

Runyan, doubling in the third, reached third as Shipley struck out and scored on Rager's single. J. Morgan doubled and scored on a wild pitch. The latter also counted on A. Bayley's overthrow to third base. D. Morgan doubled and R. Manning, on second by reason of J. Stroble's error, scored. R. Pollock then supplanted Kidder.

Herbert, singling in the third, scored on Heckathorne's double.

Gibbons Good Sport; Admits Superiority Of His Conqueror

NEW YORK, June 6—Both Gene Tunney, the victor, and Tom Gibbons, the vanquished, were voluble after the sudden end of their bout in the twelfth round at the Polo grounds last night. Fairly overran with admirers, Tunney found time to say:

"I did something that Jack Dempsey was unable to do at Shelby and now I think I am entitled to a shot at his title. I will take on Harry Wills, if the public demands the match, but I would rather meet Dempsey first. Gibbons didn't do any real damage, although he stung me once of twice in the eighth round. I think I proved that my improvement is real. Now I want Dempsey."

Gibbons made no excuse for his defeat, merely declaring:

"I fought the best I knew how but it wasn't good enough. Tunney fought wonderfully and certainly is an improved man. He is a splendid fellow and a great fighter. I wish him the best of luck."

WELLS ENTERS SEMI-FINALS

Meets J. B. Rose Today in Oakmont. Play.

Out of the 16 players that started out yesterday morning in the elimination rounds of the annual invitation tournament which is being played at the Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley Heights, only four remained at the finish of the day's play. These were A. R. Maxwell, Oakmont Country club; James B. Crookston, C. Stanton Heights Golf Club; J. Bernd Rose of the home club and Joseph M. Wells, East Liverpool, O., the winner of last year's tournament.

The others were counted among the casualties succumbing to the superior play of their opponents, and to the torrid weather which prevailed. Some of the players could hardly trudge back to the clubhouse after playing two rounds over the hills and dales of the course, and sweltering under the heat. Despite the unfavorable weather conditions, the scoring was low yesterday, the lowest scores of the torunament being turned in. Maxwell plays Crookston this morning in the semi-finals, in the upper half of the bracket, while Rose clashes with Wells in the lower bracket. Both should furnish the gallery with some fine golf.

The contestants were deserted as far as galleries were concerned as the spectators preferred to remain behind at the club house, and await the returns thehe at the close of the match. Some of the players quit play in the afternoon rather than brave the heat again in a second round, and they defaulted their matches.

MACFARLANE IS OPEN CHAMPION

Beats Bobby Jones by Stroke in Title Play-off.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 6.—Followers of golf today slowly were recovering from the shock occasioned by Willie McFarlane's victory over Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, 72 to 73, in the second play off for the national open title yesterday on the Worcester Country club course. An obscure figure four days ago, the public found it difficult to credit MacFarlane's sudden rise to eminence but was quick to grant that his play was richly deserving of the honors that are now his.

Even less creditble was the information, made known today, that MacFarlane had played only thirteen rounds of Golf since last October, previous to taking part in the championship. The Tuckahoe, N. Y., pro's competitive record is meagre, the three previous open tournaments passing into the records without an entry from the new champion. He never before has won an important title.

The consensus was both Jones and MacFarlane played great golf in the play-off; that, in fact, the new champion did not outplay Bobby. He merely beat him because the Atlanta youth happened to lose the last hole of the day, a fatal mistake. Both had 75's for their first eighteen holes.

St. Paul Boxer Pays Penalty of Age, Combined With Heat; Victor Gives Superb Exhibition of Hitting.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Gene Tunney entered upon the realm last night where the knuckle is king as Tom Gibbons left by the rear entrance for all the world like a male Cinderella who had overstayed the time limit and suddenly found that his skill had sprunk a leak in the seat of its trousers. It was like the exit on one of those pay-as-you-leave trolley cars.

Tom Gibbons paid the penalty of age and the heat by taking a right full on the jaw and suffering the ignominy of a knockout, the first and probably the last of his career, after one minute and 23 seconds of the twelfth round. He was simply too weary to get his hands up to stop the punch or move his chin out of its path, and this same weariness merely permitted him to get to his feet at the count of 10 instead of nine, as he intended.

This was the end of Tom Gibbons of last night, not the Gibbons who stepped 15 rounds with Dempsey at Shelby. His age made him more susceptible than the youthful Tunney to one of the hottest nights New York has known. His vitality was gone; so was his punch and the speed that had been the admiration of all who genuflect before the throne and acknowledge the knuckle as king. The Gibbons who had his head stabbed off by straight lefts and his torso outraged by body punches for nearly 12 rounds was just a pale innuendo of the man of other and better days.

Neither did Tunney at all resemble the innocuous citizen who used to maul around with Harry Greb and kindred specimens. He was a hundred percent a better man than the writer even thought he could be—a beautiful boxer, a hitter whose punches traveled less than eight inches and seldom missed, and a fighter whose mind held one thought and one only, to win as quickly as possible.

Gibbons did a deal of smiling at one time and another and indicated his willingness to shake hands when he thought Tunney hit him low once or twice. Tunney would have none of it. He glared at his man with the eye of a fanatic and fairly ran amuck when Gibbons hit him on the jaw twice near the end of the eighth round. The writer was unable to concede Gibbons even one of the 11 and one-third rounds fought.

Tunney's new attitude was strikingly emphasized when the end came. It came suddenly and a wild animal about to score a kill could have looked no more bloodthirsty than did this studious young man of the usually calm and courteous manner. Without the slightest warning, he had Gibbons on the floor with a left and right to the jaw. Tom never had been there before and although not badly hurt, his unfamiliarity with the posture caused him to delay arising until the count of seven. It was his legs that were gone, not his head.

Tunney charged from his corner with his eyes aglare and before Gibbons could protect himself, hooked a left to the jaw and crossed with a right. Slowly, painfully, Gibbons sat down. He rolled over and clutched the ropes. Then the writer saw his eyes. They were glazed, almost sightless.

"Get up, Tom," was shouted at him by Eddie Kane at the count of eight. And Tom did—too late.

Bricelin's Crew Gets to Sharp for Five Runs in Fifth.

Scoring five runs in the fifth frame and breaking a four inning deadlock, Barney Bricelin's Newell Laughlins defeated the Babcock & Wilcox nine, 9 to 3, last evening.

Sharp pitched great ball for the Oaklanders until the fifth, his speed turning back his opponents easily. Sharp was derricked at this point, giving way to Howell, who, in turn, was replaced by McGeehan.

Riser pitched for Laughlin and was effective in all but the fifth when three runs were made off him.

Reese led in the slugging for the day with a perfect mark, having a single, double and triple in three times up. Every Laughlin player hit safely except Riser.

A. Merris, the star young pitcher of Laughlin, East End, last year, played second base for B. & W. and missed but one of nine chances. Kinney, the old Hall China shortstop, also played and lost but one of seven chances.

Tagging The Bases

The Athletics continued to breeze along in first place by defeating Detroit, 8 to 6. The other American league teams perspired against each other for pursuit positions in the race.

Washington kept within looking distance of the leaders by beating Chicago, 5 to 3. The Senators won in the lucky seventh, scoring four runs against Cvengros.

There were two overtime games in the National league. Luque of Cincinnati outpitching Benton of Boston, 1 to 0, in a ten-inning duel. Clarence Mitchell, Philly pitcher, won his own game against Pittsburgh in the eleventh with a single. Score 6 to 5.
